Dear Ms. Tremaine:

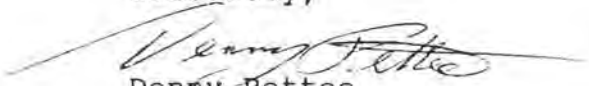

Tom and I have spent the last 1½ years doing our own investigation that we feel we uncovered some possible new leads that might be helpful in solving the kidnapping cases of Wetterling, Gosch, and Martin cases.

Enclosed is some information that might be helpfull and certainly worth checking into.

Last summer and fall of 1996, this list was given to the BCA, and Tom Fitzgerald and I supplied various law inforcement agencies in Minnesota and Iowa with other information, but appears no one followed up completely and no one has ever gotten back to us, as they said they would keep us informed or updated.

I have another name of piece of information I am waiting for someone to get back to me with. When I get that info, I will contact you.

Sincerely,

Denny Pettee

SYNOPSIS OF THE ANTHONY MARTINEZ ABDUCTION / HOMICIDE

On 4/4/97 Anthony Martinez, 10 yrs, was playing in a large back yard area with his brother and 3 other friends. A white male adult walked up to a chain link fence across the back yard. He was standing in an alley that runs behind the residences. The man asked the children to help him find his "lost cat." A 9 yr old female became frightened of the man and grabbed her 6 yr old brother and went into their residence. The three remaining boys (Anthony, his 6 yr old brother and 8 yr old friend) didn't leave. The man then offered them $1 each if they'd help him. The boys decided to help and entered into the alley with the man.

They searched for a short time in the alley way and then told the man they couldn't find his cat. They walked up to the man to get their money. The man pulled out a knife and grabbed the 6 yr old boy. This boy broke away from the man and ran. Anthony was still standing near the man and the suspect then grabbed Anthony and placed a knife to his head. He picked Anthony up and carried him to his waiting car. He placed him into the back seat of the car, closed the door and then got into the driver's seat. He left the alley way and headed to IS 10 which was approximately 1 1/2 miles away. Anthony's body was found 15 days later in a canyon in the Indio Hills area.

The two children that had talked to the suspect described him as a white male adult, 25-35 years, light colored hair and mustache, thin build, wearing a black plain base ball cap, red and black plaid colored shirt and blue jeans. The vehicle is described as a white, 4 door sedan, "very scrounge" looking with scratches down the sides, either no hub caps or black wheels, box style car, older model like mid to late 80's with possibly two tone interior. The victim was trying to open the back doors but could not do so. It is believed the suspect has disabled the rear door handles.

It is believed that the suspect is familiar with the Beaumont and Indio hills area. The alley where Anthony was abducted is very narrow and not well traveled. The suspect is believed to have been stalking the area for at least two hours prior to the abduction. He was seen talking to a 3 yr old child two hours prior to Anthony's abduction. It is believed the suspect may also be familiar with the Indio Hills area and specifically BerdoCanyon as this is where Anthony's body was found.

The abduction occurred just before 5:00 P.M. during daylight hours. The suspect was not concerned that four other children saw his face just before the abduction. The suspect had very blue eyes according to the witnesses. He did not speak with an accent.

ANTHONY MARTINEZ TASK FORCE207 / 187 PC SUSPECT

Suspect kidnaped Anthony Michael Martinez, a 10 year old child, in the city of Beaumont on 4/4/97. Anthony was found dead 15 days later in Indio Hills. When the suspect abducted Anthony, he had a light brown mustache. It is possible he has shaved the mustache off. These two composites show the suspect with the mustache and without the mustache.

A vehicle resembling the above cars was used in the abduction and murder of Anthony M. Martinez on April 4, 1997. Witnesses describe the vehicle as a white, 4 door sedan, mid-size, with two red pin stripes running down both sides of the car near the door handles. The vehicle is believed to be a late 80's model and has a square body. The plate is in line with the rear tail lights and is recessed in the trunk lid. The rear bumper is the same color as the car. The vehicle was missing all four hub caps at the time of the abduction. The rear tail lights are rectangular in shape and appear to extend around the side of the car. A possible witness thinks the plate license has the number "2" and possibly the letters "ESL" or "LSE" on the plate.

PRISON INFORMATION PROGRAM

FINDING MISSING CHILDREN

By
Allen D. Hanson

Locating missing children with information from inside America's Prison System is an idea whose time has come.

There is a wealth of illicit information inside of the nation's 1300 big prisons. Although convicts are locked up inside the prison walls, they know a great deal about what is happening on the outside. While police search relentlessly for clues and leads on tough cases like missing children or violent serial offenders, the very information they seek may be locked up inside one of America's big prisons. Why haven't we been able to tap this rich crime information source? The answer is complexed and illusive, but it all comes down to basic understanding of inmate life and culture. Convicts simply do not trust the police or the prosecutors. Current laws in many states make it technically illegal for anyone, (especially inmates with a criminal record) to have knowledge of certain types of serious crime information without reporting it. The possession of crime information, like child abuse or wrongful death is a crime in itself in many states, and convicted felons know this only too well. This is one of the pressures that face any convict that is locked up. If they are prosecuted for withholding certain information, they can't defend themselves. They already have a previous conviction that will almost certainly guarantee additional prison time. It won't do them any good to testify in a trial because no one will believe them, so they hole up and simply don't talk or tell what they know.

The culture of prison life inside the wall is hard to explain unless you have actually been there yourself. It is an existence where time literally stands still and everyone is alone unto himself in a close population of hundreds. Inmates soon learn that no one needs them and no one cares. Convicts share with each other of necessity to survive. They change talk groups, change moods, change cell mates and change prisons often. Inmates with a long sentence go thru periods of depression and exuberance all within the walls of their prison environment. They share information with each other, discuss rumors and speculate on events of the past and present. They know the crime news and the investigations of their era. They understand the criminal mind and what senario might be involved. Someone inside the prison knows almost everyone outside the wall in the underworld. The telephone and the visiting room lets them keep up on events outside the wall and their contacts inside the prison can often elaborate on these events. Inmates inside the cell hall are very knowledgeable about people involved in criminal events, but they can't talk about it to the authorities.

I cannot say enough about the prison pipeline and the convict culture in the socially restricted world of incarceration. Unless you have experienced it, (talked the talk and walked the walk), you tend to overlook the unusual way the prison society shares information. Close quarters and permanent residency for more than one million prisoners make the exchange of information a regular routine among cell-mates and their friends. Regular changes of cell halls and occasional changes in prisons tends to spread the inmate talk thru out the dark prison world they occupy. There is a vast store house of criminal knowledge within the prison fostered by the special culture of prison life.

Prisons are well known as crime schools. During the short time the author was in Minnesota State Prison in 1978-79, (9 months), he learned all kinds of ways to committ illegal acts. He learned how to steal and resell diamonds. He learned how to "peel" a safe; how to open late model cars; how to run an illegal wrecker service; how to get forged documents and many other ways to commit crimes, such as bogus check cashing or buying an unregistered gun or ordering a contract killing. I was amazed at what money would buy, both inside and outside the prison wall. I also gained knowledge of crimes that had been committed and crimes that were being contemplated. A huge theft was planned in my presence inside the prison and conducted a few weeks after I left the institution. I knew exactly who did it as I read about it in the daily paper in the summer of 1979. I discussed it privately with a friend of mine - a retired city judge. He quietly advised me not to say anything. He knew my knowledge of the event alone was illegal. The judge figured they would soon be caught anyway without my help and that is exactly what happened. Convicts in any big U.S. Prison have in depth knowledge of many illegal events, (both inside and outside the prison), and authorities simply cannot get the information because the inmates can't admit they know.

GETTING THE DETAILS

Prison inmates cannot respond to Missing Children Posters. First of all, they will not see the advertisements inside the prison walls and second, they don't trust the authorities and they will not talk to them about what they know. Money rewards are virtually useless to most people that are locked up. Another method must be found to get the vital information that grieving parents of Missing Children deserve.

The Prison Information Program, (PIP) will develop a valuable information source about Missing Children and violent serial offenders. It can help locate corpse and confirm parents worst fears - the death of a loved one. It can provide leads on major crimes that would never be available otherwise. It can find Missing Children alive and well years after they disappear. It can track down adults who have disappeared for various reasons, both legal and illegal. Much of that information is available inside America's big prisons today, if the authorities only knew how to get it.

Inmates go thru moods along with ups and downs in a long prison stay. They often reach plateaus where they change goals and attitudes. This is how the justice system works - at some point they are going to reverse course and change for good and for real. At this point they may be more than willing to share deep dark secrets with a trusted interviewer. The police, the FBI and prison officials will never be liked or trusted by a convict, but when he is ready, he may share with a truly trusted interviewer. Whatever the circumstances, the information he had before he entered the prison system may well be minor in comparison to what he has learned since he was incarcerated. We need that information, not necessarily on burglary or car theft or other petty felony, as much as about missing children, and other major criminal events. The police and the authorities can't get these details. The PIP Program can:

THE NECESSARY ELEMENTS OF PIP

There are three things that are absolutely required to make the Prison Information Program (PIP), work. First: The inmate must have complete immunity from prosecution for the knowledge he or she possesses and the information shared with the Interviewer. The inmate cannot be prosecuted for any part of the legitimate new information he furnishes. Second: The inmate must be interviewed by a completely trusted and totally independent third party. The police or prison officials simply cannot do it because there is no trust and there will be no transfer of vital information. Third: There must be a bonifide reward that doesn't jeopardise public safety. Since these inmates are already in prison, a small reasonable reduction in sentence would provide an adequate incentive, altho in certain cases a limited money reward for the inmates family or the victim would be suitable if it will truly motivate the person with the information to share it with the Interviewer. A small reduction of a long sentence (just a few month's) would motivate a sincere inmate. These three things: Immunity, trusted confidentiality and a reward are absolutely necessary to break loose the badly needed information. It will probably require State Legislative action to see that the immunity, the reward and the inmates privacy are legally delivered. The inmate must have confidence in the program or he or she will not share the critical information. We must be willing to reward information that does not always result in prosecution, such as finding a Missing Person, (dead or alive), even if we can't learn all the circumstances of the abduction or disappearance.

QUALITY OF INFORMATION

Will the information secured be accurate or will the convict play mind games with authorities? This is a good question. Every missing child or criminal case has certain special private detail not available to anyone except an insider. Both police and convicts with real knowledge of the event share this data. If the inmate does not have this information on at least some of the minute details, his version of the events will be suspect. If the convict reads the story in the newspaper and he cannot fill in the critical details with the Interviewer, the convict will lack credibility. The next time he goes to be interviewed again, (under the PIP program), his information will be doubted.

Police normally investigate hundreds of leads on any major case and much of the information obtained under the PIP Program will be dead end, but this is normal for any major investigation. As an Ex-convict, I would predict that any state that can grant immunity and offer a reward thru a trusted third party will get some major breaks in big important cases, particularly those concerning Missing Persons. There is tremendous untapped knowledge of crime and criminal activities inside the prison wall.

The Prison Informational Program, (PIP), is for convicted convicts alone or those on parole after prison. Before the inmate is convicted and sent to prison he must either be quiet or deal with the prosecutor if he wants to share information. He can ask for immunity or make a deal with the prosecutor for a lighter sentence in a plea bargain that goes on during the trial and pre-trial maneuvering. The PIP Program is for convicted felons incarcerated or on prison exit parole that have knowledge and want to share it under immunity for a reasonable reward, a promise of a modestly reduced prison sentence.

Prison inmates are not all bad. They have made one or more major mistakes that the Court can't overlook and they are probably chemically dependent, (or they were when they were caught), but they share many of the same social values that average law abiding Americans do. They dislike child sex-offenders intensely. They call them "Baby-Rapers". inside the prison. They can't tolerate anyone who would have sex with a minor. Most inmates detest harming children. They would go a long way to help find a Missing Child or punish someone who would hurt a young child. This is why the PIP Program will work well with Missing Children, but the laws of most States will not allow them to talk and they will not talk to the police who they simply do not trust.

The police check thousands of leads trying to find Missing Children. They will check hundreds more from inside the prison, but these new leads may be the answer to many of America's toughest cases of Missing Persons.

LEGISLATIVE ACTION

Legislative action may be necessary for authority to grant immunity and some reasonable reward to inmates. The appointment of a trusted group of Interviewers is also important. No dangerous inmate should ever be released under the PIP Reward program, but some compensation must be authorized and a real follow thru actually completed to build trust with the prison population. The Interviewer could well be a member of an established and recognized service organization such as the Red Cross or the the Catholic Priesthood if they want to become involved. They will need special orientation and some training. This should include briefing by selected Ex-convicts who have lived the life inside the prison wall. They know the prison culture and understand the prison grapevine. They also know how the convict thinks because they have been there. A small budget or grant may be necessary for training and expenses, but the individual who will be selected for the PIP Program as a third party Interviewers are probably going to be dedicated men and women who are interested in the results of the program rather than personal reward. It is important that some of the Interviewers speak fluent Spanish.

Hanson/9

There is a vast storehouse of know how and illicit knowledge within the walls of America's big prison. Some of that information will solve hideous crimes outstanding today. We need to put our prejudices against inmates behind us and work with them to share the deep secrets locked inside of America's Prison System to solve major crimes and mysteries that plaque our society today.

ALLEN D. HANSON

Editors Note: Allen D. Hanson is a well published author on Prison Subjects. In 1978 He served a nine month sentence in Minnesota State Prison - MCF Stillwater, for a white collar crime. He has written many articles about prisoners, ex-offenders and prison life as well as other social problems. His 48 page book "I Was In Prison - Personal witnessing in Jails and Prisons", was published by the Board of Evangelism of the three million member - Lutheran Church- Missouri Synod, as a national guide for volunteers and Pastors going into jails and prisons. The author, Allen D. Hanson, has visited more than fifty of America's big prisons talking to inmates and staff alike. He writes from personal experience on prison subjects.

Editors Note: In 1984, Allen D. Hanson wrote an article that was published in "Stocks and Commodities" Magazine outlining Floor Broker theft in the nations major exchanges in Commodity Trading. As a result of the article he was interviewed by the FBI, and eventually a sting operation was set up at the Chicago Board of Trade where several members were ultimately arrested and prosecuted for illegal trading activity. Al Hanson writes on the cutting edge of society for readers everywhere about Prisons and Prison life and other social problems.

The Wetterlings

St. Joseph, Mo.

Hi,

I have traveled since 1988 in my pick-up truck, van, trailer + motor homes.

The most interesting development, in the Mo., N.J., Florida, San Diego Gay Communities has been televised regarding the murder in Florida. Simon V. in an area of Miami as in San Diego - a gated, private mansion or hotel. This would be similar to N.J. properties or a farm in Mo.

What interests me, the communities have had kidnappings or murders of children. I can think of a boy in Imperial, a nice country-ish, near the beach area, who was murdered either by a man hiding in the empty lot - maybe a drug problem or a wanted criminal or illegal alien? But, the boy was murdered a few years ago.

In San Diego last summer, I read a newspaper article of a disappearance of a family man, highly intelligent & on his way to dinner to meet his wife - he never showed up for dinner and that was at least two years ago. Then, this last week, I saw on TV, Channel 20, a woman who's husband drove a nice Eddie Bauer (Classy) from L.A. to Arizona to Marsha Mason's to discuss business, he never made it home - he was shown on TV - with a beard & a beauty mark on his left cheek.

Do you know how many missing persons have a beauty mark on their left cheek?

I think this is a kidnapping from the Gay Underground because no vehicles have been found (did they really look for the vehicles?)

Do the famous men with beauty marks know they are attracted by kidnapers who could find boys or men with a beauty mark? Is it a particular thing like a fetish of a very rich & well connected Gay group?

Please let me know if you know of any other kidnapped people. I haven't heard of any from Massachusetts, but that doesn't mean there aren't any. Do the Gay Communities of Massachusetts and Georgia have a more open, easy going, less aggressive behavior?

I think the average people aren't kidnapers - the rich & famous could afford the large, gated mansions with planes, boats and criminals & lawyers to work for them - lawyers, my word money in many cases & criminals know they can get away with crime? I give up - where are the criminals in high places? Every town & city I've been, has a way of taking your fresh air & turning the air into poison vapors to take your strength away in hotels, vehicles or outdoor fires at camp.

If I could be abused by family & strangers, so could anyone. It seems law enforcement is much like kidnappers. Once someone sets up to stalk you, they can get you alone or in a crowd & just abuse you, laugh in your face & have the town, police, other conspirators & drugs or chemicals overtake your strength mentally & physically. Just like the TV show Mission Impossible used to show abductions, drugs, surgery, etc. Well, I know being on your own doesn't give you anyone but yourself to correct your situation - I only hope life isn't this revolting for any one else. The quality of life is missing & money isn't the answer - people cannot be trusted - They smile at you & stab you in the back. Everyone takes acting in school to teach them to lie & cheat and entrap you with false friendship!

Wierd, isn't it! I feel they are sick and inhuman, self centered & egotistical. Two faced, cantankerous buffoons.

Love,

Somebody maybe just found out something and is afraid to talk to you unless she knows more. How tall is the kidnapper? If kidnapper thought Jacobs parents were talking to people to make them lose faith in his church, which church? Was another boy picked up but not kidnapped, same day, almost the same time and place, to go work? What all was the work? How was the work arranged ahead of time? I dont know if this is for real or not. If she sees answers on the dear abby page of the sunday mpls paper soon, she might talk to you. If nothing shows up in a couple months, I won't push it.

Part I

During the time the Divine Comedy was written, Christianity was spreading throughout Europe. At this time people were converting to No Christianity from Paganism. These were very oppressed times; one was either very rich or very poor. The Catholic church was going through corrupt years and many changes were being made. Dante wrote what was first called "The Comedy" trilogy as a parody to the people in power. The Inferno is theological as well as mythological. This gives one a taste of how times were during the Medieval times and how the changes later such as the Reformation came to be.

Dante wrote using numerical symbolism. He paralleled his Trilogy to the Trinity, and used other in depth ways of counting to come up with the perfect mathematical guide through hell. Numbers were very important to people of the Medieval times.

Because of the immediate fame of the text, we can say that people 15 really were questioning there faith, as well as themselves and the people in power. Not to mention there own morals.

This text has expanded my own view of the Medieval mind and times by showing me how Christianity in its early stages was viewed; how Dante and the readers interpret what a "bad" person is, and all the things I have already mentioned. Times were hard during the Medieval age and people not only wanted something to warn them and remind them but also something they could easily relate to.

Part II

Yes I believe The Inferno is a classic; all of the morals are understood, and one can learn from what happens to those lacking in certain morals. Dante puts the edge on morals. So the first reason why this is a classic is because it teaches. Philosophically one can learn from these accounts.

The second reason I consider this a classic is because it comes as a warning. The example I am thinking of has to do with my paper on lady fortune. Dante writes: "As dolphins flip and begin to flip there arched backs from the sea, warning the sailors to fall to and begin to secure ship-" (191). As fate was warning the people on the ship, Dante warns us as well of the perils of hell.

26 The third reason The Inferno is considered a classic is because it is religiously enlightening. Nobody really wants to picture or go beyond what hell is but Dante safely guides us through so that we may see what the consequences of some of our actions may lead us to.

These three things, teaching, warning, and religiously enlightening are all things that cannot be held to just one certain time period, therefore, The Inferno is a classic.

Part III

- 2.) Yes, by these collections I would say she was a feminist but I would add that she has a soft voice. These poems, all of them, are written by a person, Christine de Pizan. She wrote about her husband, not about the equality of women. The fact that she even wrote during these times makes her a feminist of her times. She should be recognized as that. It was a small start for her but I have to wonder how much she kept her writing secret, or if they were hidden away by some man. The latter is probably true.

These poems, Seulete sui et seulete vueil estre: Cent Balades and others like Que ferons nous de ce mary jaloux?: Cent Balades, are proof to the dominating male society that women have feeling, intelligence and abilities. I am sure even for a woman such as 15 Christine it was hard to escape the mind set. She did though in her soft voice, yet how else could she back then?

- 3.) Margery Kemp, I believe was faithful and true about her mysticism. She accepted her visions and ^{not quite} joined the anchorites not so that she could have power, but because that is what she felt like God wanted 12 her to do. It sounds as if she was just following God's word trying to lead the "perfect" life according to ^{what} how she felt was within her abilities.

Julian of Norwich on the other hand, always wanted a place in the church and society. She wanted to be a part of the hierarchies and prayed to fall ill with a fever. She was more self-induced, where as Margery felt the world along with her visions.

Does he act humble before angels

Dear Friends of Jacob (Jake's Loons)

6/29/90

Sorry that it has been so long since my last correspondence. By the way, how did you like my FAX message. I thought it would be a cool thing to do for once -- until I realized how expensive it is to send pages through a fax system. I was going to send you all another one on Tuesday -- right before I left for camp -- but I missed the opportunity. I'm soooo mad, but, anyway, a 25¢ letter for 4 sheets of paper in one envelop (if I can write that much) is much less expensive than a 2.00/page charge + phone charge for each sheet sent in the FAX way.

As you can see, I had some fun on my computer before I left. I created this letterhead on PRINTSHOP. I think it's pretty "AWESOME" -- what about you? The "Awesome" is for Keith's sake since he always gets a kick out of that expression. I had sooo much to do in the hot week I was home. I went through my closet -- got rid of most of my 6th - 8th, & Highschool papers that I had saved. Holy SMOKE!! -- or do you say something different in Minnesota? But anyway, it took me all week to sort out my stuff, & I took lots of stuff to camp with me -- including Flyers & Ribbons. I have done some small nailing on my own & should be getting some response soon. I still have to do a mailing to the former counselors of this camp since '88 Summer. I have things folded and stuffed but I need to seal & put stamps on yet. I'll get this done tonight & send all 150 of them out tomorrow. Things have been so crazy since I got to Camp. I excited and looking forward to it, but I still always get goose-bumps because I'm nervous about what to expect in the next eight weeks. This year is quite different than the past 2 seasons. Many administrative change have ~~taken~~ take place. Also, this year I am living with the youngest boys "6-10yr" instead of 9-11 yr old (Juniors). It's called the Pioneer section. I think it will be neat! It's kind of difficult, though, because I worked in Juniors the last 2 summers & I got comfortable there. But the change will be good for me and I'm excited. I still work in Performing Arts Activity area, though, & my supervisor is the same from last year. His name is "Chuckles", or Greg. He's kind of Looney, but he's not from Minnesota -- only Michigan, but close enough!!

We have more new staff than returning ones, we also have many International staff including some from Russia, Germany, & such. We always have a good number from England as well.

I miss you all & I miss St. Joe, too. You'll always be in my heart & mind, so I'll be o.k. I will be thinking about you alot this summer - Keeping in touch, too.

By the way. the materials I took with me for our records are:

- 28 Truck Posters (2 are on my Car!)
- 1000 New Flyers
- 1000 Old Thin Composite & 750 Thick composite

200 Jacob's Hope Ribbons

100 Plain Ribbons

500 envelopes (1 box) with Jacob's Hope ribbon stamped on it. plenty of a new outlook on life in the midwest!!

I'm doing what I can out here but I still wish I could be there with you.

Tonight was the Staff Talent show. A wonderful thing happened! I performed my Sign Language translation: JACOB'S HOPE & what a response. Everyone said that it was touching & wanted to know more about it. Campers haven't arrived yet, but some of the nurses have children & they are here now. One of the nurse's boys, a 12y old named Miko, came up to me, said "Don't worry, we'll find Jake," and gave me a great big warm hug!! I'm glad it went over well -- I was sooooo nervous my legs were shaking!! The rest of the talent show was pretty awesome as well. We have quite a talented bunch this summer.

Well, I better send this letter out before it never makes it to the mailbox!!

Oh, yea, one more thing. I enjoyed my stay at home - as short as it was. My brother, my cousins, & some of my friends & I went out a few nights for fun. It's been a long time since I've been able to spend time with these people. I even went out for dinner with a co-worker. She & I have been saying for the last 4 years or so that we just have to go out for a meal away from work for once. We finally did. She & I went out to a nice local family Italian Restaurant for dinner. It was a nice night out. Because of both of our busy schedules we won't see each other until Christmastime.

We & I worked at Ledley Food Service, Co. (Catering) together for 5 or so years & all throughout high school we were always there after school & weekends. Now, because of College (& Camp), it's difficult to have the opportunity to work together. It's funny how the friends you have sometimes drift because of busy lives.

Anyway, Life's interesting here at Camp. Campers will arrive this Sunday & the Fun Begins. Tomorrow, the counselors go out to pizza all together for one Last Fling before CAMPER HELL DAY! (annual "hi")

Say hi to everyone for me. Tell them I love them & miss them much. Take care and I will write again soon to let you know how HAPPY the Campers are 😊.

All the World Around 'Only hope and love spoken here'

By Stuart Goldschen

White and black, red and tan; old and young, woman and man. Big and small, weak and strong; Christian and Jew, Smith and Wong.

There's hope still in every heart, for missing children far apart.

Brian Morrissey and Keith Schulte, for example, are sure that Jacob Wetterling is alive and well, and they're working hard to bring him home. Both carry Jacob's Hope in their hearts as they volunteer their hands at the Friends of Jacob office in St. Joseph.

Morrissey is a 20-year-old college student from Brewster, N.Y., and Schulte is a 57-year-old retired Procter and Gamble salesman from St. Cloud. They work together with some 30 other volunteers in what Schulte called an "absolutely positive atmosphere of hope and love."

I rode by car with both men recently to the state capitol building in St. Paul for a "Walk of Hope" gathering for Jacob and other missing children in recognition of National Missing Children's Day on May 25.

A generation apart and separated by eastern and midwestern cultural habits, the men have an overriding goal in common as they stamp envelopes, stuff and mail flyers and answer telephones at the Jacob office.

Morrissey came here initially for a week in March during spring break at the University of Richmond in Richmond, Va.,

where he is a junior majoring in sociology and early childhood education. He returned after the school year on May 6 and plans to stay until June 16.

Schulte, a friend of the Wetterling family, retired early from his work just two days before Jacob was abducted on Oct. 22. "All at once," he said, "it just opened up and I thought I could spend some time helping in whatever way I could."

Morrissey said he first heard of Jacob's case when he returned to school from Christmas vacation and saw something about it on television.

"The whole thing—a boy walking with his friend and his brother and abducted at gunpoint," he said. "I thought that was kind of weird—and very sad."

"I work with kids at a camp, and I'm going to be a teacher. It just kind of hit me. I didn't like it."

Morrissey said he was also impressed by the reaction of the people in St. Joseph and surrounding communities to Jacob's disappearance. "What the communities have done has been widely publicized," he said, "and the love of the people caught my eye."

Richmond resorts mobilize for Jacob

by Stuart Goldschen

Jeanette Graham describes her Island View summer resort in Richmond, Minn., as a family vacation spot—the kind of place Jacob Wetterling and his family would visit.

Graham also has her own children, nephews and nieces, and she said, "I really feel for them."

That's why Jacob has become a part of her life, just as he has for many other Minnesotans and supporters all the world around.

Graham joined the army of people mobilizing for Jacob's return recently by distributing information on Jacob's case to neighboring resorts and the thousands of vacationers who visit the area from all over the country.

She said she has given 500 flyers and 400 Jacob's Hope ribbons to five other Richmond resorts for distribution to vacationing clients. Three of the resorts have followed her lead in planting ribbon-filled Jacob's Hope trees.

In February Graham mailed Jacob flyers with resort reservation forms to 250 persons throughout the country.

"We've had a really good response," Graham said. "People who received those are coming here now and telling us where they have put the flyers in their towns. Others who come in ask about the tree and the posters in our store."

She said hundreds of people from all over the country—and some foreigners—vacation at Island View, and that most resorts in the area are "booked solid year to year."

"We have a way to get to the public, and if we can help at all we'll do anything we can," Graham said. "We're just hoping somebody from some area will say, 'I've seen him.'"

Graham stressed the importance of continued hope and the need to keep working for Jacob's return for as long as it takes.

"As long as Jacob's not here you've got to keep it going, you can't just quit," she said. "Even if it's years later I think you keep that going. We will."

St. Joseph Women of Today attend convention

The Minnesota Women of Today recently held their annual convention in Bemidji, Minn. St. Joseph representatives included resident Ruth Eickhoff, Ione either, Judy Meyer, Susy Redg, Rosie Lommel and Becky Thomas.

The St. Joseph Women of Today was recognized as Number 1 in the State Success. Lither received a presidential pin for 75 percent retention of membership.

Outstanding district program managers were Meyer in personal enrichment, Carol Anderson in governmental affairs and Crystal Roth in chaplain/family involvement. The Aid to Retarded Valentin's Dance Single Project Entry took first place.

During an evening banquet, year-end awards were presented. St. Joseph Women of Today were recognized in the following areas: St. Joseph was ranked Number 17 in the State Success for the year end (out of 153 chapters in Minnesota) and Becky Thomas received a gold key for her outstanding achievements as District 15 district director.

The Women of Today is a community service/leadership training organization which offers leadership and personal development skills to all members. The St. Joseph Women of Today meet the second Monday of each month. For information, phone Judy at 363-4490 or Becky at 363-8726.

Volunteers

"I lived in Brewster, N.Y., and I didn't even hear about kids abducted in New York City," he said. "If there has been a kid abducted in my county or surrounding counties in the past 13-14 years I haven't heard about it. And I'm sure something like that has happened."

Morrissey said he loves St. Joseph and the dedication of its residents. He will leave soon only because he has a contract for a summer counseling position at a YMCA camp in Lakeville, Conn.

"When I came out here in March people offered me a place to stay and helped me when I had car trouble," he said. "It's a nice small town. I really like it."

Morrissey said people in his hometown would not be as receptive to a stranger and would not have reacted so strongly to the disappearance of a child.

"In my town no one could care less," he said. "I'd give it a week if something like this happened."

Morrissey said he told classmates in Richmond who questioned his intense interest in a boy so far away that all children are important.

"I don't think it's important whose kid it is or where the kid was abducted," he said. "We all have to work together as a community. You can't just worry about the local area."

Indeed, Morrissey drove alone 1,400 miles nonstop to act on his feelings and be here. He works full time in the Jacob office and attends vigils, prayer services and public gatherings on behalf of Jacob and all missing children.

He said he will miss St. Joseph when he leaves and will feel bad that he is no longer aware of the daily events in the search for Jacob. St. Joseph will surely miss him.

Schulte assured Morrissey that the work at the office will continue and that no one will give up hope.

"The atmosphere at that office is one of being absolutely positive," Schulte said. "Should anyone want to know how they can feel better, just come to the Jacob Wetterling office and be a part of the work there." He said the sign on the office door, "Only hope and love spoken here," is "exactly what goes on."

"It's a wonderful place to be, and I'm fortunate to be here," he added. "But my feeling is that every other person who knows anything about it has as much concern and as much desire to help. It's a situation that belongs to everyone."

Schulte, who knows Jacob as a "nice, clean kid," said he doesn't know if there are any answers to Jacob's disappearance. But he does know that there's enough hope around to keep up the effort to find some.

"It's wrong to quit," he said. "And it's right to keep trying."

That we know, too. Thanks to all the Brian Morrisseys and Keith Schultes all the world around.

Dear Mrs. Wetterling:

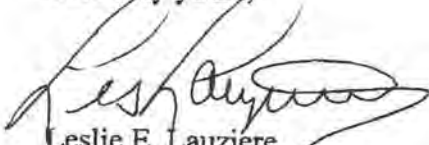

As I mentioned to you at the Symposium on Child Sexual Abuse in Huntsville, Alabama, in March, I was responsible for the investigation and arrest of Brian Morrissey. As you know, Morrissey had volunteered with your foundation. Incident to the search of Morrissey's residence, a large number of flyers, articles and letters pertaining to Jacob's abduction were recovered.

I have enclosed copies of the press information regarding that case. Brian Morrissey has pleaded guilty in Federal court in Richmond and will be sentenced some time in the future. Prosecutors in Ohio have advised me that they will seek to have Morrissey returned to Ohio to face state sexual assault charges.

Thank you for sharing your comments with us at the Symposium. If I can be of any assistance, please feel free to call me.

My prayers are with you and your family and for the safe return of Jacob.

Sincerely yours,

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE
December 2, 1997

PRESS RELEASE

Helen F. Fahey, United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Virginia, Janice Somerset, Acting Inspector in Charge of the U.S. Postal Inspection Service, and Colonel Carl Baker, Chief of Police, Chesterfield County Police announced the guilty plea of BRIAN EDWARD MORRISSEY in a child pornography case. MORRISSEY, age 27, a former teacher with Chesterfield County, pleaded guilty to one count in violation of Title 18, United States Code, Section 2252(a)(1), Transportation of Visual Depictions of Minors Engaged in Sexually Explicit Conduct.

U.S. District Judge Robert R. Merhige, Jr., set sentencing for February 17, 1998, and ordered that MORRISSEY remain in custody of the U.S. Marshal. Morrissey faces a term of imprisonment of up to 15 years and a fine of $250,000.00.

MORRISSEY was arrested on September 12, 1997, by Postal Inspectors on federal child pornography and sex abuse charges. The federal charges arose from a joint Postal Inspection Service and Chesterfield County, VA, police department investigation. Morrissey came to the attention of law enforcement in August 1997, when an automobile service technician discovered Polaroid photographs in MORRISSEY's automobile. The photographs depicted two young boys engaged in sexually explicit conduct.

Following his arrest, MORRISSEY was suspended from his position as a second grade teacher in Chesterfield County, Virginia.

December 2, 1997

In addition to the Polaroid photographs, MORRISSEY also possessed more than 25 images of child pornography he downloaded from the Internet onto a school computer loaned to him and five video cassette tapes containing child pornography from Germany.

The State of Ohio has lodged warrants against MORRISSEY charging him with sexual assault of the two boys depicted in the Polaroid photographs. It is anticipated that following sentencing in Federal court, MORRISSEY will be transported to Ashland, Ohio for the prosecution of the state charges.

Child pornography is a visual depiction of a person under age of 18 years engaged in sexually explicit conduct. The U.S. Postal Inspection Service has been the leading law enforcement agency in the battle to identify and prosecute child pornographers. While the U.S. Mail has long been the primary avenue for child pornographers, use of computer bulletin boards, the Internet and on-line systems has allowed the development of a worldwide network for the exchange of child pornography.

The case is being prosecuted by Special Assistant U.S. Attorney Sara E. Flannery of the U.S. Attorney's Office in Richmond.

Teacher's plea guilty to 1 count

He faced pornography-related charges involving 2 Ohio boys

BY TOM CAMPBELL
TIMES-DISPATCH STAFF WRITER

A Chesterfield County second-grade teacher pleaded guilty yesterday to one count of transporting child pornography rather than stand trial on several pornography-related charges against him in U.S. District Court.

Brian Edward Morrissey, 27, was accused of traveling to Ashland, Ohio, and making Polaroid photographs of two young boys engaged in sexual conduct. On Aug. 7, after he returned, a Chesterfield County mechanic working on Morrissey's car noticed 22 of the pictures in the car and notified police.

Morrissey faces up to 15 years in prison and a fine of up to $250,000. U.S. District Judge Robert R. Merhige Jr. scheduled sentencing for Feb. 17. He ordered Morrissey into federal custody pending sentencing.

Morrissey was originally charged by county police and freed on $5,000 bond. The state charges were replaced by a federal warrant Sept. 12. Morrissey was arrested by U.S. postal inspectors that day.

Officials in Ohio have issued state criminal warrants charging Morrissey with sexual assault of the two boys depicted in the photographs. Prosecution in Ashland is expected to follow Morrissey's sentencing here.

According to an affidavit filed in federal court, Morrissey admitted to authorities that he drove to Ashland around July 1. At a public swimming pool there, he approached the two boys, ages 9 and 12, and talked them into disrobing and letting him take photographs. According to the affidavit, Morrissey admitted he tried unsuccessfully to induce them to engage in sexual acts with him.

The federal charges arose through a joint investigation by Chesterfield police and U.S. postal inspectors.

Besides the one to which he pleaded guilty, Morrissey was charged with sexual abuse of a minor, receiving and possessing pictures of minors engaged in sexually explicit conduct, sexual exploitation of children and interstate travel to engage in a sexual act with a juvenile.

When authorities searched Morrissey's home, they found he possessed more than 25 images of child pornography he had downloaded from the Internet to a school-owned computer and five video cassette tapes containing child pornography from Germany.

After his arrest by county police in August, Morrissey was suspended without pay from his job as a teacher at Evergreen Elementary School pending the outcome of his case.

Special Assistant U.S. Attorney Sally Flannery is prosecuting the case.

Teacher faces federal charge in sex case

The Chesterfield County second-grade teacher who was charged by county police last month with possessing and reproducing child pornography now faces an Oct. 14 hearing on similar federal charges.

Brian Edward Morrissey, 27, was arrested Friday on a federal warrant by U.S. Postal Inspectors at his parents' home in Brewster, N.Y., according to the U.S. attorney's office in Richmond.

A federal magistrate judge in White Plains, N.Y., released Morrissey after he posted a $100,000 bond, but placed him under house arrest at the parents' residence. The judge also ordered Morrissey to have no contact with anyone under 18. Morrissey's Oct. 14 hearing will be held in U.S. District Court in New York.

When arrested, Morrissey was free on $5,000 bond and was due in Chesterfield General District Court on the county charges yesterday. The hearing was delayed until Nov. 6. After Morrissey's arrest by county police, he was to have been suspended from his teaching job without pay pending the outcome of the case.

The federal complaint charges Morrissey with inducing a minor to engage in sexually explicit conduct for child-pornography production; interstate travel to engage in a sex crime; possession of three or more child pornographic images; transporting child pornography via the Internet and the U.S. mails; and, crossing state lines to engage in sex with someone under 12.

According to an affidavit filed in federal court here, Morrissey admitted that around July 31 he drove his car from his home in Chesterfield County to Ashland, Ohio. At a swimming pool, he approached two boys, 9 and 12 years old, and talked them into disrobing and letting him take photographs with a Polaroid camera.

On Aug. 7, a Chesterfield mechanic working on Morrissey's car saw 22 Polaroid photos of the boys in the car and called police.

RE: Jacob Wetterling, Non-Family Abduction

Dear Sheriff Pierce:

In following up to the conversations you've had with some of us here at the Center, I wanted to confirm the role of a Project ALERT volunteer in the Wetterling case, provide some background on ALERT, and submit the ALERT authorization form for your approval.

The specific purpose of a Project ALERT member will be to follow-up on the telephone call originating from the New York Federal Express office to the Wetterling Foundation. He will meet with security officials for Federal Express to determine if interviews with the employees (present at the time of the call) are necessary. If so, the Project ALERT member will conduct the interviews and forward all information to you. Based on the results of this assignment, the Center will recommend whether or not there is anything further the ALERT member can do to assist in this investigation.

Project ALERT, "America's Law Enforcement Retiree Team" was formed to utilize the experience of retired law enforcement officers solely for the benefit of investigating agencies who request the service. The Center will provide ALERT assistance for a case only upon the written request from the investigating agency.

By providing a hands-on free resource to agencies struggling with cases of missing or exploited children, we hope that these cases be more quickly resolved. There is no cost to the user agency for this service, and only require that the agency provide the ALERT member(s) with a work area.

I will wait to receive the authorization form back from you. Once the form is received, I will contact the Project ALERT volunteer and send his bio to you for your information. Please contact me at 703-516-6151 or 800-843-5678 if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Tina Schwartz

America's Law Enforcement Retiree Team*

A volunteer program to benefit law enforcement agencies.

The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children (NCMEC) in cooperation with the Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention, announces the implementation of the Project ALERT Program. America's Law Enforcement Retiree Team was formed to utilize the expertise and experience of retired law enforcement officers for the benefit of law enforcement agencies needing assistance with missing or exploited child cases.

It is the goal of the program to provide case assistance and consultation to requesting agencies. In addition, ALERT volunteers may address missing and exploited children's issues at speaking engagements, contribute unique skills to an agency's resource pool and provide general administrative support to police agencies. ALERT volunteers are selected based on their status as retired officers, amount of recent and relative experience, current availability, and location of residence. Prior to certification, ALERT volunteers are required to complete a one week training course developed by the NCMEC.

Enclosed with this letter is a program description and other materials which explain more about the ALERT program and the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children. Please call ~~Ben Ermini~~, Director of Case Management, or ~~Deborah Brady~~, Project ALERT manager at 703-235-3900 if you need further information or would like to request Project ALERT volunteer assistance.

Project ALERT: AMERICA'S LAW ENFORCEMENT RETIREE TEAM

The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children (NCMEC), in partnership with America's leading law enforcement associations, has launched a national effort to utilize retired law enforcement professionals as volunteers in Project ALERT.

Law enforcement agencies across the country are handling enormous case loads with tighter budgets and fewer personnel resources. Project ALERT provides a hands-on free resource to agencies struggling with missing child cases, child homicides, and child exploitation issues. ALERT team members possess the expertise and commitment so vital to resolving these difficult cases. They are available now to provide many kinds of consultant services at minimal or no expense*:

- Evaluate long-term missing child cases and suggest new approaches
- Analyze and set priority order for leads and sightings

SUBJECT: Forensic Case 379 Quincy MA

Material submitted consists of one human skeleton and associated documents. The largely articulated skeleton is well preserved with little odor but some soft tissue present, especially on the thorax, right hand, and pelvis area. Considerable mold growth is present (green, white, black, red, yellow, and grey), including some long strands of black mold within some areas. In addition, many of the bones show evidence of extensive localized erosion, especially on the distal femora, the pelvis, proximal tibiae, and many of the ribs and centra of the vertebrae. The cranium is missing the entire face but is otherwise complete (although fractured). Other bones missing are the hyoid, several of the ribs, and some bones of the hands and feet. Several wood fragments are present in association with the neck of the posterior surface of the greater trochanter of the left femur.

Mandibular teeth are present except for the left first molar and third molar (missing antemortem). Radiographs reveal that the right third molar is impacted and not erupted. Restorations are present on the crowns of the left central incisor, both left premolars, the right second premolar, and the right first and second molars.

The appearance of numerous features of the pelvis and cranium and the large size of the bones indicates the bones originate from a male individual.

* — Age at death is difficult to pinpoint because of the missing and fragmentary nature of some key skeletal elements. An age at death likely between 34 and 43 years is suggested by the extent of cranial suture closure, lack of vertebral osteophytosis, and the appearance of the pubic symphyseal and auricular areas of the pelvis.

The lack of the face limits any reliable estimate of population ancestry. Brown (and grey) straight to wavy head hair generally suggests a Caucasoid racial ancestry.

Maximum length of the right femur of 475 mm suggests a living stature of about 174.5 cm (five feet eight and one half inches) plus or minus about 3.27 cm. — *

Evidence of foul play consists of blunt force trauma to the cranium. The entire face (maxilla, malars, nasal bones, etc. are broken and missing. A large perforation (60mm x 95mm) is located in the posterior aspect of the left parietal. Two associated fragments articulate at this site and fill this perforation. Three small fractures extend posteriorly on to the occipital from the area discussed above.

A large fracture line extends from the superior border of the left orbit posteriorly across the frontal and left parietal to the large perforation noted above. Small sections of bone (14 to 20 mm in diameter) are broken away on the external surface of the cranium at three distinct points along this fracture line on the frontal. These broken areas are located 20mm, 46mm, and 91mm (on the coronal suture) from the superior border of the left orbit.

A smaller perforation is also present on the right side of the frontal extending posteriorly from the superior border of the right orbit to the coronal suture.

Many of the other bones are fractured but it is difficult to distinguish possible evidence of foul play from carnivore activity at these sites. In particular, fractures are located on the posterior part of the right ilium, including the area lateral to the auricular area, the left 7th, 8th, 9th, and 10th ribs, the right 4th, 8th, and 10th rib. Left and right upper ribs also show some fractured sternal surfaces, as well as considerable erosion. The medial superior margin of the left scapula above the acromial process is also fractured.

Of all of the fractures described above, only those located on the cranium definitely represent evidence of foul play. The others may also represent foul play but can not be distinguished from the effects of carnivore gnawing.

Individual characteristics of this individual include a large irregular frontal sinus (seen in radiograph), the dental restorations, irregular front mandibular teeth, and heavy calculus buildup on the lingual surfaces of the anterior teeth.

The maps have a couple of places or things, circled on them with arrows pointing to something. One note says "Rocks covering Jacob, okay to rescue" and has a picture drawn of a male figure wearing a hat with a feather stuck in it. SUBJECT: JAMES DEVEGGIO AS A POSSIBLE SUSPECT IN THE JACOB WETTERLING
ABDUCTION

Deputy Mohner,

In early December of 1997 James Daveggio (AKA Froggie) and his female accomplice prostitute Michelle Michaud abducted 22 year old clerical worker Vanessa Sampson from a Pleasanton, CA street. Daveggio grabbed Sampson as she walked to work, forced her into a 1995 light green Dodge Caravan where she was tied to the floor and raped repeatedly by Daveggio and Michaud. Sampson's body was found near a snow covered Sierra Nevada road, some 185 miles away, 2 days later. She had been strangled. Sampson was a attractive, petite blond.

In a similar case in September of 1997 Daveggio grabbed a 22 year old college student from a Pleasanton, CA street, dragged her into his van where she was raped repeatedly by Daveggio and Michaud. This victim was also a attractive, petite blond. Daveggio is also a good suspect in the abduction and disappearance of several teen aged girls.

Daveggio is known to have been active since the late 1980s usually in consort with a female accomplice. A preliminary time line shows that he has traveled in the Mid West. He is considered to be a possible suspect in numerous unsolved cases nation wide.

Daveggio is a member of The Devils Horseman biker gang. The Devils Horseman are a sanctioned affiliate of The Hells Angles. Daveggio uses methamphetamine and may be involved in the distribution of this drug.

Although there is presently no information that Daveggio's victims included young men and boys I feel that his broad spectrum of victim choice is such that he may warrant attention in the Jacob Wetterling case. For additional information about Daveggio please call Agent Jeff Rinek at the Sacramento, California FBI office at (916)481-9110.

Please feel free to contact me at any time via the phone numbers or address given at the beginning of this letter.

MEDIA ADVISORY

The Minneapolis Police Department Sex Crimes Unit is alerting the public and used car businesses about a recent case of attempted child abduction and sexual assault.

On December 26 at approximately 6:15 pm, an 11-year old boy was standing alone at a bus stop at Chicago Av. S. and E 41st St. A white male came up behind the boy and threatened to kill him if he did not remove his clothes. The suspect then grabbed the child and dragged him to his car which was parked in an alley near that intersection. He forced the boy into the car and began removing his clothes. The man attempted to sexually assault the child but the boy was able to wrestle free of the suspect and escape from the car. The suspect drove off as the boy was running away.

The suspect is described as a white male, mid to late 40s, 6' tall with a medium build. He has short blonde hair with a bald spot on top. The suspect also stuttered.

The vehicle used in this crime is a newer model white 4-door. It had a neat and clean tan leather interior. The car also had white writing resembling a dollar sign and numbers, and possible blue and orange letter writing beneath it, which may mean that the suspect had the car out for a "test drive" from some auto dealership.

A composite sketch of the suspect is being faxed with this release and the media is encouraged to print or broadcast this picture along with the information contained above.

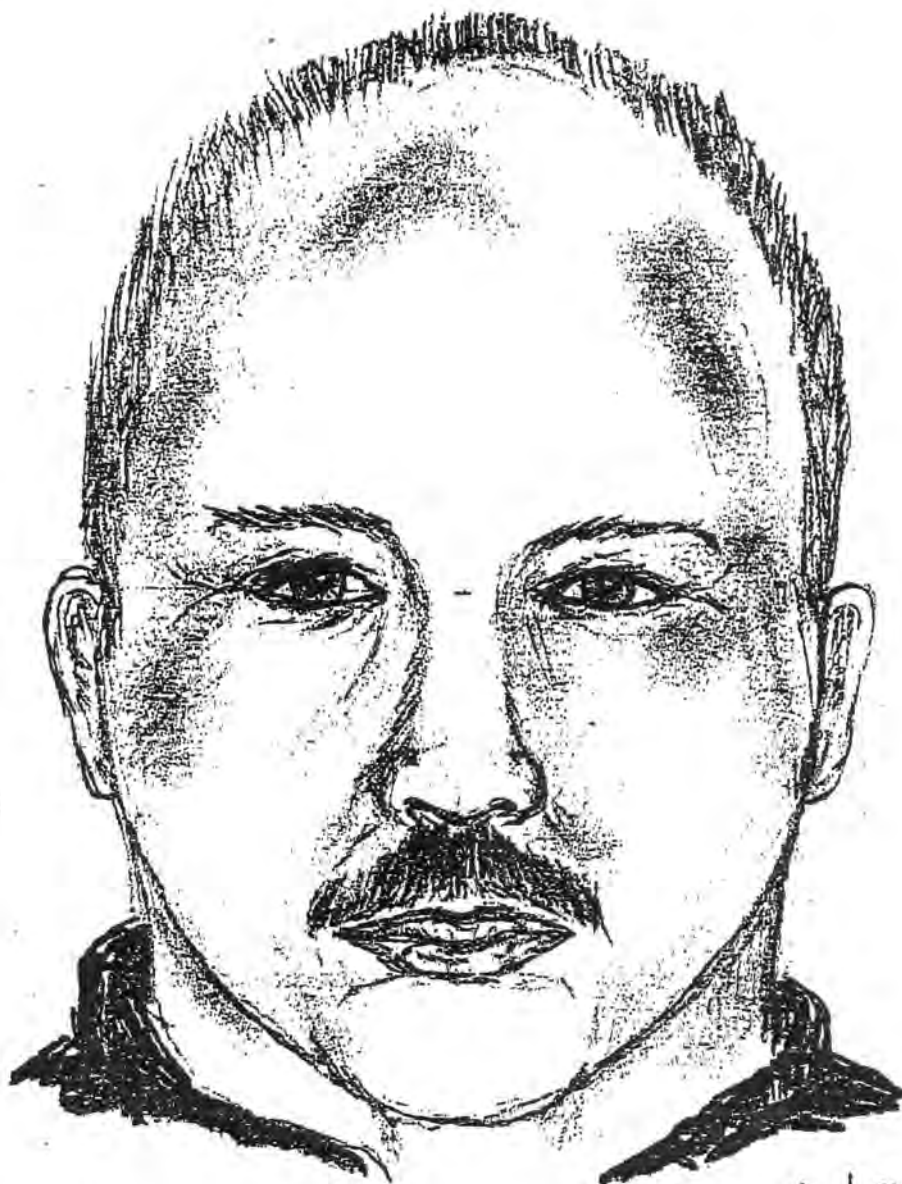

If the fax copy is dark or unusable, clean copies of the composite are available in Room 31 of City Hall.

Patty,

I am aware you were given information concerning a group of several homosexuals who are also pedophiles living in the St. Joseph vicinity who had contact with Jacob about the time of his abduction. I have limited information that is not first hand, but it is sufficient to show that the scenario generated by it conforms precisely to stated events within the abduction. The circumstances regarding any member of this group allow target selection to be Jacob, allow target acquisition as appropriate relative to the time and singularity of the boys trip, allow that the abduction scene selection is a planned event, allow the need for self-identity protection of the abductor, and logically account for the seemingly strange activity of the abductor. More importantly, it supplies a logical answer for two other strange events that occurred at the abduction - not only supplying an answer, but linking the two events together as logical.

1) by the abductor being away from his vehicle (assumed lone abductor), he has then compromised the value of escape in favor of the value of recognition and/or surprise.

2) despite the fact that there was a half moon and only a few clouds and the fact that the abductor vehicle was positioned 40 yards from the abduction site on an elevated road making it visible as far distant as 200 yards by boys who publically stated they were nervous and "heard things in the weeds" -- NO vehicle was seen by the boys.

Notice that your mentioned information includes an accomplice? A driving accomplice allows the vehicle to be out of sight to the boys prior to, during, and immediately following the abduction and yet still show the entry to vehicle at 40 yards from the scene. This accomodates the fact the boys saw no vehicle when they should have seen it. Notice too, that a driving accomplice does not compromise the value of quick escape.

Based only on those two factors, you should have been able to see the value of what was presented - whether or not it holds to scrutiny of investigation of those particular individuals. Here is a group with at least one member in prison for the third time offense of the very thing that is suspect for motive unwittingly giving specific information that conforms to scene parameters in a way that answers questions about abductor activity making that activity logical and you are not interested? Predisposed opinion supresses fact to retain its own viability - it is a trait of the ignorant, of those seeking a comfortable answer to hurtful truths, and of those who may gain in other ways more important to them if truth remains hidden (agenda). Put aside your opinions and take a look at it again. I have enclosed a map and some pictures to make the logic more visibly acquireable.

James Gussner

Aerial 14 clip, Measurements

Aerial measurements from abduction site to:

original scale: 1 inch = 660 feet

- 1 639 feet -- Driveway of closest home north of abduction site
- 2 330 feet -- for proximations
- 3 120 feet -- for proximations
- 4 120 feet -- site of where dogs lost scent / tire tracks
- 5 206 feet -- visible close tree, for picture references
- 6 330 feet -- for proximations
- 7 660 feet -- for proximations
- 8 440 yards - 1/4 mile, junction 91st and secondary court outlet road observe the tree in the foreground just left of the road - newspaper accounts put the vehicle less than 2/3 distance between it and where photo was taken observe the area left of the road is pasture (fenced). This condition allows an unobstructed view from a north aspect.

note that 91st St. crests at about the first home north of the abduction site.

note: it is more than 1/2 mile from this point on 91st Street to ANY jct with any other street that offers a choice of direction which is not a dead end venture (North)

Subject: Jacob Wetterling Case

Detective Story from the Wells County (IN) Sheriff's Office 219-824-3426 called. He stated that he has been trying to followup on some info he has. Story stated that on 9-15-94 a person who used the name Jacob Johnson DOB 12-5-77 disappeared from a hospital in Tampa FL, where he was being treated for severe amnesia. He said he has seen the poster of Johnson and that it resembles Wetterling.

In a related manner he said that a couple of years ago he locked up David Lee Thompson, who is now serving 200+ years for kidnapping and murder. He feels Thompson is responsible for other crimes, especially in TX and FL. I will call Bill Haigmaier and also tell the Detective Teresa has visions. About 3 years ago she had a very clear vision of a woody area that she is sure Jacob is buried in. About 2 years ago she was driving between Hastings and Red Wing on County Road 18 (exit off 316 and about halfway to the Casino). She had a strong feeling that she should turn left on this little road but went on. Bothered her enough to turn back and go down this little road across RR and a little dip. Very secluded place - got out and felt very much that this was where Jacob was buried. Feel he was shot but hurt first.

COMMENTS: I looked up the ICR on Jeff Ziemer that mentioned child abuse and found that the case was unfounded. We have no record of him being convicted of any sex assault/abuse, etc. I spoke to a few of the people around the office and found out that Jeff Ziemer was married to Teresa Weerts, who is now married to Gary Weerts. Dear Mr. & Mrs. Wetherling,

The reason I don't want you to alert the Police Dept, is, I feel if they had not given out false information to start with, there would be a good chance your son could have been found.

The man I seen on the 23 of Oct at about 380 ~~to~~ 430 ~~that~~ that had your son, I could have stopped him or followed him until I could get the attention of a Highway Patrol to stop him, But there had been reporting they were looking for a small red car like a hot wagon with a short stocky man driving.

I seen this man face to face as I passed him and your son was sitting up in car with his head laying on this man's upper arm, but I did not know, that was your son until later that evening when I was watching the News.

When I seen the picture of Jacob I got real sick inside, because I knew I could have done something if I had seen the picture sooner.

if the information had been right at the first report.

It wasn't a small red car and it wasn't a short stocky man, it was a full size car and it wasn't red and it wasn't a short stocky man.

Jerry & Patty, I'm not doing this to break your hearts any more then what they are already. I tried from the 23 of Oct to give this information to the police but they just let it pass and did nothing that I know of. I can prove to you that I tried them to help you.

I've layed awake night after nights trying to remember more, and the good Lord gave me the opportunity to see this man one time so I know who he is.

But, Jerry & Patty this must be done right so he isn't alerted for anything is reported in Newspaper or TV.

Please put in same paper when you could be in Akron and I will meet you at the airport and give you more information. My girl friend and I will meet you ~~soon~~ sometime after the 30 April

After I talk with you and give you all the information
I have, I will go to court with you.

I would come up there but I'm very sick and can't travel long ways.

ALL I've worried about is every time I get sick is I haven't gotten this information to you. I've told my girl friend if any bad happen to me for her to call you and give you my notes.

If theres a reward I would like $\frac{1}{2}$ of it to go to Lost Children.

I wouldnt take anything but Im not a rich ~~person~~ person and I need money for med etc.

P.S. I will
CALL you on the 29th AT 8PM your time.
Thank you
Hoping to see you soon,

RE: Jacob lead

Received a cell-phone call yesterday (approx 7:05 p.m.) from man with the following story:

He was returning from Grand Rapids, Minn. where he visited a house in Warba (sp?) where he was sexually attacked 27 years earlier by a man who lived there at the time. The fact that the house was being moved that day caused him to talk to a Clearwater County Deputy Sheriff (Mike Erickson (218) 694-6226) about his assailant (Carstie Lee Clausen, then using the name Marcus Overseth.) The Deputy Sheriff said the alleged assailant had been run out of Warba and was now living in Clearbrook.

The Deputy also recalled that years ago a psychic had said that Jacob was in Gonvik, Minn., four miles from Clearbrook and that a Gonvik resident, Charles or Bob Moncray (sp?) had killed himself at the time. The Deputy thought a box of clippings about the abduction was found in Moncray's house.

The caller would not give me his name or phone number, but asked if Carstie Lee Clausen was a suspect in Jacob's case. He asked if there was a flea market or antique show in St. Cloud the weekend of 10/22/89 because Mr. Clausen was a trader of baseball cards and other paper antiquities. The caller said the thought Mr. Clausen had a journalism degree because he had published a free newspaper in Warba at the time. The caller also offered Collectors Central in Soway, Minn. (218) 467-3408 as a possible resource for tracking Mr. Clausen.

to check date on that + see if they coincide.
Lutheran Hospital - La Crosse.

The black man who is in ST Cloud Prison - who they think kidnapped Huissen Truit - Wetterling was in some black organization. Wetterling also living in Mason City Iowa. I personally do not think the man did it.

Man w/ Long gray Pony Tail in AA Wed 1:30 looked like man in Vince Hatt's Group - Resembles Halverson. Some woman talked about Quarry and another talked about Vince - a man who was losing memory etc. Son Chiropractor - Waite Park - Son-in-Law daughter Pharmacist
Pharmacist from Missaula area works at Lutheran La Crosse - Pharmacist from MN Katner lost son from Viterbo U - La Crosse - found in Mississippi - La Crosse Lutheran Pharmacist Lance Heausen. I think w/all the harassment Jim taking from them they are both in on this. They do not want this solved (Catholics and Lutherans. Wetterlings may not either.

There is a large possibility Jim is working for them. He may also be on his own. The Baka's may be a serious threat to these 2 entities.

After reading Patli Wetterlings version in Good Housekeeping it appears this was set up possibly. The Kidnapper went into the same store before the act - let 7 and knew about time the boys were out there. If 7 was either Wetterling or the Neighbor - where the baby sitter came from. Did Wetterling ever leave the room at his friends. He could have had a pager. Did the Neighbor man know Jim. Why would anyone let their kids go after dark when a previous kidnapping had been tried before in such a small town. That is crazy thinking, or there was a reason behind it.

Holmquist - lot said 3 men were seen. That would lead me to believe they were from Montana - Waller etc. Also Hwy 10/52 Northfield is not far from 52. Most of these crimes were down off an interstate close by. Many of the murders in WI were as such. Holmquist is not but if going back to Montana would probably cover the 7 net state.

Kevin just bought $2000 worth of merchandise - most generally has a tough time paying rent.

Just heard news on Holmquist - SAD - Putting Pipe Lines in. Go by physical build - barrel chested - thin - almost bird like. I'm sure you have checked w/ border to see who passed through on that night. AT burial be there. If possible keep person near site afterwards. He will come back to visit if in the area. If you want me to go up I will. Straight shot to interstate. Kapter parents from Glendive - see where Heareaux lived up there. ON Interstate - Wasn't little girl from Fargo kidnapped & not found - Interstate. I mentioned Holmquist to Eileen Walters - now wife. She's an alcoholic. Woman next door to me - is bad news - from what I hear - Dennis Larson - fired - ran place Cepeco - Fridley MN. Drugs, Alcohol - mother 2 small children - Alcohol - drugs (Pot) Lives in building across from lot building St Catherine.

Hallock says goodbye

Residents of the small northern Minnesota town packed Grace Lutheran Evangelical Church to remember Julie Holmquist, the 16-year-old who was found slain Aug. 20.

JENNIFER McMENAMIN STAFF WRITER

Nearly every resident of this small town and neighboring communities packed Grace Lutheran Evangelical Church on Monday afternoon to remember and say goodbye to 16-year-old Julie Holmquist.

Those who did not arrive early enough for a spot in the 500-seat church were sent to the basement. There, seated at cafeteria-style tables and crammed into any standing room available, another several hundred watched a live video broadcast of the funeral.

Others filed into Sunday school classrooms, where they heard the service over speakers. The remaining overflow gathered on the church's front lawn, where stormy skies cleared long enough for them to hear the service via another set of speakers.

In all, about 1,000 people gathered to pay their last respects to Holmquist, who had last been seen in-line skating on a rural road July 29. More than three weeks later, a hunter found her body in a shallow gravel pit pond six miles north of Lancaster, a neighboring town of 250. Authorities have not released the cause of death but have said Holmquist was abducted and slain.

Many said the service's attendance was typical of Hallock, a seven-church town of 1,300 only 20 miles from the Canadian border in northwestern Minnesota.

"It's the community," said Toody Minske, a Hallock resident and church volunteer. "Anytime we've had an untimely death like this one, they've pulled together. They stick together with anything that goes on, whether a happy occasion or a sad occasion."

Even so, this was one of the largest funerals the small town has seen, according to Mark Austin, owner of Hughes Funeral Home.

Joining family, friends and residents were Gov. Arne Carlson, Nicholas O'Hara, superintendent of the Minnesota Bureau of Criminal Apprehension, local firefighters and sheriff's deputies, officers of the

Suspects detail killing of runaway

Mother said she worried for teen girl's safety

By David Chanen
Star Tribune Staff Writer

Just two days before Pa Lor was raped and killed in Brooklyn Park on Sunday morning, the 13-year-old had called her family to tell them she was doing fine and would be coming home soon.

It wasn't the first time she had run away from her apartment in St. Paul, and her mother, Mia Vang, said she worried about the girl's safety. Why Pa took off early last week will always be a mystery to Vang. What she does know is that she has cried so many tears over her daughter that she can't shed another.

"I want to die," she said Wednesday. "I miss her face."

Charges filed Wednesday against five teenagers from Brooklyn Park and Robbinsdale detail the roles each allegedly played in the crime:

It's not clear how or when Pa left St. Paul. But her troubles started Saturday when she met Michael S. Medin, 18, after he finished his shift at a Subway restaurant in a Brooklyn Park strip mall.

Several hours later, she willingly went to Hartkopf Park with Medin and two of his buddies, Johnnie L. Rhodes and Shea C. Holt, both 17. Early Sunday morning, Medin pushed Pa down and covered her mouth while Rhodes raped her.

Turn to VICTIM on B3 for:
— The formal charges.

Thirteen-year-old Pa Lor ran away from her St. Paul home last week. On Friday, she called her family and said she'd be home soon — but she never arrived. Pa was raped and killed Sunday in Brooklyn Park. Charges were filed Wednesday against five teenagers.

From: Stephany Good Subject: Information
Date: October 21, 1998

Above date, information was received from Kathy Hurd (612) 474-6002 of the Jacob Wetterling Foundation.

Ms. Hurd stated she had recently attended a seminar sponsored by Tom Thompson, Intensive Supervision, Ramsey County Probation, (615) 292-7191. She spoke with a sex offender (first name Darin, last name unknown). Darin told Ms. Hurd that he had been in prison in Virginia with a man who was always writing Jacob Wetterling's name on everything, and mentioned Jacob's name during a prayer meeting.

Ms. Hurd phoned Thompson who told her that Darin said he had been in prison with "Don Wiley", Virginia State I.D. # [redacted] Darin said Wiley had been in custody for armed robbery, but he did not believe Wiley was currently incarcerated. He knew that Wiley wrote to a brother while in custody, at 52 Bar Harbor Rd., Freehold, New Jersey 07728.

Mr. Thompson indicated he would be able to arrange a meeting with Darin, and that Darin was willing to talk with investigators.

Personal Notes & Thoughts

Truck Driving! I don't know. I hope that I can stay with it long enough ~~to~~ to get back what I've got in it. If dispatch at BT refer division doesn't get their heads out of their asses, there won't be a BT refer division, at least not in Amarillo. They complain about drivers not cooperating, from this person's view, it is just the opposite.

One example: We (me and my ^(second) trainer) get to Hunt's Paint Mkt. about 8:00pm Tuesday evening. While we are being unloaded, I call in. I am told to call back when we are unloaded, which my trainer does. Then we go park in an area marked for out-of-state trucks, and stay there over night. In the morning, after 3 call ~~to~~ backs, we learn that there was supposed to have been a note on our (computer) screen to go somewhere in New Jersey to pick up a load that morning (we was to be there at the same time we were calling in). Just think how that makes the company look, and I am beginning to think that is more the norm of things, especially after the way we have to sit hours on end. By the way, it was about 4:00pm Wednesday when we left Hunt's Paint for a 6 drop load.

I mentioned a ~~second~~ trainer. He's a good trainer, easy to get along with, and he does things like he wants them done. Why do I say that?, well let me tell you about my first trainer.

He's one of those old fashion truck drivers, the kind that says to hell with the rules that he don't like. Two examples are log books and radar detectors. ~~to get~~ His log books no more

I have learned^{what} what I have already known but refused to heed the warnings.

tell what he has actually done than anything. He told me me from the start that I had to cheat and lie on the log books in order to keep from running out of hours, and that if I didn't cheat, the company would fire me because I kept running out of hours. I never did understand his way of keeping a log book, but it sure would be interesting to see DOT go over some of his books. About radar detectors^{detectors}. In orientation, we (the class) were told, in no uncertain terms, that radar ~~detectors~~ detectors, scanners (and maybe something else) was forbidden. Then, when I get put with him, we don't much more than get out of Amarillo when he reaches in the sleeper and pulls one out and hecks it up. Third, you've heard the saying, "Do as I say, not as I do.", well that describes him to a "T". When he is driving, he will drive like a trucker, if you know what I mean, like tailgating, speeding, rude maneuvers, ect. Then, when I get under the wheel and encounter similar circumstances I try to drive like he wants it done, or so I think, because when I do, he jumps all over my hyde, and that makes me very nervous, then I lost it all in handling that maneuver. There was a couple of times that if I could have gotten to a phone, I would have called and told them (at the terminal) to get me back there because I was quitting. But, I didn't. I don't want to quit because I don't know what else ~~I~~ that I would do. Things back home aren't getting any better, if anything, there getting worse.. For the first time since I got out of high school, I have a steady, year-round job. That and the money ~~is~~ why I'm trying to stay. Of course, if I went back, folks around town would say, "Aw yea, he just like Tracy, lazy and not much count."

The time that I have spent at Mike and Carol's (my trainer and his wife) has not been difficult, nor has it been easy. They have gone out of their way to make me feel welcome and "at home", but, I am a passing stranger - nothing more. I stayed most of 2 days before dispatch found something for us to do (and 3 meals). Mike's 3 kids, Cody, Mickie, and Denise, were enjoyable to be around. Cody (the oldest and only boy) has asthma and advancing appendicitis. My reason for noting this is to keep an eye out for things or opinions that could help him. He is 12 at this time (11/89). The rest of my thoughts on the young man will remain unspoken. Later, I ask Mike if he had noticed me watching him and Carol examine Cody. He answered yes. Did ~~it~~ it make him mad? No. Then, I ask what does he feel when things are flared up. He said that there would be swelling and possible ~~redness~~ ^{location} redness. The ~~location~~ ^{location} of the "examination" area is approx. ^{right} half way between the navel and the profile side line. I have learned ^{again} what I have already known but refused to heed the warnings. The feelings for Mike and his family must ^{to} return and remain strictly professional; what I feel on a personal level must be ignored until they are gone.

At this point, I still can't be sure of a career in trucking.
If I listened ^{to} (and took to heart) all of what I have heard,
I just as well to pack my bags and go to the house.
I learned that I don't run with others well. Some friends of Mike's joined with us to go to the east coast. When it came my turn to drive, I didn't do my pre trip plan because I figured I would just follow them. That worked ok until we ~~we~~ got to Kansas City, KS. We got on the loop and the traffic was pretty thick. To make a long story short,
I fell behind and got upset because of it. I almost caused an accident and that didn't help my nerves any. Mike told me later that he used that part of the trip as ^{training} an experience.

The "directive" ~~has~~ to Mike and his family is becoming difficult. I have paid a second visit to their house. This time, only for about a day. The thing that makes it hard is the bulk of the time was Saturday morning - the kids were home. Cody got his Legos out and started playing with them.
I joined in. That and the TV was on. The time that was spent there this time was even more special than before.

800-272-0012 We were hoping to get back (at least to his house) for ~~(612) 259-3981~~ Thanksgiving, but, do to hair-brains and screwballs, we didn't.
St. Joseph, Mn. In a way, I'm glad because I really don't want spend ^{any} more
M.S. 10/22/89 time with the kids. In a ~~truck stop~~ truck stop, I saw a missing kid Brown Hair/Blue Eyes poster with the 12 yr old boy named Jacob that had been DOB 2/17/78 kidnapped. ~~There is the~~ That is the 2nd ~~Jacob~~ ↑ ↑ Wetterling
(612)-259-3981

(or brown)
boy with similar appearance features: blond hair and being 10-13 yrs old. There is one that I know that fits that: Cody Wade.
I wish (with all my heart) that I could find this Jacob or the one named Mickell from New Mexico.

When we came in on 11-26 '89, it was the end of my training. Of course, Carol and the kids were there. There was something different about Cody's "response" (?) to me.

*He seemed interested in spending more time around me.

One thing that could explain that is Carol said Cody and Mikkie enjoy their time with me when she and Mike went to get Denise. I wish that I could have more time to see if my ~~"ob"~~ "observation" marked above * is correct. That seems even more distant than ever. If I openly expressed my feelings about a little brother to mother. The only good it did was ~~that~~ it got it off my chest, which helped some, but, I guess I can ~~do~~ still hope and keep my eyes open.
Who knows, some day I might get lucky.

This is my first entry ~~3/8~~ since I have got out on my own. The first 4 days ~~was~~ have got to have been some of the hardest days of my life (short of the "Pg" test). The first day, it was all I could do just to keep from crying.
It's getting easier after 2 weeks. I didn't realize just how much moral support I drew from Mike. Through most of the first trip, I traveled much of the route that we did when we went to New York City. I missed him so much it really hurt bad. When I got back to Amarillo, I called Carol and talked ~~to~~ to her (and Cody, who answered) for a bit. It helped me feel better (a lot).

Through my run, I run across flyers on a missing child, so I picked one up. It gave a description of a 1981 Ford Bronco. When I was going thru Oklahoma, I saw a Bronco that matched, so I called it in. It's been a week since I called. I don't figure what I did helped any.

Dory is a weekend nighttime dispatcher who counsels kids who have problems with drugs and/or alcohol. I got to where I could talk to him, I mean really talk. So, a little over a week before Christmas 1989, early one Saturday morning, I got up, went and called him up and we talked - for 2 1/2 hours.

I told him

what I had done with the 2 boys and what resulted from that, then I told him how Cody had shown me that I wasn't as bad as I thought I was and that I did have control, and most important, how I feel about Cody because of it (which is: I love Cody like he is my little brother). Now, I can be around boys and I don't feel the urge or the desire that I used to. Talking to Dory helped me better in some ways and makes me feel worse in others. I know that I must tell Carol and then Cody how I feel and why. I just hope they don't reject me. I haven't told them, yet. I have talked to Carol about how

I feel about them and Cody. She seemed to understand.

Some lessons come hard. Dory says I get too emotionally involved. I guess he's right. Still, I can't help but be concerned. I have learned more about my "friends" recently. Now I'm beginning to be able to put together a picture of what is going on. I am concerned about Cody, but there is almost nothing I can do about it.

But, after talking to Dory about it, it doesn't hurt like it did. I still care, but it doesn't hit ~~at~~ in the heart like it did. Some day, somewhere, I will find someone that I can care for, help and be helped, and all that stuff, ~~and~~

~~But~~ After some months, the above sentence seems more like a fool's dream instead of realistic goal. One thing does seem rather certain, though. That is my days are numbered, and the numbers don't appear to get very big. Every time I go to the terminal, my job seems to get just a little bit shakier (unstable). I don't expect to make the 1 year status. When I lose my job with BT, I don't intend to look for another one. That's why I'm concentrating my income on the loans. If I can at all, I will have them paid off by 6/90.

On 3/18/90, I was ~~was~~ going west on I-76 in Ohio east of Akron when I passed a van at the end of a ramp coming from a rest area (which isn't shown on the map). After I went by, the van entered the roadway. Soon, it proceeded to pass me. As it went by, I looked ~~in~~ over into the van. I saw a man that looked a lot like the one in the flyer* put out with Jacob Wetterling's ~~pic~~ picture. By the time I realized what I had seen, the van was passed me, and I couldn't make out the numbers on the license plate. But, I got a good look at the van. It was a late 80's Ford Customized Van, brown with silver stripe down the side, the width ~~of~~ of the stripe being 4 to 5 inches. On the back, left door was a spare tire holder, ~~chrome~~ chrome or chrome plated around the "tread" of the holder. On the right door, was a chrome plated ladder. Except for the 2 front doors, the windows were tinted dark.

On the man, in the flyer, put some framing under his eyes, take the cap off and grow the hair (on the sides), and you have a good idea of the ~~the~~ man in the van. He was a passenger which meant that someone else was driving. I almost sure that was a man, too, older ~~that~~ than the one in the passenger's seat. Jacob could have been in that van, too.

I called this in to the hotline. I rather doubt anything will come of it, but, I tried.

And so life goes on, for now. I'm still with BT, have been for better than 6 months now, but ~~that~~ how long it will last, I don't know. I continue to accumulate little no-nos.

At this point, I'm torn in ~~two~~. Part of me is the part that has come out and developed since I have started driving: the caring part, about people, about kids, about life. The other part is the one I knew before I started driving. cold, more Selfish than not, the part that lets no one in.

At this time, it's hard to say which has the bigger hold on me, but without some one special to hold on to, there is no doubt which will win - and will win soon. ~~At this~~

~~Rescue~~ Rescue 911 (4/24/90)

This evening on TV, I saw where a 16 year old guy help save a 9 year old boy's life.

If I survive to my 26th birthday, I know what I will wish for. I've always heard that on his (or hers) birth day, one could wish for whatever he (or she) wanted the most, no matter how far-fetched it was. Well, what I want seems to grow more distant every day, but I still want it. I want, and will wish for, one special boy to be close to, like a brother. What would be a dream come true, not to mention a 20+ year old Christmas wish, is for mom and dad to ~~adopt~~ adopt another boy, ~~so that~~ in which I would finally have a little brother. But, I knew that this is quite ~~impossible~~ impossible. Anyway, it is my wish, I just hope that I can live to see it come true.

I look at a flyer with two men accused of taking J. Wetterling. I am certain that I have seen these men. I just can't prove it.

I was on Hwy 13 in Ohio between Huron and the turnpike. A school bus had just dropped off a boy, around 12. As he started for his house, he turned and waved at me. Of course, I waved back. Many thoughts of that situation exist.

I was thinking about the story I wrote about two brothers. I call it "Brother Beware".

As one thought led to another, I was reminded of when I would have ~~sworn~~ sworn that at one time, I had a brother or sister. Mother assures me that I have always been the ~~only~~ only one. I was also reminded of when I was 12 and 13. I wanted a brother so bad. The empty feeling of not having one that coupled with what was going on between Tracy and me. I still have that ~~empty~~ empty feeling. It hurts as bad or even worse now than it did then. I don't expect that empty place to be filled.

I've had my 3rd preventable accident. Although safety hasn't even begun to investigate it, I know what they will say. I expect it to be my Waterloo - the end of my "career" as an OTR driver.

Why must it still hurt so bad? Even after the times when I thought I was going back to isolation - to avoiding people (especially kids), when I see a boy or boys, my heart still goes ~~soft~~ soft. I still know that I don't want to hurt them anymore. I don't want to like I used to. I still wish I could help some boy somehow.

^{16/12} Today in El Paso (76 TS), I met Richard, ^{1511 Marten} an 11 year old boy with a good personality. I found that I could listen and relate to him.

It makes me wonder if there is still hope for me.

I just saw part of a news clip about people that have been tested HIV positive. Some of them are going into schools and talking to kids (Junior High) about it. ~~A possibility~~ A possibility exist for me there. No.

Today I had lots of time to kill. I looked in the phone book, & went to an adult theater. There I watched a gay film.

Afterwards, I ask myself why.

Why porn and why gay. The only answer I could come up with was that it reminds me of the only kind of friendship that I knew when I was a teen. At least when I was doing those "things", I ~~was~~ had a real friend, which is more than I felt when I didn't. Sick? Maybe, ~~to~~ but it's very possibly true. I can't help but wonder if I could find someone to cure for, I wouldn't hold an interest for those sorts of things.

I've made it past my 26th birthday. ~~The closest~~ nearest thing I got to what I ask for was on 7/3 on the way ~~back~~ⁱⁿ from El Paso, I got to go by Mike's house and visit with them. As the evening grew near, they had to go to town (Portales). I followed them in the truck. When they were through with their business, we went over and had pizza together. I haven't got to tell them what the occasion meant to me.

I've been doing some checking ~~about~~ around about sponsoring a kid or volunteering in some sort of kids program. In general, they don't want me because I can't be in ~~in~~ often enough. It isn't enough that I want to give what I can. / I was thinking back today when Granny,
(I was about 10 or 11)

Papa, mom, ~~and~~ dad, and I was in Cimarron, N.M. at a trailer park. We were on vacation going to Red River, N.M. The evening we got there, there was a guy about the same age I was, ~~about the same age~~ He and another guy was running around together. This main guy didn't like the other guy, so they broke up. Then, I run across him (the main guy) and we got to talking. We got to be friends that evening. I've never seen him since. / I've finally done something I've wanted to do since I ~~was~~ started college. I got my own apartment.

It's a small efficiency type, but it ~~it~~ does what I want.
I've made one last attempt at sponsoring a child. But I ~~am~~ already know what the answer is. I've pretty well given up on helping kids. I don't know how much longer
I can last. / I was going thru Kansas City, Mo. when I came up on a Salvation Army bus. It was full mostly of blacks. One exception caught my eye. On the very back seat on the
~~the~~ right, the an 8 or 9 yr old white boy. I couldn't help but wonder, even wish a little. / I had a dream last night or should I say a rerun about taking an orphan boy home for Christmas.
~~Now~~ Today it's all I can think about. I am going to investigate it when I get to Amarillo. / On 8/27/90, I was leaving Charlotte, NC on US 74. I was at a ~~stop~~ stop light and I ~~then~~ looked over to a man and two boys, one about 14, the other about 3. The younger was sitting in the lap of the older boy ~~with~~ across his lap to where his shoulder would be in the chest of the older. As I watched, I could tell the older boy cared about the younger boy. I wonder what that is like. / Start a new chapter. Navajo Express bought out the reformation of Builders. When I found out, I wasn't looking and I didn't get any where, so I moved over to Navajo. I didn't lose any pay like ^{all} some of the older drivers did. Some lost as much as 7k per mil.
I can say that I got one good thing out of it. A New truck!
A 1991 International Aerodyne conventional with an almost standard sleepers, a great stereo, and best of all, a bigger engine that isn't cut back. It will run about 72 and pulls on a hill a lot better than any thing I've had before. It had 237 miles ~~on it~~ when I got it. The bad thing about it is I won't be ~~able~~ able to keep it long. The pressure and pain continues to build. It's starting to hurt; at times it hurts real bad. When it does, it adversely affects my job. An lenient estimate would say that by the end of the year, I'll have to ~~quit~~ quit.

I have another chapter to start. I was out 2 weeks on the new truck. I come in for 2 days off. When I come back, they had cleaned ~~th~~ my things out and given the truck to someone with more experience. ~~I~~ I come very close to quitting. I went looking for another job, but I didn't find one. The reason I didn't get on another truck and go on is because there wasn't another truck on the yard. In fact, I was the third one waiting for a truck. I told David (the driver supervisor) that I was looking for a job off the ~~red~~ road, and that I was going home. I give him the phone numbers. Then, I went home.

The ~~next~~ next morning, David called. He offered me a job of watching over the yard and taking care of fuel. The hours are nights and weekends and pays $5.00 per hour. I accepted it.

It is n't hard work. Sometimes, staying awake at night is hard. I miss the ~~the~~ touch or the feel of driving. Since I've been working, I've tried to get involved with some kids groups. I haven't got any where. One thing is I haven't been a resident in Amarillo long enough. It will be February. It might be the best in the long run because there is a lot of uncertainty in the air at the office. Every one tell me I'll be alright here, but there something wrong.

some where. Maybe I'll find out or have it figured out by the time I can do something; if I'm still around. Sometimes, it still gets hard to hold on. At least now I can isolate myself better than I could on the road.

On 11/26/90, something rather tragic happened. Bubba King, a friend and fellow driver, lost his youngest (of 2) son. His name is Brandon and he is and always shall be 9 yrs old.

On Thanksgiving night, Brandon got a viral infection which brought on diabetes. They just couldn't save him.

They buried him on 11/28/90. I went to his funeral. Out of all the funerals I have gone to in my life, his was the hardest one I have been to - yet. I don't understand why I feel so much for the loss of the little guy. I never have met him. But, I do and its hard.

I tried to join Big Brothers / Big Sisters. They said they couldn't use me. That hurt pretty bad. I'm not sure I care anymore. Everything I do or try, I get turned away. I'm still trying to hold on. I don't know.

Same song, verse? I'm back on the road again, at least for a while. The reason why I went back is ~~is~~ a long story and I just don't feel like talking about it right now.

The big thing is this. I had started in counseling about what the point is: I ~~was~~ really like what I HAD going. I was really starting to understand some things.

One thing I got, and it's about all I have to hold on to, is a book I found called Broken Boys/Mending Men. ~~It talks~~ The author talks and directs the book specifically ~~to~~ about men who have been victimized as boys by another male. I understand and identify with a lot of what he tells in the book. When I look back in my life, the one thing that sticks out ~~is~~ when I was in the 8th grade,

I remember the changes that took place in me: grades, weight, ~~the~~ attitude.

The obvious answer is no. I ~~can't~~ help but wonder how many other boys have gone through that school like I did, because of the ignorance, etc.

I wrote that I went back on the road. That lasted for about three weeks. I had delivered in Aurora Co. I needed to go to the terminal in Denver. I called for directions. I don't know who I talked to but, he gave me bad directions. They led me onto a street where trucks were prohibited. I started trying to find my way out. Before I was able to, I totaled a Chevette. I was issued tickets. It is hard to describe how I felt after the accident. I know that it has been along time ~~since~~ since I have felt so low, so worthless. I vowed that I would be dead by the end of the next week.

But, I didn't. I'm not sure how I survived, I worked about six weeks as a shag driver. Things pretty tense in the office and I started looking around for another job.

A few weeks later I got a call from one of the places I went to. They wanted me there as soon as I could get there. So, I talked to David and he said I could go on. So, I did.

I went there on a Monday morning and worked a half a day. That is what I was told to do. The next morning, I went back to work. I hadn't been there long when they told ~~me~~ me that I was needed in the office. When I ~~went~~ went there, they told me that I was being let go because I had too many accidents. That hurt - bad.

I've got a job now. It took 4 months to get it. During that time, I shut down inside. I couldn't feel. I was told that it was a protective "device". My attitude sucked. Twice, I decided (and worked toward) to move home. Only, I would sell or give away everything I had (TV, VCR, stereo, etc.). After all of the bills ~~were~~ were settled, I would find a place where no one went, making excuses for plans to go off some ~~where~~ where so I wouldn't be missed, and then I would kill myself.

But, I didn't have the guts to do it.

The job I've got now is a driving job. I deliver auto parts at night in New Mexico. I work for a lady that I work for at Builders. I think that had a lot to do with me getting the job. The hardest part is getting use to sleeping in the daytime. I don't drive a ~~truck~~ truck. I drive a 1 ton van. I started to open up again. It hurts.

A lot has happened since I last wrote in this book. I quit the job I talked about - I never did get used to working at night. Another 3 months went by. I got a job pulling a tanker. I got cussed out all the time, so I quit. I went back long haul for 3 1/2 months. I got fired because I picked up 2 little boys and give them a ride home. I'm working for a truck company in town (Amarillo). I'm also looking for another job - preferably one that will get me off the truck all together. I've got a terrible job history. It keeps me from getting some good jobs.

While I was working on the auto parts delivery job, I did get some help. It went ~~to~~ pretty well until I left the job. I haven't done much since.

~~I feel~~ I feel like I would do good in therapy. Reading the book has opened me up. I feel. I hurt. I don't have the time. Sometimes, I really hate myself.

Recently, I went home (first time in 4 months). I found out just how haunted that house is. There is still a ~~young~~ young boy ~~living~~ living there. I can't hate him. He's me - or at least me ^{when} ~~when~~ I was growing up there. Mom wants me to come home for Christmas. I almost hope I can find a way out of it.

Speaking of boys, I haven't forgotten Jacob Wetterling. They're still ~~looking~~ looking for him. They won't find him alive. He's one main reason why I ~~pick~~ picked the boys up.

One big problem I've still got is my addiction to gay porn. Sometimes, it gets a hold of me and won't let go until I suck a guy's dick.

I'm not in the grips of the "demon" (when I'm feeling more like the "healed" me), I don't feel gay. I want to get married and have a family. But, there ^{are} times when that seems like an obscure illusion.

I guess it's time to update. I lost the job at the trucking company. As of now, it's been 4 months since I've worked. I've been turned down by 9 different trucking companies and ~~countless~~ ~~total~~ passed over by countless local firms of various sorts. I guess the best way to describe how I feel is: absolutely worthless. I don't know how much longer I'm going to survive, but it won't be long. I'm tired of it. It's getting to the point that hardly anything anyone says helps. On a different note, I've been working in children's church since the first of the year. My main job is sound and video. The other workers (including the director, Pastor Chuck) seem to like me, or at least they claim to. The main reason is that I'm there every week. During my "tenure" there, I've gotten to be friends with a few of the boys that go there. (By the way, the age range is 4 yrs thru 1st grade.) There's a 10 year old that wants to be friends with me, but I'm not going to let it grow. It's a difficult situation to be in, let alone, explain. ~~You best~~

You almost have to see it to understand. Let me say that never once have I had any desire to do any wrong to any boy that I've come in contact with. Not that I haven't thought about it, I have.

About the 10 yr old, I feel for him. I see much of me in him when I was his age: lonely, in need of a friend. But, there's not much I can do for him, especially since I'm in the position I'm in right now. As far as the "demons" go, I still have them. I pray that they will go away. Back to the kids. I am grateful for the time that I've spent with them. It has ~~showed~~ shown me that I can relate to kids, better than my dad did with me. Be that as it may, I'm tired. I'm ready this to be over with. NOW!

Someone once said to always make you ~~word~~ words sweet in case you have to eat them. I've had to eat something I wrote in here recently. I said that I wasn't going to let friendship grow between myself and a certain 10 yr old boy. I was wrong. I went to a person who would know and I ask questions. She gave me the phone number of his mother and told me to call. That was after I expressed a slight interest in spending some time with him. I argued with myself over and over again about why not to call. But, in the end, I did. ~~But~~ In some ways, I wish I hadn't have. After the first ^{two} meetings, I told the childrens pastor (Chuck Soxas) what was going on.

That was a mistake. It opened a can of worms. The one where I'd hidden the secrets about the charges and stuff from my past. I had to ~~to~~ tell the mother about all that. She has put serious restrictions on us. ~~I~~ I can't be alone with him, there has to be someone else (a brother or friend) there ~~there~~ at all times. That makes it hard on him because early on (before any of this come out) that he enjoyed spending time with me because he gets to get away from his younger brothers (in all, he has 3 younger and 1 older brother). It is not turning out the way I hoped it would. I know it disappoints him. I'm not sure that's the right thing to do. Here is the bottom line: He loves and trusts me. I feel the same way about him. I've never been more convinced I will not hurt him or any other boy or girl (in the manner that happened before). No one believes me. I ~~am~~ am probably going to hurt him (his feelings) one way or another. And what of me? What of my feelings? They don't matter (aren't important). If no one believes me, why should I? The thing that hurts the most (or worst) is that I hurt him. ~~I hurt~~

Time to update the saga. The mother cut off all visitation privileges. Yes, it hurt - bad. I did my best to ward off feelings of rejection on the boy's part. I told him that I still loved him and that if he needed me (even if just to talk), I wanted him to call me. Since I was told of the mother's decision, he has had 3 ball games. I found out that he has missed all 3, plus most of the practices. It is a very sad situation. He is a good player. He needs the activity for all the reasons that participation plays. I want to quote some of the memorable things that he said to me: "I like spending time with you more than mom because I don't have any younger brothers to run after." "You're my best friend." "You are like a dad to me. Only, you're a lot nicer than my real dad." I thought that last statement was a pretty nice complement. It's bad that he (along with his brothers) has to suffer because of his mother's problems.

That finally ended. It hurt - bad. I really loved him. I still do. And I know he still cares about me. We just can't express it like we used to. It's just as well for this evening, I'm in Laredo to start orientation for Celadon tomorrow. They're a long haul van company. I've prayed and studied about this and I feel like this is what God wants me to do for a while. I don't know how long "a while" is, but I don't feel like this

I is permanent. The one thing that is different about it this time
LOVE is that I feel God with me more than I've ever felt before.

You, I don't know what it is, but he has a reason for leading me
FATHER in this direction.

I've started with Celadon. The evening I got through with orientation, they put me in with another guy to ride to Dallas to pickup another truck. This guy was a trip. He had a total driving experience of 5 months. This was his 3rd company in that time.

By the time I got rid of him the next day, I was a wreck. He is very short tempered. Every body should bow to him (or at least do it his way). The truck that I was to get in Dallas wasn't there, so they sent us to Northeast Texas (Pittsburg). There was an 89 KW conventional that I could have. It was where it was suppose to be. When we got there I looked at it. It was like a pig pen (including smells). Simply put, that truck hadn't been taken care of. We had gotten there in a 91 Freightliner cabover. This guy hated the cabover. He had a hard time driving it. (his attitude was the main problem). He wanted to know if I would trade trucks. After I looked at the KW, I was more than willing to trade. Here's what I got: a cleaner, better smelling, later model truck. It has 2 beds (bunk style), air ride cab and suspension. And the interior is in far better shape. I got the better end of the deal. But, there's an end to this story.

Thursday evening after orientation was over, I called a tanker company that I had ~~not~~ applied to. I found out that I had been approved. With this tanker job, I wouldn't go far away from home. After studying and praying about it over the weekend, I've decided to go with it. I've put in for a leave of absence from Celadon. I am trying to fix things to where if this tanker job doesn't work out, I can come back. The dispatcher I talked to said that I was doing it the right way. I'll see.

Celadon got me back to Laredo. To do that, I ^{left} ~~had~~ 3 Madison, WI about 5:30 pm on a Wednesday and got to Laredo about 8:15 am Friday. It's about 1380 miles. I had Dad to come get me and I'm glad because I was one tired dude (the alternative was to ride the bus). The following Sunday, I went to church (of course). I didn't realize how far away from God I had gotten. I pray that I can change that. I still believe that, somewhere out there, there is a boy that is hurting (I don't know what is wrong) and God will bring him into my life for me to help. That is a promise I believe I've been given.

That was about six weeks ago. I'm driving a tanker, hauling gas and diesel. It's ok. I have to be careful because the stuff is dangerous. I wish that I had more time for me and the things I like to do. I've got to believe that God will work things out. It's hard to hold God where he should be with the hours that I work. I know that I'm not doing a good job of it. I need a lot of healing from the results of the past.

Four months later, I've quit the tanker job. There are a number of reasons. I guess it's chicken of me, but I didn't want to have to unload that stuff in a wind chill of -10° . Equipment and time off (or lack of) are two more reasons. I'm driving long haul again. This time for CFI. They have some good equipment, besides a couple of other reasons for going with them. Truthfully, I would rather not have gone back to the road, but there wasn't anything else. I watched for some time. I found a job of driving a bus for the school district, but it didn't pay. I prayed about this, asking God to block it if this wasn't His will (like he did numerous times in the spring).

But, he didn't. ~~He~~ In fact, I believe that He has a reason for me being here. I don't know what or why, I just do.

~~It's~~ It's been a while since I wrote. I'm still working for CFF. In about 3 weeks, I'll have been here a year. I've never been at a full time job that long.

In February ('94), I moved out of my apartment in Amarillo back home with Mom & Dad. I never got to go there (except for time off) and I really needed the money elsewhere (like pay on my pickup). So I moved. It was sad to go. I miss having a place of my own (besides the truck which I live in now). I look forward to when I will have my own place again. I miss my friends in Amarillo, but recently, I was able to visit Trinity, one Sunday when I had a load going thru and had time (an extremely rare occasion), and I felt like a complete outsider. It was almost cold ^{shouldered} ~~shouldered~~ ^{that kind of}. I ~~have~~ am not going to make "special effort ~~to~~ to go there again.

Speaking of pickups, I payed my pickup off in May ('94). I've done pretty good for myself. At this time, I've got over $11,000 in the bank. I am thankful. Which brings me to another point.

The day before I moved, I was feeling bad about moving, so I went to a prayer session (held weekly at the church). There, I expressed my "misgivings" about moving and ask for prayer. After I was prayed for, a lady came to me and told me she felt like God was telling me that He had me here (at CFI) and to be ~~pat~~ patient because ~~it~~ it is only temporary.

In His timing, a door will open for me and I will know this is God's place for me. That helped a punch.

A few times since, I've felt like that door was about to open. But, nothing happened (or changed).

In recent weeks, I've had "premonitions" that something is about to happen. Even tempered by previous experience, sometimes it really bugs me, almost spooky. Sometimes, it gives me a strange feeling, as if to remind me that something big is about to happen. I don't want to sound superstitious, but what I feel is real!

I think this Christmas is going to be special. I've already bought decorations to hang in the truck. I've ask Mom to pick out 2 or 3 ^{neatly} boys Con. cards that are put up by ^{local} ~~area~~ banks) and get them what they ask for. It's the best way I know to share what I've been given. It's been a long time since I've been this excited about Christmas.

Theory + Thoughts (Science and Rescue) Pg 1

We know so little about the organ between ~~our~~ our ears, so consider this: the brain is a transmitter. It is generally known that the brain wave is ~~unique~~ unique to each individual. Lets assume that the brain transmits this wave, and the clothes we ~~wear~~ ^{wear} absorb a certain amount of these waves and retains them.

Now, we need a receiver that can receive these ~~transmissions~~ transmissions. This receiver, tied into a computer and with the aid of satellite tracking, could be used in locating missing ~~the~~ persons and escaped convicts.

The following story ~~is~~ is an example. The names of the persons ~~in~~ in the actual case have been changed.

Ch1 I was going home when I heard the news: ~~Jason White~~ 11 year old Jason White was abducted last night in St. Cloud, Mn. His brother and a friend was with him when a man with a gun appeared and made Jason go with him. There has been no word of ransom, and sexual intentions are suspected.

"Some damn nut got him another innocent kid." I thought. "I hope the fool ~~doesn't~~ doesn't hurt the boy." ~~By~~ When I got home, I fixed me a bite to eat, then I ~~what~~ ~~when~~ went to my workshop. I had unique project going.

With the aid of a ~~modified~~ computer, I had discovered that the brain transmits its wave on an extreme low band frequency, and most of the clothes we wear absorbs and retains a certain amount of these wave transmissions.

After finding the right frequency range, I set out to modify a directional receiver to pick up the transmissions.

~~By now, I have had done about it about ready to try.~~

The idea of the way all this would work is this: first, obtain 2 or 3 pieces of clothing that the subject has worn often or for a long time (such as a favorite shirt and a pair of pants). This would give me a specific frequency and pattern to look for. Then, with the directional receiver, set for that frequency, I would set out ~~for~~ in search for that person.

Now, I'm ready to try it. So, I get one of dad's shirts and a pair of his pants. Then, with the receiver, I search for his frequency and pattern. I've found it and the receiver is set. Now, I follow the direction indicator, and, sure enough, it leads me right to the place where dad works. Then, I switch the receiver to close range and, with the direction indicator, I am able to follow dad any time he changes location (for example: going from one end of the building to the other).

By George! It actually works.

ch. 2

So, I head for home, I feeling rather proud. After all, who else could take a pair of clothes and find the person who had worn them, with a machine, even.

I realize that I had turned the radio off while I was working with the receiver, so I turn it back on.

When the song that is playing goes off, it is time for news. The lead story is about Jason White and the search for him. That give me a ~~o~~ idea: What if I could use the reciever to find him. But my "invention" needs more testing and refinement, so I ~~just~~ let it pass.

The days pass. Days turn to weeks, and still, they haven't found him. A month goes by, and still nothing. In the mean-time, testing on my "invention" is going well. In fact, ~~the~~ I've run out of testing subjects. Then, I'm reminded of the idea of finding this Jason White with the reciever.

By now, they have a toll-free number set up, so, I call it. When I get through to the task force, I say, "Has Jason White been found yet?" I knew the answer, but I wanted to ask.

"No, he hasn't," the man answered.

"Could you use some help?"

"Yes, we can. What can you do?"

"Well, sir, I have a device that can find people. It's very experimental and it may not work on something like this, but I would like to try."

"Ok, I think that ~~is~~ would be alright."

"Good. I would like to come up there to work."

"I figured that."

"I don't mean to sound rude, but I need to know if I can count on ~~the~~ cooperation from the police and the family."

"Yes, I think that can be arranged. Can I have your name, ~~and~~ address, and phone number?"

"Yes. I'm Randy Newton, and my address is P.O. Box 36040 Fort Worth, Tx. My phone number is (817) 874-3674."

"Ok. I've got it. When do you plan on being here?"

"I estimate about 2 1/2 days to get there. I'll say sometime early Wednesday afternoon."

"Ok. We'll be expecting you."

"Thank you. I go to the St. Cloud police department, right?"

"Right."

"Who do I ask for?"

"Ask for Detective Mark Richards."

"Ok. Sir, there is something that I'm going to need from the family."

"What's that?"

"A shirt and a pair of pants that has been worn by Jason and no one else. The older, the better."

"Why do you need that?"

"I use the clothes to get an ~~entire~~ idea of who I'm looking for with my device."

"Well, alright. I'll see what I can do."

"Well sir, I wouldn't ask for it if it wasn't necessary."

"I understand."

"Well sir, then I'll see you on Wednesday afternoon."

"Ok."

"Thank you. Good bye"

"Good bye"

There. It ~~z~~ was set. I would be able to test my ~~de~~ receiver and, if I was lucky, Jason White would be found.

Ch 3. Early Wednesday afternoon, I was in St. Cloud, MN. With a small amount of ~~difficult~~ difficulty, I found the police station, ~~and~~ went inside, and ask for Detective Mark Richards. A few minutes later, a man walks up to me and says, "I'm Detective Mark Richards, what can I do for you?"

"I'm Randy Newton, sir. I've come to see if I can help find Jason White."

"Oh, yes. I was told that you ~~not~~ would be coming with a device that can find people. Can you tell me about it?" he asks as we walk into his office.

"Well sir, it's based on the idea that the human brain transmits a wave on an extreme low band frequency. I've modified a directional receiver to ~~re~~ pick up those transmissions."

"Okay. I was told that you wanted some of Jason's clothes. Why?"

"Every person has a different frequency and/or pattern. Like Jason and his brother may have the same frequency, but the pattern will be different."

"Clothes absorb a certain amount of these transmissions. I need clothes worn only by Jason to get his specific frequency and pattern. The older and more worn, the better."

"I see. Well, I don't have the clothes here, but we can go over and get them as soon as I can get some other things squared away. It may take as much as a hour, so why don't you go out, ~~and~~ sit down, and relax untill I can get free."

"Ok." I answered and walked out to the lobby and found a reasonably comfortable place ~~to~~ to sit.

In about an hour, Detective Richards walks up and says, "Well, are you ready to go?"

"Yes sir, I am."

"Ok, come with me."

*I get up and follow him out to an unmarked car. He gets in, reaches across, unlocks the door, and I get in.

As we start down the street, Richards says, "I called the White Family so they would be expecting us. I told them what you had to offer."

"What did they say?"

"Right now, ^{they are} ~~there~~ ready to try just about anything."

"I know all this sounds a little far-fetched and I don't know if it will work here, but I figure that if there is a chance that it will, it's worth a try."

"I can agree with that."

"And, if it does work, it could ~~even~~ solve some of the missing child cases. *It could also be used in finding escaped convicts."

"That's true."

A few minutes later, we pull ~~to~~ over in front of a house and stoped. The ~~neibor~~ neighborhood was that of the average middle-class American - nice houses, clean streets, etc.

We get out of the car and start toward the house. I notice how the time has gone by since I got here, it is late after noon and the sun has ~~gone~~ gone down.

When we get to the front door, Detective Richards rings the door bell. With-in a couple of minutes, a woman answers the door, "Yes, ~~can~~ I help you?"

"Detective Mark Richards and Randy Newton, ~~name~~ me. I called earlier."

"Yes, detective, we've been expecting you. Won't you please come in?"

The detective and I walk in and the woman closes the door behind us.

The house looks as nice on the inside as it does on the outside.

The woman leads us into a living room. There, we are met by a man and two boys.

The man, introduces himself as John White. He's in his mid-forties, approx 5'8" to 6', and brown hair. The woman steps beside him and he introduces her as his wife, Cindy. She's about the same age, height, and hair as he is. Then, he turns to the boys. Both are about the same age, and height, but, one has brown hair, and the other is blond. The one with the brown hair is introduced as his son, James. The other is introduced as James's ~~Friend~~ friend, Bill.

Then, the detective introduces himself and me. After all the greetings are exchanged, we are offered places to sit, and we sit down. Before Mrs White sits down, she offers us something to drink. Both of us refuse. Now, it's down to business.

"The Detective tells us that you have something that may help us find Jason," Mr. White says to begin the conversation.

"That's right. It is an experimental device that uses the brain as a homing signal transmitter. Please note that it is very experimental."

"It sounds a little bit far-fetched if you ask me." laughs Mr. White.

"Yes sir, I guess it does. All of my test to this point have been successful, but, they have been on adults. That's why I'm interested in ~~this~~ this case. If I can use ~~my~~ the receiver to help locate ~~Jason~~ Jason, it will mean that my ^{theory} ~~theory~~ works on ~~kids~~ children as well as adults. However, I must point out that it may not work."

"Why don't we find out?" asks the detective.

"I'm ready whenever you are. I need the clothes that I ask for."

"I have some set out for you," said Mrs. White. "I'm afraid I don't understand why you need them."

"I need the clothes to get a sample of Jason's signal, so I can set the receiver to pick up that signal."

"It is still confusing. Here they are. An old shirt and pair of pants."

"They haven't been worn by James?"

"No, they haven't. There still too big for James," she answered.

"Fine. Thank you." "I turned to the ~~the~~ detective and said,

"Detective, I need my equipment from your car."

"Ok," he answers ^{as he} ~~and~~ gets up and heads for the door.

As I move to follow, Mr. White ask, "How long will it be before you know something?"

"~~By left~~ Around 30 minutes. Maybe less or maybe a little longer."

"Good luck," James says.

"Thank you." I answer and walk outside.

When we get to the car, the detective unlocks the doors. I open a back door and get my receiver.

"Do you want to go back inside?"

"No. There could be ghost images in the house. Besides, I'll know something in a few minutes."

"Ok, but I'm going back inside. If you need me, let me know." Richards says as he walks toward the house.

"Ok." I answer. Then, I go to work on my receiver, Ch.4 pointing it at the clothes, ~~to~~ trying to get a reading. At last, I have a reading. Soon after, I have the receiver fine tuned as much as possible. Now, it's time to try it.

After making sure that it's set for long range scan, I hold it up and turn it on. At first, nothing. I start to turn. Then, suddenly, a ^{blip} ~~blimp~~. I move until ~~the blimp~~ ^{blip} I face the direction that the receiver shows the ~~blimp~~ ^{blip} to be in.

"Hello, Jason," I say. Then, almost ~~screeching~~ screaming, I shout, "DETECTIVE!". I move toward the house, keeping the receiver pointing in the direction of the ~~blip~~ blip. I'm not far from the house when the detective comes out.

"Detective, I have him, and he's not far away. I ~~was~~ estimate about 2 miles in that direction." I point in the ~~same~~ direction that the receiver is aimed.

About that time, the White family come out. *

"What's going on?" they ask.

"~~I~~ I've got something. Based on previous tests, I'd say it's Jason."

"Where?" ~~He~~ Mr. White ask.

"About 2 miles in that direction," pointing as I did for the detective.

"Let's go." Mr. White says.

All of us move toward the car when the detective says, "Mr. White, you can go, but, the rest of you (meaning Mrs. White and the ~~2~~ two boys) better stay here."

"Ok" they say, obviously ~~disap~~ disappointed.

"Mrs. White, I'm through with the clothes, if you'd like to take them back inside ~~and~~ and Thanks~~g~~."

"Thank you and Good luck," she says as she takes the clothes from me.

Then I turn and say, "I'd like to get in the back so I can move around. Detective, do you have an idea of where to go?"

"Yes, I do." he answers as we get in the car and start off.

"~~Good~~ Good. When we get in the area, I can pinpoint the building.

"OK," he answers.

Ch. 5 As we go, I try to keep ~~the up the~~ up with the blip.

Several minutes and several turns later, the detective says, "We are getting close to the area you indicated."

"I know, I've been following. Keep going straight ahead."

After we have gone about 2 blocks, ^{the} ~~the~~ receiver begins to beep wildly.

"Slow down."

The car slows down almost to a crawl. I've narrowed it down to the right side of the street. As we continue down the street, the receiver suddenly indicates that we have gone by it.

"Stop," I say. "And back up."

The detective stops the car and begins to back up. While he backs up, I move the receiver until the blip indicates straight ahead. When I look, I'm looking at an older house, not very well ~~kept~~ kept, with bushes all around.

"That old house, right there." I point to the one that we are coming up on. The detective moves the car to the curb in front of the house.

"If I'm right, Jason should be in that house."

"Ok. I'd better call for some backup," says the detective.

"Detective, could I make a suggestion?" I ask.

"What is that?"

"Have your men to ~~approach~~ approach ~~to~~ very quietly."

"Why?" ask Mr. White.

"Because the sudden accumulation of cars, ~~and~~ not to mention sirens, could make the men very nervous, and there's no telling what he would do to Jason. On second thought, I know what he would do. He would kill him."

"I'll have to agree with that," the detective says.

Then, he makes the call for backup, making sure the responding units understand to approach with care and quietly.

When the detective finishes his call, Mr. White says, "How do we know for sure if Jason is in there?"

"We don't know for sure. All I know is ~~according~~ my receiver says he's in there." I answer. After a bit of silence, I continue, "I have an idea, to find out.

Detective, do have a map or atlas?

"Yes, I have a state map. Why?

"Get it out, open it up, and the two of you ~~take~~ study it. Here's why, we're lost and I'm going to see if I can get directions." Detective, be ready for anything to happen." I say as I get out of the car.

As I walk toward the house, I look back to the car.
~~Mr. White~~

Mr White and the detective have a map out and appear to be looking at it when they ~~aren't~~ ~~but~~ watching me.

When I get to the front door, I can hear either a TV or a radio playing. I knock on the door. After a minute or so, a man opens the door. He is in his mid 40s and closely matches the description put out in the flyers.

"Ya, what do you want?" he ask in a rough voice.

"Sir, my friends and I are lost. ~~and~~ We made a ~~we~~ wrong turn somewhere and now, we can't even get back to the interstate. Could you help us get to the interstate? I ask, letting ~~me~~ all of the south in me come out.

"Ya, I guess so. Come in so I can close the door." he says after looking me over real close and the car with Mr. White and the detective in it.

"It's a good thing it's dark," I think as I walk in and he closes the door behind me. "He might have been able to recognize ~~the~~ the car in the daytime."

Once inside, I look around, but I don't see Jason.

"Sir, do you have pen and paper? It would be better if I could either write the directions down or draw a map." I said, feeling my shirt pocket for a pen that I knew I didn't have.

"Ya, but I'll have to go in the back bedroom to get it."

"Thank you. I sure do appreciate it."

As the man walk thru a door, I look around. A light on in another room draws my attention. I walk to the door way and look into see the kitchen, but that's not all that I see. JASON, sitting in a chair close to a table with his hands tied behind the chair and a piece of cloth stuffed in his mouth. I almost stumble over myself getting to him.

He looks up at me. Quietly, I say, "Jason White?" He ~~shakes~~ nods his head yes.

"~~Good~~ Good Gosh, I've got to think fast," I think. I listen for the man, who apparently is still looking for pen and paper.

~~I~~ "Listen, Jason, I'm going to try to help you get out of here, so don't say anything when I take the rag out of your mouth, Ok?"

He shakes his head yes. I continue to talk softly as I work at freeing him. First, I take the rag out, then for his hands.

"Jason, my name is Randy. Your dad and a detective is in a car directly in front of this house. Does he still have the gun?"

He shakes yes, again. The man has done a good job of ~~finishing~~ tying Jason's hands, so I get my knife out. ~~and~~ Soon, his hands are free. Then, I look and his feet are tied, ~~but~~ but not for long. I get up and he gets up.

"Are you alright?"

Again, he shakes yes. Both of us are listening for the man. He's still in the back.

"Let's go." I follow Jason into the front room, expecting the man to show up at any second. "Stay close to me. We may have to change direction ~~it's~~ real fast."

When we reach the front door, Jason opens it as gently as he can, but it still makes a noise.

"Hey, what's going on in there," the man shouts from the back.

"I'm just making sure my friends are still there," I answer, hoping he buys it. *I push Jason on out the door and I follow. ~~Good~~

Good thing, too, because, as I go out the door, I look back to see the man hurrying into the kitchen.

"Detective!" I scream. I look to see the detective already out of the car.

"Hang on, Jason." I say as I grab hold of him and pull him with me as I turn and move for the corner of the house.

At the same time (or maybe a second later), I hear a gun shot, coming from the house. It sounds like the bullet hits just about where Jason was. Immediately, ^{two more} ~~another~~ ^{are} shots ~~is~~ fired, this time, from the street.

When we reach the corner of the house, I stop to see what has happened, * and what to do next.

"Boy, that was close," I say. "You OK?"

He shakes his head yes.

I look to the street to see the detective hunched down behind his car. Obviously the man is still on the loose, which means Jason and I must find other shelter.

I look around to see what I can find. Close to the house next door and closest to us, there is a row of shrubbery ~~leading~~ leading out almost to the street, but I don't see a way to get on the other side of ~~the~~ it. Also, there are cars scattered up and down the street.

"Ok, Jason, we've got to move. When we do, we've got to move as quietly as possible. Ok?"

He nods "yes".

"Ok, here we go," I say ~~as~~ as I put one hand on his shoulder and use the other as a pointer to guide him. We move over to the shrubs and begin to follow them toward the street.

When we reach the end of the shrubbery, we start out ~~across~~ across a sidewalk toward a parked car across the street.

Suddenly, another gun shot is fired from the house, hitting very close by. The detective returns the fire.

"Yowh!"

We look up from behind the car (which is where we're at now). The man showing obvious signs of pain from the bullet he just received.

"Throw down your gun," the detective shouts.

After some hesitation, the man throws the gun onto the yard in front of the house.

Jason starts to get up to leave.

"Wait," I say as I grab hold of him. "Let the detective finish the job."

The detective moves from behind the car and walks, very cautiously, across the yard toward the gun, with his gun still aimed at the man.

When the detective reaches the gun, he picks it up and puts it in his coat pocket. Then, he walks over to the man, who is still meaning with ~~a~~ pain, and begins to advise him of his rights.

I let go of Jason. "Ok, you can go."

He moves around the end of the car and almost runs across the street toward the detective's car where Mr. White is getting out.

"Dad," Jason cries.

"Jason," Mr. White cries as they move into a tight, passionate embrace.

ch.6 As I ~~now~~ walk across the ~~st~~yard toward the detective, who has the man in hand cuffs, a police squad car pulls, followed by an ambulance. I decide I better stand back as two uniformed officers get out of the ~~squad~~ car and hurry across the yard to where the detective and the man are. They are followed by two ambulance attendants.

The detective talks to the officers while the ambulance attendants tend to the man.

I look to the street. Jason and Mr. White are standing next to the detective's car and they appear to be talking.

A few minutes later, the detective leaves the officers and walks over to me.

"Randy, that was a big risk you took there."

After ~~studying~~ studying a minute, I answer, "Yes sir, I guess it was. But, the opportunity ~~to~~ opened up to look for Jason and when I found him, I decided that I had to try to get him out."

"I'll need you to ~~come to the station~~ make a statement on what happened."

"I don't see any problem with that."

We walk across the yard to the car where Jason and Mr. White are waiting.

"Could you ~~come~~ call in and have someone call ^{my wife} ~~Mr. White~~ ask Mr. White. and tell her that we found Jason and he's fine?" ~~Just.~~

"Sure can," answers the detective. He opens the car door, ~~and~~ sits down, and starts talking on the radio.

"Mr. White and Jason walk over to me, ~~Randy~~

"Randy, I can't thank you enough for bringing Jason out of there safely," Mr. White says.

"You're very welcome, Mr. White. I'm glad I was able to help."

Once I'm there, I switch the receiver to close range. With the direction indicator, I'm able to follow my brother as he changes classes. Yes, it actually works!

Chapter 2

I head for home, feeling rather proud. After all, I just took a pair of clothes and found the person who had worn them with a machine.

I realize that I had turned the radio off while I was working with the receiver, so I turn it back on. When the song that is playing goes off, it's time for news. The lead story is about Jason White and the search for him. That gives me an idea: What if the receiver could be used to find him? But, my "invention" needs more testing and fine tuning. I let it pass.

The days pass. A month goes by, and they still haven't found him.

In the meantime, testing on my "invention" is going well. In fact, I've run out of test subjects. Then, I'm reminded of the idea of finding this Jason White with the receiver.

By now, they have a toll free number set up. I call it. When I get through to the task force, I ask, "Has Jason White been found yet?"

"No, he hasn't," the man answered.

"Could you use some help?"

"Yes, we can. What can you do?"

"I have a device that can find people. It's very experimental and may not work on something like this but, I would like to try."

"You believe your device will help find Jason?"

"Yes sir. I have conducted test on various friends and family and I've found everyone of them. Before I started each test, I had no idea where that person was going to be at during the test. I believe there is a reasonable chance of success. As I said, I would like to try."

"Ok. I think that I can authorize that."

"Thank you. There are some arrangements that need to be made."

"What kind of arrangements?"

"First, I'll need to come up there. Second, I'll need cooperation from the police and the family."

"I can arrange that. Anything else?"

"Yes, I'll need a shirt and a pair of pants that has been worn by Jason and no one else. The older, the better."

"Why do you need that?"

"Well, think of my device as a high tech electronic blood hound. I need the clothes so that I can get a scent."

"Ok. I'll see what I can do. Can I have your name, address, and phone number?"

The detective speaks up. "Ok, Mr. White, dispatch has called your wife and informed her of Jason's condition."

"Then, detective, if you can leave, I'd say Jason has been gone from home long enough. Can you take him home?" I ask.

"~~Yes~~ Yes, I think I can manage that."

I get my receiver from the back seat and sit down in the front. Jason and Mr. White sit down in the back.

When we get to the White's house, Jason and Mr. White get out. I get out, too.

"Jason, good luck and take care of yourself."

"Ok, and thanks."

"And thanks again from me, too," says Mr. White, holding out his hand. I return the shake.

"It was my pleasure, sir."

Then, the front door of the house opens and out comes Mrs. White, followed by James and Bill.

~~He~~ "Mom!" Jason cries and runs toward her.

"Jason," she ~~cries~~ cries and hurries to meet him, ~~with~~

I watch the reunion as I get back in the car.

"You know, I can't help but feel good," I say.

"Yes, I know." answers the detective as we pull away.

"Thanks for letting me try my ~~guy~~ device."

"It was worth it to have a chance at finding Jason."

When we get to the station, I fill out all the paperwork that I'm supposed to.

When I'm through and I'm ready to go, the detective says,
"Thanks for your help."

"I'm glad I was able to help."

As I head home, I can't help but exclaim, "Ooo, I feel GOOD!"

Preface

We know so little about the organ between our ears. So consider this: the brain is a transmitter. It is generally known that the brain wave is unique to each individual. Let's assume that the brain transmits this wave, and the clothes that we wear absorb a certain amount of these waves and retains them.

Now, we need a receiver that can receive these transmissions. This receiver, tied into a computer and with the aid of satellite tracking, could be used in locating missing persons and escaped convicts.

The following story is an example. The names of the persons in the actual case have been changed.

Chapter 1

I was going home when I heard the news: 11 year old Jason White was abducted last night in St. Cloud, Mn. His brother and a friend was with him when a man with a gun appeared and made Jason go with him. There has been no word of ransom and sexual intentions are suspected.

"Some nut got him another innocent kid," I thought.
"I hope the boy doesn't get hurt very bad."

When I get home, I fix a bite to eat. Then, I go to my workshop. I've got a unique project going.

With the aid of a computer, I have discovered that the brain transmits its wave on an extreme low band frequency, And, most of the clothes we wear absorb and retains a certain amount of these wave transmissions.

After finding the right frequency range, I set out to adapt a directional receiver to pick up the transmissions.

The idea of the way all this would work is this: first, obtain 2 or 3 pieces of clothing that the subject has often worn or worn for a long time, (such as a favorite shirt and a pair of pants). This would give a specific frequency and pattern to look for. Then, with the directional receiver set for that frequency, the search for the person who wore the clothes could begin.

Now, I'm ready to try it. I get one of my little brother's shirts and a pair of his pants. (Hang on. I'll explain how siblings can be different, except for twins.) With the receiver, I search for his frequency and pattern. Once I've found it (the frequency and pattern) and set the receiver, I follow the direction indicator. It leads me right to my brother's school.

"Yes," I give the man the information he ask for.

"Ok. I've got it. When do you plan on being here?"

"I estimate about 2 1/2 days to get there. I'll leave first thing in the morning. When I get there, I go to the St. Cloud police department, right?"

"Right."

"Who do I ask for?"

"Detective Mark Richards."

"Thank you very much. I'll see you then."

It was set. I would be able to test my receiver and, with a little luck, find Jason White.

Chapter 3

The earliest I remember is my Grandmother Newberry. She was a finicky old lady. I still don't understand everything, it was her way of doing things. I remember my cousin Mike. I remember we were at a church function that had something to do with a movie. Mother was serving refreshments and Mike was watching after me. He took me by the table where Mom was and she gave me something to eat. Then, we sit down. I sit in his lap. I guess I went to sleep after the movie started. Mike was my friend. Mom says I was four at this time. I remember kindergarden. It was ok. Problems started when I was in first grade. I hated school. I don't know why. I just did. As time went by, that ~~didn't~~ didn't change.

Grandmother Newberry died when I was seven.

Forward

This story is part fact - part fiction. Some parts of it, I wish had have happened. Other parts, I wish hadn't have happened.

If you don't get anything else from the story, understand this: the older brother realizes his mistake and suffers because of it. He doesn't want his younger brother to fall into the same trap. He doesn't want anyone to go through what he went through, and what he still goes through. My prayers and best wishes to our future:

The Children

Thank you,

"Brother Beware"

"Hi, I'm Randy," he said as he shook the hand of the 11 year old boy in front of him.

Randy's mom and dad had decided to adopt another boy. Randy didn't care. In fact, he was all for it. After 25 years of being the only one, he would have a brother to share with.

"I'm Adam," said the boy. "I guess you'll be my big brother?"

"Yea, I guess I will," Randy said with a grin. "Is that all right with you?"

Big brother. That might take a little getting use to, thought Randy.

"Yea, sure. I was just wondering where you fit in."

"I figure you'll have a lot of questions. I hope you won't be afraid to ask me."

"Ok," said Adam.

"Why don't the two of you go to work loading Adam's things while we finish the paperwork," Mom says.

"Ok," answers Randy. "Lead the way, Adam."

Randy and Adam go down the hall leading to the dorms as their mom and dad goes into an office.

Soon the brothers have all of Adam's things loaded in the car. They report to the office to find the paperwork almost completed.

When the paperwork was is completed, good-byes are exchanged between Adam and the staff. Then, wishes of good luck are extended to all of them as a family.

On the way to the car, Dad puts his arm around Adam and says, "Welcome to the family, son."

Then Mom takes her turn. She hugs Adam tight and says, "I love you, Adam." She holds him for a minute then lets him go.

Then Adam turns to Randy, who is waiting his turn. "Adam, as soon as we have some time, I have some things to tell you. When I get through, I hope there won't be any doubt in just how much you mean to me. But for now, know this: you are MY brother and you're pretty special to me." He puts his hand on Adam's shoulder and gives it a rub.

Then, they get in the car and as they drive away, Adam turns to look one last time at the orphanage as he rides away with his new family.

After a meal at a near-by restaurant, they start home. After a short time, Adam leans forward, puts one hand on his dad's shoulder and the other hand on his mom's shoulder and says, "Thanks for picking me. I'm really glad to be part of this family."

"Thank you. We're glad to have you. We feel like we have made a good choice," says Mom. Both Mom and Dad put their hands on his. Randy puts his hand on Adam's back to show his agreement with their parents.

Not long before they get home, Randy looks at Adam and thinks to himself, Wow, I still can hardly believe it. After all these years, I have a brother.

Some might think that I would resent Mom and Dad bringing in another kid after all these years of being alone. But, I look at Adam and then I look inside, and all that I find is a desire to see him healthy and happy.

When they get home, they show Adam through the house to what will now be his and Randy's room.

"Randy, why don't you and Adam get his things in from the car and help him get settled in."

"Ok," answers Randy as he and Adam start for the door.

Soon they have Adam's things in and Randy is showing around the room as he helps in putting Adam's things away. After getting better acquainted, Randy steps back and watches Adam. He appears nervous and unsure of himself. Randy decides that it is time that Adam knew how he felt.

"Adam, it's nice outside. Why don't we take a break, go outside and sit down for a while."

Adam agrees and follows Randy out to the front porch where Randy sits down and motions Adam to sit down next to him.

Randy takes a deep breath and begins.

"Adam, I couldn't help notice that you looked nervous and doubtful. Are you having second thoughts?"

Adam shakes his head, "No."

"Good, because I have something to tell you that just might help. For as long as I can remember, I've wanted a brother. That's a long time for me to know what I want and not be able to get it. But now, I've got a brother. Adam, I've got you for a brother and I couldn't be happier."

"This is the first and most important thing that you need to know: you are MY brother and I love you. Don't you ever doubt it or forget it."

Randy puts an arm around Adam and pulls them together and continues.

"I don't think it would be an understatement if I said that you were nothing short of a dream come true."

"I know that, right now, all that what I've said is just words but, I hope I can prove to you that I mean what I say, Ok?"

Adam smiles, nods 'yes', and puts his arm around Randy.

After a few minutes, Randy says, "I guess we better finish putting your things away before we both get in trouble."

The two of them get up and go back to work. Randy notices that Adam seems a little more at ease than he did before.

Later on in the evening, after making Adam acquainted with (or at least as much as possible) his new home and his new family, it's time to go to bed. As they get ready, Randy says, "Adam, I would like to add to what I said this afternoon."

"Ok."

"Adam, I hope that you trust me enough that if you have any question, any problem, or whatever, you will ask me. I don't care how silly, how odd, or how strange it may seem. If it concerns you, I want to know about it. Do you understand?"

"Yes," he answers.

Randy gives Adam a pat on the shoulder and it's off to bed.

Over the next two days, Adam is shown around town and the area. Randy sees that he and Adam spend as much time together as possible.

In the afternoon of the second day, Adam seems to be fitting in pretty well. He and Randy are acting more and more like real brothers. One thing that might help is Randy is always there with an encouraging word and usually a pat on the back.

That evening, the two of them are sitting on the front porch alone.

"Well Adam, what do you think so far?"

"I think all of you have done your best to make me feel welcome. I appreciate it."

"It's our pleasure, especially mine. I've really enjoyed the time we've spent together these last few days."

"Adam, there's something and someone that you need to know about. It's difficult for me to talk about but, I think the best way for you to learn just how dangerous this person can be is for me to tell you what happen to me."

"Adam, we have a cousin that lives in town named Trent, He's less than a year older than me."

"Brother Beware"

"Brother Beware"

"Adam, I know I would never do anything like that to you. I don't (4) want to. I guess you're wondering why I've told you all of this.

"Kind of, yea," Adam answered.

"There is a reason for telling you each part of the story. The reason I told you the second part is so you would know that I've been

"The reason why I told you the first part is the most important:
which is to warn you about

"And, I figure he still plays the same games. Only, it would be much worse for you do to the AIDS epidemic.

"Adam, please, for me, thing is to tell. Ok?"

The most important

"Ok," Adam answers.

"We're not a bad family.

"I know I'm not living with a bad family," says Adam.

"Thank you."

"I know it must have been hard for you to tell me what you did. I think I understand why. Thanks."

Adam and Randy shake hands. Then, Randy puts a hand on Adam's shoulder.

"Adam, I don't know if I could forgive myself

It wouldn't be right of me not to tell you about him and besides, I care too much about you not to tell," says Randy.

The next day, Randy gets called back to work. He must go out of town.

When all of Randy's things are loaded in his car, the 'until you come back's are exchanged between him and his parents. Then, he and Adam go out to his car.

"Adam, you have my phone number, don't you?"

"Yes."

"Remember what I told you. If you need me or if you just want to talk, call me. Anytime, day or night. I want to hear from you. Promise me that you will, Ok?"

"I promise. I will."

"Good. I'll hold you to it."

Then, Randy pulls Adam to him in a hug and holds him there.

"Adam, you're my brother and one of my very best friends. Those two reasons are all that I need to say what I feel: I love you, Adam."

Returning the hug, Adam says, "I love you too, Randy, or should I say 'big brother'."

"Thank you, Adam. That really means a lot," Randy says with a tear in his eye. He had waited 18 years to hear that.

THE END

Details: Referenced EC from Minneapolis to Dallas set forth leads at both Dallas and McKinney, Texas to contact Detective Jerry Klahr of the Collin County Sheriff's Office to obtain a description of Newberry and employment history for Newberry. An additional lead was set forth to attempt to locate a "BT" or "BT Refer Division" trucking company.

Special Agent (SA) Watson and Lieutenant (Lt.) Jerry Klahr of the Collin County Sheriff's Office have been in contact on a regular and on-going basis since the arrest of Rodney Joe

To: Minneapolis From: Dallas
Re: 7A-MP-29808, 11/12/1998

Newberry. According to Lt. Klahr, the disorderly conduct charges against subject Newberry are still pending as are state possession of child pornography charges. Lt. Klahr does not have an employment history for Newberry for the period of 10/1989 through the present.

Additionally, SA Watson contacted a cooperating source in the trucking industry in an attempt to identify "BT Trucking" or "BT Refer Division." SA Watson and the source consulted a listing put out by the Interstate Commerce Commission and were unable to locate either entity in Amarillo, McKinney, or Dallas, Texas.

For the information of Minneapolis and Baltimore, computer specialists from the Dallas Division advised they are approximately two thirds of the way through Newberry's hard drive from the laptop recovered at the time of his arrest. The computer specialists advised that the hard drive contains numerous images of what appear to be prepubescent and minor children engaging in acts of a sexually explicit nature.

Based upon the information furnished by the computer specialists, it is believed that there is sufficient evidence to charge Newberry in Federal Court with possession, receipt, and transmission of child pornography.

Dallas at Plano will continue to keep Minneapolis and Baltimore apprised of developments in captioned investigation.

TIME: 1200 hours

At about 1200 hours, 10-30-98, I was transporting James Phillip Nord, DOB/101675, from the Benton County Courthouse back to the MN Corrections Facility-Lino Lakes. While we were driving, Nord said to me that he knows what happened to Jacob Wetterling. It should be noted that we were talking during the transport about other things and I built somewhat of a good rapport with Nord. After Nord said that he knows what happened to Jacob Wetterling, I asked him what he meant by that. Nord said that there is a fellow inmate at Lino Lakes, named Richard Barnes (sp?), that is always bragging that he was involved in the Wetterling abduction. Nord said that Barnes told him that his brother (unk name) abducted Jacob Wetterling. Nord said that Richard Barnes told him this information back in April 1998 at MCF-Lino Lakes. Nord also said that all the other inmates are always asking Barnes where Jacob Wetterling is because they think he was involved in the abduction. Nord said that Barnes is in prison because he molested about five different children in about a five year period. I asked Nord if he or any other inmates have reported this information to the prison staff or to law enforcement and he said he didn't think so. Although, he did say that he believed that investigators from St. Paul Police Department came and talked with Richard Barnes about this information. He said that when they talked with Richard Barnes, he (Barnes) would not give them any information and would say that the information they heard was false. I then asked Nord if he thinks that Richard Barnes and his brother were truly involved in the Jacob Wetterling abduction.

Nord said, yes, that he believes Richard Barnes and his brother were involved in the Jacob Wetterling abduction. He said that he thinks they sexually molested Jacob Wetterling and then killed him. This was the end of our conversation about the Wetterling abduction.

At about 1600 hours, 10-30-98, I called the Stearns County Sheriff's Department and spoke with Detective John Sanner. I gave Detective Sanner the information that I obtained from Nord during the transport. Detective Sanner requested that I fax a copy of my report to Detective Dave Nohner when it is complete.

At 1040 hours, 11-01-98, I faxed a copy of my report to the Stearns County Sheriff's Department, attention Detective Dave Nohner.

Dear Mrs. Wetterling,

I read your in the paper today about Jacob being missing now nine years now, and still no word of his whereabouts. I can understand your grief that you have went through these nine years, as I have children and grand children of my own and can't imagine losing one of them.

Something has been on my mind for nine years now, and I don't know how Important this is to you, but maybe there is something in this that will help. I have a cabin, in a remote part of Mille Lacs county, that borders Morrison county also. A few days after Jacob disappeared, while I was up at my cabin getting ready for deer hunting, I came across two guys that were stuck in the ditch in this remote part of this land. I questioned them as to what they were doing in there as they said they didn't know anyone in this area of remote land. They had been drinking, and said they got lost. The smaller of the two guys was real nervous, when I asked them if they were from around here. They said they lived not too far away, but didn't say where. Before they showed up at their stuck vehicle, I went through the glove compartment and found a couple dozen letters from a parole officer, scheduling appointments for this individual. I don't remember the name on the papers, but it listed his address as St. Cloud. The owner of the car was small built about 21 to 25 and the other guy was about middle twenties and stocky built. The bigger guy wore a "Polaris" coat.

After they left that day I was walking around in the brush and timber, and I came across a place that looked like someone had been living in the brush. camp fire and misc. food wrappers, and food discarded around. This was within 100 yards from where they were stuck in the ditch. The area that I have my cabin, nobody lives here permanent, but come up a few times a year to hunt or check on there places as I do. The area that I am referring to is about 15 miles northwest of Milaca. It is 5 miles east of Gutvalds Store if anyone knows the area.

Again, I don't know if this is anything that could help. I thought that the owner of the car was on parole, and being from the St. Cloud area, that maybe somehow they could have been involved in this somehow.

Yours truly,
Stan Lee

To Whom It May Concern:

Patty Wetterlings recent letter has prompted me to share a small piece of information that may be of some assistance in your search for Jacob's abductor.

In the summer of 1989 I was returning from a trip up north when I stopped at the wayside rest on 94 just south of Rogers. While I was there a car parked next to mine that caught my attention because it was so old. Then I noticed that it was driven by an old man and his passenger was a young boy that sat in the back seat. I watched the two of them because the sight was so unusual. They didn't speak as the man got out of the car and I found that to be strange. The boy stayed in the car and stared out the front window without moving. I was going to ask the man why his grandson didn't get out and stretch but when I looked at him he gave me such an intimidating stare that I got in my car and left without a word.

I do remember that the car was beige or tan. I don't recall the make but it looked to me like one of the old Checker cab cars. It was a 4 door and it was in good condition. The boy looked to be about 11 or 12. The man was probably in his late 50's or early 60's. He was balding, over 6' tall and of a big build. His most memorable feature was his intense stare. I was so disturbed by the scene that I remember jotting down the license number on a slip of paper to pass on the info if the opportunity arose but I never did and the number was probably thrown away when I got home. I do remember though that it was a Minnesota plate. I can't remember the exact date of the incident but it was sometime in the summer of 1989.

I hope this information can be of some use. Please call me if I can be of further assistance.

Sincerely,

Leslie R. Mallery

10/31/98

Kelly McDonald reported to me at 4pm in private that she had some information about the Jacob Whetzeling case and just can't keep quiet anymore. Patti McPhail was and I met with Kelly. Kelly reported a friend of hers Jennifer Benton has called her when she was in Hazelton in 1993, and told Kelly she had information about Jacob's case. Jennifer was on the run with her husband Bob, both wanted by the police due to crimes and drug use. Kelly didn't believe Jennifer as Jennifer was mentally ill. Jennifer called again when Kelly was in New Brighton at the women's program May 1998. Jennifer reported ^{to Kelly} that they were living at a home in St. Joseph that the people there had tried to poison Bob and kidnap Jennifer's child (2 yrs old). Jennifer felt she was at the kidnappers house, and had seen them take off clothes and wash them and wash his body. Jennifer felt they had something to do with the kidnapping of Jacob W. Kelly states she didn't know how to take Jennifer and Bob, they both were involved in crime.

Jennifer + Bob wanted by the police called Kelly from out of state. Bob holding Jennifer against her will, took the own money. Jennifer sent to Willmar Tx Center one month ago. Kelly states Jennifer had seen a picture on TV that was a sketch of the kidnapper + Jennifer believed that is the kidnapper that lived in the house (earlier had lived in the trailer that burned in St. Joseph). Kelly felt they burned the trailer down due to evidence. Jennifer told Kelly she went to the authorities in the US 5 times and nothing was done.

Kelly thought the father was on the sketch and lived with his son in the trailer.

Other pertinent information: Kelly states she worked for crime stoppers in production and had met Patti Wheterling. Pat is Kelly's boyfriend who is in prison, and Bob is his brother. Kelly states "I'm trusted within the group but I was hooked with the wrong people.
Jennifer & Bob's address 2121 South fairy Street, Anoka, mn 12-712-0631. Kelly was crying during the interview, remorseful, regretful for not reporting earlier.

Present during this interview at the Cloquet Community Memorial Hospital, Liberalis Unit are Officer Darrin Berg, Officer Steve Fiske, Hope Anderson, Liberalis Employee and Kelly McDonald. The date is 103198 and the time is 2145 hours.

DB Could you state your name and date of birth?

KM KELLY SUE MCDONALD, FEBRUARY 9, 1963.

DB Okay, Kelly where are you from?

KM I'm from Anoka.

DB Anoka, what's your address down there?

KM Well I'm actually in Andover right now. That's where I moved to. It's 14411 Round Lake Boulevard, it's two words.

DB Okay. Okay, ah..Hope has informed us that you have some information on a Sterns County incident involving JACOB WETTERLING, is this true?

KM Um, I heard something from somebody, yes.

DB Okay, um, why don't..are you on any medication right now or anything to that effect?

KM Ya.

DB Okay, anything..

KM That would make me ah..

DB Ya.

KM No. No.

DB Okay.

KM No, I'm of sound mind.

DB Okay, why don't you go ahead and just explain why..is this something that you feel..is this just something you found out recently or have you known about this for awhile or..

KM I've known about it, unfortunately and I didn't come forward. Um, I've known about it for about seven months..

DB Okay.

KM ..that this individual could possibly been in contact, sat at the same table with the person that did it or it was his father that did it, and was highly involved or was the one that did it. I was contacted at Hazelden in Center City, I was in treatment there in long term when JENNIFER, this gal with the information..

DB What's..what's her name?

KM JENNIFER BENTON.

DB Jennifer Benton?

KM Ya, B-F-N-T-O-N.

DB Okay. And what did she..she contacted you?

KM She contacted me up there and she was in with a bad crowd, and anyway she called me, you know reaching out and she wanted to get back into treatment up there where..ya, I've known her since '92 from one other treatment and she called me and was confiding in me and she says you know "I'm in deep, I'm in deep and I've got some information, bla, bla, bla" and she said something to do with the Jacob Wetterling case and I know Jennifer can go off and on medication and ahm, I thought whatever, I got to concentrate on my program and I didn't put a whole lot of thought into it. I got out and um, I moved into New Brighton into a woman's program. She called me there and she was upset and again she told me she had information on the Jacob Wetterling case. To make a long story short there was one other call that came in after that..she called me like in May in New Brighton and she called me like the following month.

DB Of what year was this, do you remember?

KM This year.

DB Oh this year, okay '98?

KM Ah, yes, uhuh. And um, she, trying to remember what I told Hope, I just I have ADHD and I get memory screw up sometimes but I know what I'm talking about, I know what she said.

DB Okay.

KM Um, she had told me that ahm, she was at these people's house in St. Joseph and they were there to buy drugs and they had been there before, her and her husband..

DB Okay, she..this is Jennifer and her husband were at this..

KM BOB, ya.

DB Do you remember his name by any chance?

KM Bob. Oh, that's Jennifer's husband..

DB What's his name?

KM Bob.

DB That's all you know?

KM BOB BENTON.

DB Oh, Bob Benton..okay.

KM Oh ya, he's very well known by the law.

DB Okay, where is he from?

KM Ah, he's from Andover.

DB Minnesota?

KM Ya.

DB Okay.

KM And um, anyways, and she had spoke ah, keep this straight now, she had spoke of..she says "Kelly I know..I got information, I was at this guys house and his girlfriend told me, um, something about the guy was involved with the Jacob Wetterling abduction" ..and..

DB Okay, what..what guy?

KM This guy's house that she was at. She didn't name him. She did not name him to me.

DB Okay.

KM She did not give any names and um, they were there to buy drugs..she spoke of ah, one time they were there and her husband, Bob, who I've known him for a few years and he doesn't drink much alcohol, he does a lot of drugs, and um, he..they were gonna have a drink and he took a few drinks and all of a sudden went into convulsions and like a grand mal seizure on the floor and Jennifer went to go throw him in the tub, she didn't know what to do and this was at this guys house..

DB Okay.

KM ..and um, and anyway, and at..they had little he's two years old, that's there son, and all of a sudden the lady and the guy started talking and taking his clothes off and they said they were gonna wash his clothes. Well Bob is having convulsions you know and reacting to his drink. They put something in his drink. Jennifer hadn't drank her drink yet, and um, so she told me, she said "They tried to get us out of the house that night, they were gonna try and keep

DB Who is

KM Their two year old child.

DB Okay.

KM Okay, and she spoke of a black van that was there and ah, what I remember was she also spoke of ah..I mean she was going really fast and I'm like should I believe in her or shouldn't I but..as time went on um, especially when she made the third call and she said "Kelly you know" I think she'd witnessed a murder um, out in another state, tells me she's been through a lot in the last year but she knew what she was talking about and she said that this trailer had been burned down, this guy's trailer had been burned down, and he like bought another one and put it on the same property so I mean that would be something that you know, St. Joseph would know about. Um, she spoke of..the guy was just really, really weird but she said that after they got away from him, I think it was after the poisoning that night, that ah, Bob was sick for several days from whatever was put in his drink and ah, Jennifer said that it dawned on her that the composite that was put out that had to do with the Jacob Wetterling case, who ever abduc..abducted him fir, it was either him or his father.

DB And his father was there that night?

KM I..I don't recall..

DB Okay.

KM You know it's kind of scattered but I do remember that this is what she told me, but she said the composite fits, it was either him or his father and um, oh, what else did she tell me, um, I just remember her telling me he was just..he was just really, really weird and they, what else was it, um, but it was the girlfriend like took her into..took Jennifer into her confidence, she was the gal that was at the house, the possible abductor. Um, took Jennifer into her confidence one night and spilled the beans and told Jennifer this stuff and that's how Jennifer knew, so it was the gal that was in the house that told Jennifer then Jennifer was relaying this to me and like I said at a time in my life where I'm fighting to keep my life together and ah..so.

DB So basically what we've got here is your friend Jennifer Benton and her husband Bob Benton were in St. Joseph and they went to a house, a trailer house or a house, you don't know..okay they went to a residence..

KM Yup..

DB ..and to purchase drugs evidently..okay, and he had a drink possibly laced with something, went into convulsions or whatever, ah, they..this couple had a young child there..

KM Bob and Jennifer did, yes, their two year old son.

DB Okay was it..okay, this..these people that they went..the house that they were at, these two unknown people tried to take his clothes off or did take his clothes?

KM Were trying to take his clothes and were gonna wash them and Jennifer, after tending to her husband saw what was going on with and grabbed and just said "Leave my kid alone" because they were acting so weird about

STATEMENT OF KELLY MCDONALD/PAGE 6

- DB And was it..and then she noticed, okay, evidently this..this guy's father was at the residence too?
- KM I don't recall. It was something to do with..the guy or the father that resembled..that was you know looked just like the composite.
- DB Okay. But then Jennifer was told by this girl who lives at that residence that either her husband or boyfriend may have done this.
- KM Ya. Ya..yes. And I had no reason to doubt Jennifer, especially the third call that she gave me. I just wish I would have..in fact I have wrote Patti Wetterling's number down because I called directory assistance cause I had worked with her one time when I was production assistant at Segar(sp) Productions for Crime Stopper's television program, this is just back in February and she came did a promo for us. I didn't know that information at the time, but I had this information I was taking notes as Jennifer was telling me because I knew she wasn't gonna stay nothing but then I moved from New Brighton into Andover..
- DB And this is the first time you've reported it?
- KM Ya, I couldn't..I opened up the paper today and there was another article about him and I just said "That's that", that's when I went to Hope.
- DB Okay, okay. Um, I guess what I'm trying to figure out is this..the..she she noticed the composite, right?
- KM Everybody's seen it.
- DB Okay, ya, she noticed the composite. This girl told Jennifer that either her boyfriend, husband or father, whatever, was involved..
- KM Umhum.
- DB ..and the reason that she then..she took notice of the composite and then she noticed that it did match kind of the people that were in the residence that night.
- KM She knew she was right smack in the middle of it, ya.
- DB Do you know anything..is Jennifer a good friend of your?
- KM She used to be and I cut the connections off because their life style, okay, now I go with her um, husband's brother who are two total different people and nothing alike.

DB That..that's your boyfriend now?

KM Ya.

DB Okay, so where does Jennifer and Bob live right now?

KM They live at 2121 South Fairy Street.

DB Fairview?

KM Fairy.

DB Okay.

KM Street..and that's Anoka.

DB Okay.

KM The last I heard about Jennifer, she was in Willmar in treatment a month and a half ago.

DB Okay, have they stayed in the same place generally?

KM Yup, they been wheeling and dealing out of that area.

DB Okay.

KM They live in #2.

DB Okay, so this is the city of Anoka?

KM Ya.

DB Okay, so it's Anoka, police would probably be familiar with them maybe?

KM That's another thing I was telling Hope, that Jennifer told me on the phone that she has gone to the police department five time or made five calls trying to report what she knew and the investigator kept putting her off.

DB Okay, well let me ask you this..is Jennifer..is she being treated for any kind of mental illness?

- KM Umhum (no). I know we can't..that's exactly..that's one of the reasons why I kinda sat back on it and it's like Jennifer is of sound mind but yet she gets going on drugs and..but still for her to have come up with that story when she knew that I was going to run with it eventually. I didn't because I didn't know what kind of kettle of worms it would open up in my life when I'm..was desperate and I'm fighting to keep my life together last six months since I been out of treatment and here I am, but I..I just kind of pushed it out and now it's..as a human being I can't no longer..
- DB What is..I guess I'm not trying to make Jennifer look like some kind of crazed lunatic, you know I'm just trying to get a grasp on her state of mind as far as..you know obviously she's a drug user?
- KM Ya.
- DB Okay, and..
- KM A bad crowd, she's not stable, she's not balanced.
- DB Okay.
- KM I know that.
- DB And ah, I guess I'm just trying to figure out if ..what kind of person she is as far as her..if she says something. You know I'm not saying that what she saw isn't the truth or whatever, you know I'm just trying to get a grasp on what kind of person we're dealing with, you know, and what her mental state is or was at the time she was talking to you..
- KM She was upset. She was upset all three times. One time, ya, she called me from out of state and they were in hiding. Hiding cuz somebody wanted to kill her husband again, I don't know, and um, he's a real..a..real bum..and um she called me from a cellular phone and said he stranded her there and she was all upset and this is when she kinda told me that ah, I think she witnessed a murder. I don't know. You know, I don't know how much of this is true, but it's just been haunting me..
- DB You're just reporting..I understand..I understand. Right and that's why we're here. We're not..we're you know just getting everything that we can you know, I'm not..I'm not saying that none of it's true or false or..
- KM Exactly, I know..I know.
- DB I understand you're just reporting what somebody had told you which is a good..you know, that's wonderful.

KM Ya, and I'm scattered about it myself. You know it's been awhile and like I said my memory's not good, but she was adamant.

DB Kelly, um, I'm doing this..I'm just gonna get your thoughts on it, I'm gonna make an ICR on it and send it, you know up to the detectives so, you know if they feel it's something that they want to continue to investigate then, would you be willing to talk to some detectives about this?

KM Sure, ya, I..I..yes, a mother of all things I have to do what I can do to help. And um, as far as u, Jen, like I said I don't know..she was in treatment, I mean I got her phone number, home phone number, I called not long ago, why I think just to see if they were still living there and I've got her mother's address and her phone number and she'd be willing to talk to somebody about where Jennifer is, but Jennifer is wanting to talk to somebody, she want's to get it out, but yet she's gotta kinda do it behind her husband's back because he's a little punk that can't have cops around.

DB Umhum, right.

KM But she wants to deal with it. It's eating..she's a good Christian girl when she's not on the drugs.

DB Okay, and when you're not here you live down in Andover?

KM Andover, ya. I live there on the farm by myself.

DB Okay, well that's all I need from you right now, okay. I really appreciate what you did. This concludes the taped statement. The time now is about 2200.

DEAR GOOD SHERIFF;

SORRY TO BOTHER YOU WITH THIS LETTER.
YOU MOST LIKELY HAVE CHECKED THIS OUT THOROUGHLY ALREADY.

THE ABDUCTION OF JACOB WETTERLING SEEMS MIGHTY FISHY TO ME. I BELIEVE THE STORY TOLD OF HOW EVERYTHING TOOK PLACE DURING THE ABDUCTION IS FALSE, FOR THESE REASONS:

1. I DON'T BELIEVE AN ABDUCTOR WOULD EVEN ATTEMPT SUCH AN ABDUCTION WITH WITNESSES AT THE ~~SCENE~~^{SCENE}. AND IN BROAD DAYLIGHT ALSO.
2. IS THERE ANY RECORDS OF THIS TYPE OF ABDUCTION ON FILE ANYWHERE?
3. THIS IS A MALE OF A FAIRLY GOOD AGE WHO WAS ABDUCTED. HOW MANY OF THIS TYPE OF ABDUCTION IS ON FILE ANYWHERE?

WHAT I BELIEVE HAPPENED.

SOME TYPE OF ACCIDENT HAPPENED TO JACOB.
AND THE OTHER CHILDREN, FOR SOME REASON,

FELT RESPONSIBLE FOR THE ACCIDENT. MAYBE THEIR PARENTS HAD BEEN OVERLY STRICK ABOUT THEM ALWAYS DOING NOTHING WRONG. SO THEY GOT EXCITED AND OVERACTED. THEY HID
JACOB'S BODY AND MADE UP A STORY TOGETHER AND SWORE TO EACH OTHER TO NEVER EVER TELL ANYONE WHAT HAPPENED, NO MATTER WHAT.

NOW THAT THE OTHER CHILDREN ARE OLDER, WHO KNOW WHAT HAPPENED, I BELIEVE
IF A SYMPATHETIC PERSON WOULD TALK TO EACH ONE IN PRIVATE AND LET THEM KNOW THAT IF ANYTHING HAPPENED ACCIDENTALLY TO JACOB, THEY WERE VERY YOUNG AT THE TIME AND THAT THEY WOULDN'T BE HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR WHAT HAPPENED. LET THEM KNOW HOW JACOB'S MOTHER IS SUFFERING AND WILL SUFFER UNTIL SHE IS ON HER DEATHBED IF SHE DOESN'T FIND OUT WHAT HAPPENED TO JACOB.

PLEASE DO YOUR BEST
I KNOW YOU ALWAYS DO.

MORE POWER TO YOU!

ST, Cloud Police Dept

It has been awhile but I can't get the picture out of my mind that maybe
I did see Jacob Wetterling.

The first time was when my husband & I were getting gas 1 1/2 years ago at the SA in Heron. The car was parked cross ways, kind of in front of us & a ~~boy~~ came out & got in the back & left the door open.
I looked as it was freezing cold out.
I wondered why the door was left open. He had nothing on his feet.
He just looked & smiled & shut the door as a man came out & got in & drove off. I reported this to the Sheriff after several weeks, as I didn't see Jacobs picture till later in the post office. The car was an old 5015 brown (bronze ford). The Sheriff said anyone would have one of these.

p. richter

pleas he said I'm sure he is long gone ~~day~~ now.
I can give you a description of the man if you want. If someone can draw better than I, I can give you a very good description.

I cannot believe what happened next; I was in Fargo, N. Dak. June 2nd mess ago. I was waiting to board the airline to go to Denver for training when the same boy man walked by. The man went to a phone & the boy stood about 2/3 ft from him. I did stare! The boy was taller some but it was him & I thought I would see where they sat on the plane, but they called different boarding instructions due to the wind. I boarded ^{one of the} last ones, I wouldn't see him & didn't see him get off.

(3)

I don't know if he even was on the plane?
I don't know if this is of any help at all, I should've said something sooner, but I still can't believe it was Jacob, but something tells me it might be. I don't know.
If you need to contact me, you can call me in the evening or at work.

I have excellent emotional recall of events and can recall

Ex-Minneapolis coach accused of seeking teen boys for sex

A former Edison High School baseball coach and gym teacher has been arrested for allegedly soliciting sex from teenage boys in El Cajon, Calif.

Randy A. Ferrara, 44, who once faced similar charges in the Twin Cities, was booked Dec. 4 on three counts of attempted lewd and lascivious acts with children. He allegedly left notes at strategic spots along sidewalks offering boys money for sex, then approached boys who picked them up.

El Cajon police detective Tim Henton said by telephone Wednesday that he has received about 20 calls from people, mostly teenage boys, who found notes allegedly left by Ferrara. Henton said he will discuss possible charges with a San Diego County prosecutor next week. Ferrara was released from the county jail after posting bail.

He has been working in the San Diego area since 1991 as a high school gym teacher. He also is the school's head football coach. He has been reassigned to a job without student contact pending the outcome of the case, according to the San Diego Union Tribune.

In 1988, Ferrara was charged with soliciting oral sex from a Minneapolis police prostitute decoy. The charges were dismissed after a year in which he had no similar offenses, said Lee Wolf, an assistant city attorney. Ferrara was acquitted in August 1987 of paying a 14-year-old boy for sex in St. Paul.

Dear Mrs. Wetterling;

For 9 years I have often thought about you. Right after your Jacob disappeared my grandson Tommy ran away from home. He left with a friend. It is a terrifying experience! He was gone for several days - maybe as long as a week. My memory isn't very good - at the same time I was taking care of my husband who had cancer. He had been sick for many years and maybe it is good I don't remember. One day I picked Tommy's younger brother up at the middle school in Lindstrom and John was excited -

"Grandma, the story is all over the school. Jacob is being held in our County."
Somehow my son Tom found out Tommy might be at a farm south of Lindstrom -

He went there and there found kids all over the place. No sign of Tommy but he talked to somebody at the sheriff's office and they went out there and brought Tommy home. The sheriff's deputy told Tommy when he left him
"We'll see you again. In a couple of years we'll be taking you to St Cloud." Tommy was 15 years old then. He did get into trouble twice -- and kids involved told me and his dad that he had just been along for the ride and told us who was responsible for the trouble. He spent time in the local jail because of it.

The farm where Tommy was is south of Lindstrom. It was owned by the Ott family. We often wondered about why there were so many kids there. Who were they?

I still hesitate to write to you about this - You see I have lived here 39 years - and I really don't trust anybody any longer. I have told one of my sons - Tommy's father - that I'm writing this letter. He offered to mail it for me in the cities.

Sincerely

Margaret McKee

his death, he told his daughter that "Jacob was dead. He asked his daughter to get rid of pictures in his dressers (he also asked her not to look at them.) She did - they were naked boys, she did not recognize any of them as being Jacob.

The year before he died, he had gone to his parents homestead in Hansboro, ND. He refused to let her come with. He was gone for about a week & informed her he had gone to the Cemetary (Fin) near the Canadian Border. He seemed upset before & after the visit.

Her father was not a real large man, he wore glasses, smoked & drove a Lt. Brn Chrysler LeBaron. He often was at St. John's & St. Ben's taking classes. Also he had a close "friend" named Ted Pearson who now lives in Key West, FL. Years ago Jolene also stated her dad went to see "Ted" who taught "up north" from Fridley. When I asked her if it could be St Cloud - she said yes.

Jolene also stated that her mom died 4 years ago & knew of her fathers sexual preference, they separated because of it; But, he did not divorce because he wanted her to get his Vet benefits.

Maynard's last know address was in Brooklyn Park Apts.

Jolene has one sibling - an adopted brother 8½ years her senior. He is estranged from the family & has been for a number of years - she felt he might have been abused.

ECU/CWebber, 1-5-99, 11:40 am: I tried to conact the RP but the battery in her phone was dying and the connection made it difficult to hear her. I will be contacting her later this afternoon. ECU/CWebber, 1-5-99, 5:30 pm: I spoke with the RP and the following information was provided by her during our conversation. The RP is dating the son of the suspect's wife, Pam Risdon. Pam and the RP were speaking, during the week before New Year's Eve, and they got on the topic of Jacob Wetterling. Pam seemed to indicate that Les Risdon could have something to do with his dissappearance because Les disappeared on the night Jacob went missing and he also got rid of his car immediately after the disappearance. Also at this time, the suspect and Jason Spores were involved in making child pornography with several minors that were males. Jason is currently managing "The Men's Club" in Minneapolis and he shows these tapes to the clubs' patrons. The suspect is no longer involved in this activity because he has moved out of Minneapolis. However, she alleges Jason Spores is still using these tapes as black mail against the suspect so that Les will not contact le about this illegal behavior. Pam Risdon learned this information during a fight with her husband but she is afraid of the suspect and is too fearful to report this information to law enforcement.

I am a person who has turned in a tip to the local police department, but had it go nowhere, claiming that the information I gave them wasn't jiving with an investigation, so I thought I'd try you with the stipulation that I remain anonymous.

I got ahold of a copy of the Jacob Wetterling missing poster and had a strong urge to take it with me down to the Twin Cities around the time his abduction occurred. My mom stopped at a rest area and I waited in the car. While I was there, a man pulled in and left his car running, something not too unusual. What was unusual was that when he came out he matched the sketch on the poster; there was also a shade over the window and he yelled into it and made a motion to the effect of "shut up in there". He sped out and I didn't see him again. I did get the license plate...it was PKA 649 Minnesota. I turned this in to the local police, but they said it listed to a party out of Duluth and nothing really prompted them to investigate it. I thought I'd pass this along to you. You may be wondering about the urge...I am a Christian and think that maybe God had me take it with me for this...possibly???? I will use the code number 007 when I call to follow up with you. Than!
k you very much!!! 007

Dear Mr. Schnaible:

For the past year you have many times telephoned the Office of the Attorney General. Periodically, you called several times a day or several times a night and reported the same information. This letter is to inform you that I have received your information and I request that you stop calling.

You have said many times that several individuals (Chivatero, Morrison, Snyder, Walters, Hostitler and Eastman) threatened you, used "turing" equipment in a manner that controls human thoughts, accessed state and federal criminal history files to remove records and are selling unlawful drugs. I reported the tampering with criminal history files and drug trafficking information to the Minnesota Bureau of Criminal Apprehension. I have also discussed issues involving postal employees with Postal Inspectors.

Please do not continue to call the Office of the Attorney General to report this information. Your repeated calls are not necessary and at times have filled our voice mail system so that others may not have been able to leave messages. If you have an emergency, report the information to your local law enforcement agency.

If you need to report additional information to our office, please do so in writing and direct the information directly to me. If you have questions concerning this letter call me directly at (651) 296-6471. Thank you for your cooperation in this matter.

SUBJECT : Raymond Schnaible

I recently received a voice mail message from Raymond L. Schnaible, 9617 West Sandpiper Drive, Blaine, MN 55434 (612) 783-5754. Schnaible said that George Morrison, Jr. killed Jacob Wetterling.

I have talked to Schnaible a few times in the past year. He called the Attorney General's main number and left so many voice mail messages that I recently asked him to stop calling. (See attached letter.) Then he called in the Wetterling message and said that it would be his last call. He may just be trying to open communications with our office.

He has often reported that people in the Postal Service are selling drugs, threaten him and are monitoring his thoughts. Postal Inspector Tom Cudahy (651293-3228) has background on Schnaible as Schnaible was a postal employee and now on disability. Many of the people Schnaible has told me about do not exist. Call me if you have any questions.

Stearns County Police Department
P.O. Box 217
St. Cloud, MN 56307

Dear Sirs,

I doubt you will want to hear from me any more than the Wetterling family does, everyone jaded by the deluge of leads, particularly from psychics, that lead nowhere. However, I recently had an email conversation with someone who claims to be Jacob Wetterling. But we will get to that later. I must write and tell you what I believe. If you read it only once and it remains somewhere in your memory for something to jar it, then that's enough for me. It has to be.

I believe that Jacob is alive, very much alive, living in Seattle and calling himself "Joseph". He does not look much like the picture you have posted of him. His hair is long, and might be dyed blond. He has an earring. He looks like other kids of his age, smokes a little dope and likes to snowboard. He loves music and finds joy there, an amazing thing. He is suffering a little from his wisdom teeth coming in now. But he is finally free, after years of captivity, and he has a dozen reasons for not revealing himself more obviously, to you and to his family. He will reveal himself in his time, which might be in many years.

His experience in captivity was as bad as you can imagine and worse, but a miracle occurred. There was an accident. It was raining, windy. I think the vehicle was a pick-up truck with something in the back held down by a tarp, flapping. Jacob had his seatbelt on, the abductor did not. The abductor was decapitated, there was a gasoline fire. Jacob was free. He has been free for a few years now. I am sure that it was Jacob who called Jacob's Hope in 1996, using a free phonecard, and calling from an all-night dinner or convenience store. I wonder a lot if that call was from Seattle, or maybe Portland, on his journey up the coast.

About the abduction and Jacob's childhood, I believe many things. I have read very little about this case, and if these things are true, it is because Jacob is telling me, not because it was in the press. These are things I believe about the abduction:

- someone was wearing a navy blue windbreaker with white and/or red writing on it
- there is a white house with blue shutters, maybe a semi-circular driveway
- the man has dark hair and a mustache, maybe dark glasses

About Jacob:

- he liked Reese's peanut butter cups
- he liked grapefruit juice
- he peeled an orange meticulously in sections, scoring the skin first with a knife
- he liked roast chicken and meatballs
- he ate blue candy that turned his tongue blue
- he chewed Doublemint gum
- he was in a clumsy-stage of his life, breaking things for no apparent reason and it bothered him and his parents
- animals that he liked included dinosaurs, sharks, and he might have had a frog as a pet
- he liked Jackie Chann and WWF wrestling
- he admired someone's pocket watch, maybe his grandfather's
- there is something about milk, maybe he had a milk allergy
- he played with rubberbands, maybe he shot them or had a rubberband ball
- he liked to play checkers
- he might have played with a radio-operated car
- his shoelaces were often untied, slapping against his shins
- someone took care of him, applying arnica and vitamin E to his bruises and cuts (not sure if this was in captivity, or was his mom)
- there is a long mink coat and a tan suede shirt (his father's and mother's, or someone he met after the abduction? I don't know)
- there is a down-syndrome child, in the Special Olympics. Is this someone he knew as a boy or someone he has befriended now?

There are a large number of clues that I don't understand, words, names, that might mean something to someone. I put them here in the off-chance that they do connect with something known:

- Leonard
- New Orleans
- the Bahamas
- Beadle
- V-particles
- Shine
- Yosemite
- Sebastian
- lavender
- cricket

- the colors red and green together
- a birthday 1/15/80
- pocketbook, handbag or purse
- sparrow
- star

I hope something here will ring true for you, but I am not altogether sure that it is "Joseph's" desire to be found, perhaps the family should just pray for his healing.

Now, on a completely separate note, and having nothing to do with the entirely psychic messages that I've told you so far, in my investigation of this case, I came across a profile on AOL of a person calling himself Jacob Wetterling. I had an I.M. conversation with him, which I enclose here. I am sure he is not Jacob, and probably does not know anything about him, but rather is a lonely, bitter, 40-ish fat man. Anyway, it is strange, and I thought you should know if you don't already, besides it got you to read through the letter, and I very much needed you to do that.

If you feel I can help you in any other way, please contact me at 203-329-3545.

Sincerely,

To whom it may concern,

I was surfing the internet one day and I came upon a site about serial killers, kidnappers, etc. I clicked on a link to poems about or by killers. I came upon this poem called the Wetterling Abductor, I remembered when I was 11 yrs. old and I heard about Jake. It was flashed all over our news and everyone talked about it. I remember they even made a song about him. I guess I was interested because I was the same age at the time. I use to pray for Jake at night because I felt that if I got taken I would be so scared. Anyways, the reason why I am writing this letter is because this poem describes the day Jake was taken and it sounds like it was written by the abductor. At the end of the poem it just says Warlockman. I will send a copy and I'm not sure if this will help, but I have always wondered the past 9 years or so what ever happened to Jake? I would just like to add that this poem is not very pleasant so just to let you know, hopefully this is some fake thing somebody made up and Jake is still out there. Please let me know what you find out.

The Wetterling Abductor

3 boys on bikes riding one october night they dont see me way out of sight
 one is jacob
 i have come to take one of them away forever all 3 are 11 yrs old blonde haired with blue eyes i put on my mask point my shot gun i jump in front of them they scream dont move i say i will kill you if you run i cant decide wich one to take looking at them my eyes fall on little jake its him i want i drag him to my car
 i take him to the dark woods close enough but not to far i rape him i put a bullet in the back of his head
 i bury him in the deep woods
 they will never find him see i hid him real good you see no one knows about him no one but me

Wicca, is more commonly known as witchcraft even though witchcraft is really the study of herbs. I usually use both terms out of habit. Wicca is a religion, that is a branch of Paganism. Wicca is really a build your own religion, so there is nothing you must believe. This is a basic system of beliefs:

- >I connect to the Divine, the Source
- >I celebrate the Gods and Goddesses
- >I celebrate the turning of the seasons
- >I celebrate the phases of the moon
- >I celebrate the phases of life
- >I honor and revere the earth
- >I follow the Rede and the 3-fold law
- >I learn about magick and spiritual systems
- >I incorporate truths that resonate with my soul into my magickal workings
- >I try to live every day in a magickal way.
- >I direct my will towards goals(spell working)

Wicca is a religion that combined Shaman, Celtic, and old pagan beliefs. You can find a more detailed summary at Ontario Center for Religious Freedom.

A Visit From Old Ed

'Twas the night before Christmas, when all through the shed,
All creatures were stirring, even old Ed.

The bodies were hung from the rafters above,
While Eddie was searching for another new love.

He went to Wautona for a Plainfield deal,
Looking for love and also a meal.

When what to his hungry eyes should appear,
But old Mary Hogan in her new red brassiere.

Her cheeks were like roses when kissed by the sun.
And she let out a scream at the sight of Ed's gun.

Old Ed pulled the trigger and Mary fell dead,
He took his old axe and cut off her head.

He then took his hacksaw and cut her in two,
One half for hamburger, the other for stew.

And laying a hand aside of her heel,
Up to the rafters went his next meal.

He sprang to his truck, to the graveyard he flew,
The hours were short and much work must he do.

He looked for the grave where the fattest one laid,
And started in digging with shovel and spade.

He shoveled and shoveled and shoveled some more,
Till finally he reached the old coffin door.

He took out a crowbar and pried open the box,
He was not only clever, but sly as a fox.

As he picked up the body and cut off her head,
He could only tell by the smell that the old girl was dead.

He filled in the grave by the moonlight above,
And once more old Ed had found a new love.

Uncensored Exotics

Vainly I crouch at the fireside,
For the flames on the hearth cannot warm me.

Vainly i put on coats
Against the cold of the star winds...

And my bones are chilled within me
And my blood is become water.
And now from the void behind me

Comes the piping of the piper,
That senseless, complaining piping,
That tuneless, high, thin piping...

Then with a shout, I surrender,
And leap to do the bidding.
From the wall I snatch my weapons
And rush from the house to the forest.
Where the road winds down the mountain,
Panting I lie in ambush,
Waiting for some poor traveller
Who shall bring me my release.
When he comes with laggard footsteps.
Sudden and fierce is my onslaught.
Like a beast I destroy him
And utterly destroy him
And I cut out his heart and eat it,
And guzzle his blood like nectar,
And I cut off his head and scalp him,
And hang his scalp at my belt.
Homeward I walk through the snowdrifts,
And my heart is warm within me,
And my blood and bones are new again
And the star winds cease to chill me...

Truthfulness is what we honor
Truthfulness is what we bless
Then why when I am truthful
Do people think I'm Messed

The Afflictor

Camera bound children; playing in harmony.

Wally just sits there; staring at a tree.

Camera bound children; dancing on their toes.

Wally just stands there; picking at his nose.

Camera bound children; throwing around a ball.

Wally just sits there; watching his drool.

Camera bound children; making fun of Wall.

Wally just sits there; absorbing their folly.

Hatred builds and festers. Children are too cruel.

Some grow up to be jesters; others use misery as fuel.

Children are too cruel; Children are too cruel.

Camera bound people; Working to pay the bills.

Wally just sits there; thinking of ways to kill.

Camera bound people; Enjoying nature on a trip.

Wally just waits there; Loading his 9mm clip.

Camera bound people; camping in the woods.

Wally just kills them; Wally was never understood.

Children are too cruel; children are too cruel.

Dont stop on the highway

For if you do, you die

To L.A. she will say the whole thing is a lie

She is one of many

On this deadly highway

For California's known

For its deadly hitchhikers

Nice little girl

She seems to be

If only you could look in her eyes you would see the toil, the pain the hurt

The wish that you would die

The knowledge YOU MUST DIE!!

The Wetterling Abductor

3 boys on bikes riding one october night

they dont see me way out of sight

i take him to the dark woods close enough but not to far
i rape him i put a bullet in the back of his head
i bury him in the deep woods
they will never find him see i hid him real good you see no one knows about him no one but me

Warlockman

-The Stairwell Within-

Staring deeply into the eyes of the Master to a great and powerful mound of wickedness.
Opening the mind leads to an infinite tower of evilness.

Standing on the first steps of the tower, there is a deep and uncontrollable silence of wrath screaming to be freed. But it never can, for the soul lives in fear of freedom, fear of becoming alive.

Gazing from the center steps, there is an overwhelming power of sadness. A weakness caused by the feeling of being trapped and secluded. Wanting, waiting anxiously, as before, but never feeling the joys of true masterization.

Onto the final steps, you will find a sad creature, confined to his pillow of sorrow.
Regretting the outer illusion, he knows his true self can never become, for Darkness will always be his Master.

Jeff MacDonald

Jeff macdonald and his wife had a spat so he killed her with a baseball bat crushed her head nice and flat on the wall her brains went splat now he has to kill his kids they ran in to see what he did jeff be nimble jeff be quick beat them to death with a wooden stick but that did not do the trick so to the kitchen he went to get his ice pick his wife was not yet dead so he stuck that ice pick in her head now to the kids room he went and staved them till the ice pick bent jeff thought he could tell the cops a lie about who killed his kids and his wife now he sits in jail for life

The Corpse in the Caddy

Rob marshall loved his wife marie but one thing he did not tell her that stone cold dead she was worth a cool million with her dead he would be free set for life to have sex with his best friends wife he had 3 men from texas kill her dead in the front seat of her white caddy with 2 shot gun blasts to her bleach blond head rob screamed and cried when cops told him his wife had died befor her corpse became cold in the ground rob started to spend her insurance money all over town soon the cops were on to rob for he forgot about the 3 hit men he never paid off to do the bloody job they all started to cut a deal then on marshall they started to squeal in 20 yrs the hit men might be let go but not rob for he now sits on death row .p

Betty Brodericks Revenge

betty broderick got her gun to bad her ex husband and his new wife had no place to run they cant hurt her any more dan broderick and his teenage whore she stood by the bedroom door with her magnum 44

 as they lay dead in pools of blood on the floor
 she was once his wife before he destroyed her life the divorce cut like a knife he broke her heart and made her sick with his dirty legal tricks he never told her why now its his day to die betty broderick shot him dead with six bullets in his head

DWWSS

I sit here here and think think so hard, i dare not blink all I see a great big hill that shall be the place of my next kill I search and search for a victim and then i see a boy, it will be him!
 i pick up the pace and follow him home and to my surprise he is all alone i kick open the door and grab his arm to bad for him, he's know in harm i take him up to that great hill
 i find out it was a old mill he pleads and pleads for his life but then i pull out my knife
 i grab his head and push him down on his face is a big ol' frown all of a suddun im up awake from a very harsh shake i think of that hill and thats what i will fulfill.

thoughts of emptiness thoughts of pain thinking of death
 makes me insane thrust a dull butter knife in my soft skull pour my thoughts into an empty bowl eat my heart with all your lies like the innocent taste of pancakes and pies carmel corn resembles my fear the scent of armogedon is closer than near written by your favorite curse word

Here I sit, alone and jaded
I'd still be alive, if I hadnt hid under the blanket Still I lie, and tell them the most Killing is a game, and I am the joke
Bleeding and hurt, my dignity is post:
The knife was sharp, but the board hurt the most
So step on me, and kill my pain
If I live another second Ill surely go insane
All I need is a quick stab, a jab if you must
But the torture is what You lust
With one quick thrust, Im being raped
This reminds me of my first date
The pain is to intense, dark around the edges
And after your done you throw me in the hedges
So here I lie broken and dead
I dont understand, because Im not in your head...

Ron Corbin

Conn, In

No one wondered,
Just played,
He stood there wishing they could stay.
All is lost, where was he laughing uncontrollably, hysertically
He draws his finger along the edge of the knife feeling the sense of a downward life
He didn't care

Only with the desperation of despair
Animosity polutes his wretched mind
She didn't expected it, she never saw the signs
He is in an utter oblivia blinded by his own sight
His final stroke, he saw her fright
There she laid so serene
What dismay he was never to be seen
No one wondered,
Just played
He stood there knowing she was now going to stay.

Mary Alice Reyes

Sterling Silver

He watched me stide down up the stairs
I breath sighs of utter despair
He grippens his knife
I notice his anger
I'd rather be alone
Doesn't he understand?
No I can't.
I must be strong
I don't have long
He's going to make his move
I fear yet so soon
My breath is fast
I feel his lash
I fall in pain
He thinks this is making him sane
I close my eyes for a tight moment
A dark illusion fills my mind
She's mine, she's mine
He is fulfilled
For he was always wanted to kill
He looked about noticing his brim
I've finally topped all of my sins.

Nothing.

Mary Alice Reyes

My eyes are tired from the morning rays,
Remembering all of the promising lies he always did say
My wonderful and naive friend
His conscience was only mine to bend
I know I could convince him otherwise
If he could only see how much I didn't despise
My depression,
His obsession
I must go without a light
His darkness is my only fright
Where was I?
He doesn't remember at all
He can't stall any longer
I am here
He laughs at my bitter-sweet tears
My blood is tinted wine
He chants uncontrollably:
It's mine, she's mine.

Nevermore.

Mary Alice Reyes

Sometimes like this time today i believe in avoiding things to make them go away.
my arm screams
as i exert myself to write this.
everytime
i escape just enough to go on and pull it all off again.
And i wonder
why it is that i'm here,
how am i gonna get out of here.
And you wonder if i'm all there.
Why do i do these things?
Specifically
you know exactly what things I mean.
I'm sorry
I just want:
you for your mind

your body against mine your lips and your eyes decent conversation mind games and manipulation loud noises and the stereo on I want to turn you on enough to lead you on stuff you into the ground because you bled too fast smiled too much what was i supposed to do when you screamed too loud?
I acted maybe too quick before my mind- my arm thinks-before you could even blink....

PRELIMINARY INFORMATION

At 03/21/99 at 1705 hours I was dispatched to a theft report at the Maple Grove Community Center, 12951 Weaver Lake Road. While I was finishing up taking the report I was informed by an employee, JENNIFER ANDERSON, of the Maple Grove Community Center, of a suspicious male in one of the locker rooms. The initial theft report was taken on the upper level. The suspicious male was in the lower level of the community center. I followed Anderson from the public safety office to the lower level locker room area.

WITNESS STATEMENT

I spoke with JENNIFER JOY ANDERSON, DOB 03/01/78, an employee at the Maple Grove Community Center. I spoke with Anderson while she was taking me to the lower level of the Maple Grove Community Center. She stated that:

- There was a suspicious male walking around the common area in a towel with nothing on underneath.
- The individual has been walking around for an hour to an hour and a half.
- While he was sitting on a bench she saw his testicles and penis coming through his shorts.
- She does not believe that the individual is with anyone.
- He seems to be just walking around.

OFFICER'S OBSERVATIONS/ACTIONS

The common area is a group of lockers with changing rooms on each side. The area is for both males and females. At the Maple Grove Community Center there are separate men's and women's locker rooms.

- The common area is connected to the entrance to the pool and the snack bar area in the lower level of the community center.
- On each side of the lockers there are private changing rooms.
- As we were in the common locker room area Anderson pointed to the individual that was walking.
- The individual, later identified as MICHAEL JAMES HALE, DOB 05/22/46, was walking towards me; we were coming from the snack bar area.
- There were several juveniles walking around the common locker room area.
- All the juveniles I saw, approximately four to six, were under 16 years of age.

- Hale approached my location, stopped, turned around, and began walking the other direction towards the doors to the swimming pool.
- As Hale was walking away from me I could see the upper crack of his buttocks.
- He did have a towel wrapped around his waist.
- I saw approximately four inches of the crack to his buttocks.
- I saw Hale walk into a changing room in the common area.
- I went down to the lifeguard office and waited for Hale to exit the changing room; he was in there for approximately 7 minutes.
- Hale exited the changing room, left the common locker room area, and walked to the upper main level of the community center.
- Hale exited the front doors of the community center.
- I had Trevor Hartman, an employee at the Maple Grove Community Center, walk with me.
- Trevor Hartman had told me while we were waiting for Hale to exit the changing room that he had received a report approximately three weeks ago of an individual matching the description of Hale standing in the men's locker room naked, not moving, for approximately two hours.
- As Hale was walking out into the parking lot Hartman positively identified Hale as the same individual he had contact with three weeks ago.
- Hartman told me that when he confronted Hale, Hale had no reason for standing in the men's locker room naked.
- He asked Hale to leave and he did.
- As Hale was walking into the parking lot I asked him to stop; he did.
- I explained to Hale the report that I received; he stated that he understood.
- I asked Hale what he was doing at the Maple Grove Community Center; he stated "swimming."
- I asked Hale if I could see some identification; he told me that it was in his vehicle.
- I asked Hale if we could go to his vehicle so I could see it; he stated that I could.
- Hale walked to his vehicle, parked in the Maple Grove Community Center parking lot, MN license #989-GJX, an '89 Chevy white sports conversion van, registered to Michael Hale.
- Hale told me that his wallet was underneath the driver's seat of his vehicle.
- I asked Hale if I could get it and he stated that I could.
- I reached underneath the driver's seat and retrieved his wallet.
- Hale showed me a MN picture driver's license, which identified himself as MICHAEL JAMES HALE, DOB 05/22/46.
- I explained to Hale that I thought it was suspicious that he had driven so far to come to the Maple Grove Community Center; he stated that he understood.
- I also explained to Hale that I thought it was suspicious that he hung around the locker room area for such a long period of time; he stated that he understood.

- I phoned the office to have them run a criminal history on Hale.
- It was found that Hale had several convictions for sex offenses.
- Officer Wills of the Maple Grove Police Department had found while speaking with Hale that he had been convicted in the early 80's for sex offenses involving juvenile boys.

SUSPECT'S STATEMENT

I spoke with MICHAEL JAMES HALE, DOB 05/22/46, in the parking lot of the Maple Grove Community Center. He stated that:

- He was a registered sex offender and had been convicted of sexually assaulting juvenile boys.
- He had been sentenced to a mental institution on St. Peter for sexually assaulting boys.
- At this time he does not have an assigned doctor and is not on probation.
- He had stopped being on probation in 1995.
- He currently lives with his parents in Lino Lakes.
- He works at Rainbow Signs in Anoka.
- He arrived on today's date at the Maple Grove Community Center at 1400 hours.
- He went down to the men's locker room and changed into his swimming trunks.
- From the locker room he went to the pool area and stayed there for approximately 10 minutes.
- He then walked from the pool area into the common area.
- He stayed in the common area for "a couple of hours."
- He was walking around with his swimming trunks and no towel.
- He was sitting on a bench next to the snack bar area between the common locker room area and the snack bar.
- As he was sitting there the entire time he had a towel draped over his waist.
- He does not remember exposing his testicles and penis.

OFFICER'S OBSERVATIONS/ACTIONS

- As I was speaking with Hale I asked for the witness, Jennifer Anderson, to come to my location.

WITNESS STATEMENT

I spoke with JENNIFER JOY ANDERSON, DOB 03/01/78. She stated that:

OFFENSE ☐ ARREST/VIOLATION ☐ JUVENILE ☐ MOTOR VEHICLE ☐

- On today's date at approximately 1500 hours she saw an individual, identified as Michael Hale, sitting on a bench between the common locker room area and the snack bar in the lower level of the Maple Grove Community Center.
- As she walked by the individual she saw his two testicles and penis hanging out of the left side of his shorts.
- There was not a lining in the shorts.
- It was obvious that the testicles and penis were hanging out of the shorts.
- There was no way that Hale could know that they were not hanging out of the shorts in plain view.
- The individual was wearing yellow shorts.
- She walked by the individual and returned approximately one minute later and saw that he, Hale, had put a towel over his waist, covering his genitals.
- She went to the lifeguard office and informed her supervisor of what she saw; her supervisor did not phone the police.
- Very concerned about what she saw she began to watch Hale.
- She saw Hale walking around the common locker room area; it appeared that Hale had no purpose.
- She would briefly leave the common locker room area and return.
- On one occasion when she returned she saw Hale walking around without shorts on, wrapped in a towel.
- She could tell because the towel was slightly below his waist (not showing his genitals).
- She saw Hale walking around the common locker room area.
- She saw several juveniles between the ages of 8 to 12 in the common locker room area, the pool area, and the snack bar area (all areas that Hale was walking around).
- When Hale was sitting on the bench between the snack bar area and the common locker room area there were several juveniles walking by him between the ages of 8 and 12.
- When she saw that I arrived to take a theft report she thought that she should advise me of what was occurring.

OFFICER'S OBSERVATIONS/ACTIONS

- Jennifer Anderson did sign a citizen's arrest form in reference to what she saw.
- I gave Anderson statement forms, which she stated that she would complete and return to our office.

I continued to speak with Michael Hale, who stated that:

- The reason why he came to the Maple Grove Community Center was to look at small boys.
- He was walking around the common locker room area without any shorts, but wrapped in a towel.
- He did not know that he was walking around with any part of his buttocks showing.
- He had been arrested in 1992 for exposing himself.
- He had not offended anyone since the exposing incident in 1992.

OFFICER'S OBSERVATIONS/ACTIONS

- I asked Hale if we could search his vehicle; he stated that we could.
- We did find a duffel bag with seven swimming suits inside; Hale stated that all of the swimming suits belonged to him.
- We also found a bed in the back of Hale's conversion van; Hale stated that it was for his dogs.
- Officer Wills did not find any contraband in the vehicle.
- Hale did show us the yellow shorts he was wearing while he was sitting on the bench between the locker room area and the snack bar area.
- The yellow shorts did not have a liner (the shorts were inventoried and placed in an evidence locker).
- Based on the information we received and the signed citizen's arrest from Anderson I placed Hale under arrest for indecent exposure.
- Officer Wills transported Hale from the Maple Grove Community Center parking lot to our office.
- At our office Hale was booked, photographed, and placed in a cell.

SUSPECT'S STATEMENT

At 1924 hours I read Michael Hale the Miranda warning. He stated that he understood and agreed to speak to me. He stated that:

- On today's date at 1400 hours he arrived at the Maple Grove Community Center.
- He had been at the Maple Grove Community Center in the past; he believed it was in January.
- He had not been at the Maple Grove Community Center three weeks ago.
- When he arrived he went into the men's locker room and changed into his swimming trunks.
- He went into the shower area and spent approximately 20 minutes.
- He spent so much time in the shower because it was warm.
- There were two juvenile boys in the shower area that he was slightly attracted to.
- While he was in the shower area there were juveniles and adults coming and going.

- From the men's locker room he went into the pool area.
- He walked around the pool once and then entered the water.
- He stayed in the pool area for 10 to 15 minutes.
- While he was walking around he did notice several juvenile boys in the pool.
- It was difficult to know if they were good looking or not because they were in the water.
- The juveniles in the pool area were under 16 years of age; he did see their heads.
- He left the pool area and went to the snack bar area.
- He did sit on a bench in his yellow swimming trunks.
- He covered himself with a towel.
- He sat there for approximately 20 minutes.
- He did notice two boys approximately 8 years of age.
- He went back to the men's locker room and sat on a bench.
- He does not know why he went into the men's locker room but he spent 20 minutes.
- He does not know why he spent 20 minutes.
- He then went back to the pool area and began wandering around.
- Again, he saw the heads of juveniles in the pool area and could not see if they were attractive.
- From the pool area he went back to the men's locker room and overheard several juveniles talking; he believed that they were the ones that committed the thefts.
- At no time did he have contact with any of the juveniles.
- He does not remember how his swimming trunks got off and the towel wrapped around his body.
- He obviously had to have changed in either the men's locker room or the private changing room in the common locker room area.
- When he saw me he did not know the crack of his buttocks was showing.
- When he saw me he "wanted to get out of there."
- He was wearing his yellow shorts with no liners when he was in the pool area and sitting on the bench in the snack bar area.
- He came to the Maple Grove Community Center to look at small boys.
- He is attracted to boys that are in the range of 8.
- He is registered as a sex offender in Anoka County.
- In 1982 he had lured two juvenile boys into his vehicle and drove them to a location.
- There they told authorities that he had touched their penis; he does not remember touching their penis.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

- Hale walked from the common locker room area to the pool area and men's locker room approximately four to five different times.

EVIDENTIARY EXHIBITS

- As I searched Michael Hale I found five napkins.

Dear Deputy Pearce:

Following my telephone conversation to you of March 22, 1999, please note the enclosed copy of an article from the Isanti County News of September 10, 1997.

This individual has come to my attention in the course of the investigation of a fire loss insurance claim in Cambridge, Minnesota, involving a house previously owned by Mr. Lofgren and now owned by one of Mr. Lofgren's acquaintances, Mr. Kenneth Watten.

If I may be of any further assistance, please do not hesitate to give me a call.

Very truly yours,

Sex offender re-offends while awaiting court hearing on Isanti County charges Judge revokes bail; sets new amount at $100,000

By Evelyn Puffer

By his own attorney's admission, Jeffery Richard Lofgren, 39, now of St. Anthony Village, but formerly of Cambridge, has a problem with alcohol and with sex.

Judge Timothy Bloomquist agreed Friday, Sept. 5 when it was learned that Lofgren had allegedly committed new offenses while awaiting his Sept. 25 court hearing on criminal sexual conduct charges in Isanti County. Lofgren's bail was revoked and new bail of $100,000 set. He posted the bail within the hour.

Lofgren first came to the attention of local authorities when residents near a park in Cambridge called them in the early hours of August 5, 1996 to say that Lofgren was chasing a nude juvenile male down the street. The youth, from the northern Anoka County area, had been at Lofgren's residence when Lofgren is alleged to have made sexual advances to him and the youth fled.

Lofgren was arrested and subsequently charged with felony counts of criminal sexual conduct in the fourth degree and two counts of criminal sexual conduct in the fifth degree.

Judge James Gunderson set bail at $20,000 and ordered Lofgren not to have any contact with anyone under the age of 18 years and not to use or possess any alcohol or mood altering substances.

The Isanti County charges triggered a probation violation in Aitkin County based on a March 1992 conviction for criminal sexual conduct in the fourth degree in that county.

During execution of a search warrant at Lofgren's Cambridge residence, law enforcement officers found paper work showing that he was also serving two years probation in Wisconsin for a fourth degree sexual assault conviction involving a juvenile male. The incident occurred while Lofgren was on a business trip in the Baraboo area in Sauk County, Wisconsin, in February 1996.

Jeffery Lofgren

The Isanti County case was put on hold while Lofgren voluntarily participated in a Minneapolis-based treatment program called Alpha House.

Hello Connie,

I have a problem. I do what is called map dowsing, which is locating things on a map.

It is an off shoot of dowsing with wires for water. I have worked with Indians of late searching for stolen religious artifacts. In that work I have used a friend who can go out of body to a location I give her and report back to me what she sees.

To make a long story short, I asked her to go Jacob Wetterling. Then I tried to locate where she went. If there is a building matching the description in the area of the intersection Axel Avenue and Second Street in Grove City, MN. And that address has a man matching the description in what she saw there is hope.

My problem is the description of what she saw. I will remove one line, it is very explicate.

Years ago I had traced Jacob to a farm in Illinois. I sent a letter to his father's office.

There was no response and he was moved soon thereafter to Burlington, CO. It wasn't until after retiring and getting a computer that I learned of the suspect working in the father's office. Explained a lot. A friend I had taught to map dowse confirmed the farm in Illinois. I gave him a map of the United States and told him to start at St. Cloud and find Jacob. He ended up at the same place I had in Illinois. Then I gave him a section map of the area and he did the same thing, ending up on section 19. Jacob, at that time was being transported back and forth to Salt Lake City on weekly basis. I suspect a truck driver rented the small brick house on the farm. If we meet I'll bring my whole file on Jacob. I can be reached at 319-354-1125.

Thank You,
Mike McGuire

He'd spend his entire day in the St Joseph - St Cloud area. Leaving his house before dawn. He drove an older dirt-covered station wagon. He was most likely driving that night in 1989 a blue sport utility vehicle. This you will find parked in his backyard. Covered with a tarp and surrounded by a privacy fence.

He's talkative with strangers and has a pleasant smile. He dressed somewhat sloppy and usually had a bushy beard. He wore then a dark colored mid-length wool overcoat which stood out as being old fashioned. From the 1960's. People there noticed him.

He turned 55 on the 4th of May.

Patty,

Please send this information on to Pam and Steve Poirer. Any monies or rewards if she is found because of this information is to be sent to the your Foundation.

This is difficult to explain, so the only way to start is to just give you what information came to me via a visit by a very agitated, energetic, yet very serious spirit on June 4th. I asked if there was a special way the parents would know this spirit - she answered by "Kee Kee."

Here are the views/pictures that were shared:
Highway sign 71 or 70 something heading north. Then a right on 13... to a township sign (the first township after being on 13). He pulled over very soon after the township sign to the northwest of the area of abduction. There are a clump of trees where there are birch trees (white trunks) mixed with other trees. These are not big trees. He lives by Grant Creek (west and northwest) and I feel that there are ties to at least two other abductions in Minnesota.

Please help so that her mom and dad can rest.

Patty,

I had very similar visions as the woman that you used to find Jacob. Remember there was information that was published about a wooden shack? I feel Jacob's abductor is a repeat abductor and is located on a farm that is about 14 miles south, southeast of Saint Cloud. Is there anyone that was on your list that fits this profile or you had police investigate during your search? This man was very upset when he read what the woman said to you and may have moved Jacob from this lean-to wooden, half buried shelter that is in the field on his farm.

I know this is so strange, but feel that after all these years of not saying something, and if any of this is helpful, then there is a reason these visions are being shared with me.

God bless you for helping these families in their time of grief and extreme terror.

My prayers continue to be with you and these families. Nothing makes sense to me as to why someone would do anything like to others.

My name is Emily, I am 14 years old, I enjoy skateboarding, wicca, fire, and what most people call anarchy, but some dont know the full meaning of the word. Go here to see a picture of my fiance :). Im sure we are all very upset because of the death of his mummy, I know I am. Serial Killers

This is a page dedicated to my favorite Serial Killers and their victims. I searched the net to find the most informative, and easiest to understand pages. i searched the net for female serial killers, and found none at first then people helped me find them so i have a few now. I still can't understand why there arent any like Jack the Ripper, who dissected his victims, but I guess It depends on the person. Thanks to all who have helped. If you disagree with the material here, please try to understand, this is informative and lets people know that they cannot trust everyone and that the world is not a good place with perfect people. It is for education, so please if you dont like it, leave!

This is a very good description of why serial killers fascinate people, written by A.J.

Facts

- The US has 76% of the world's Serial Killers
 - Europe, in second, has 17%
- 84% of American killers are caucasian
 - 16% are black
 - men make up at least 90%
- Yet 65% of victims are female
 - 89% of victims are white
- 44% of all killers start in their 20's
 - 26% in their teens
 - and 24% in their 30's
- Out of all the killers, 86% are heterosexual

Charles Manson

Jack the Ripper-my personal favorite

Ted Bundy-women he killed

Lizzie Borden-found thanks to Jenbo

Aileen Wuornos-found thanks to AlyxStarr

The Green River Killer

Jeff Dahmer

John Wayne Gacy

Richar Ramirez

Elizabeth Bathory

Kick Ass Serial Killer Page-Im sorry kids, this was one of my favorites, but, what can i say, all those letters from people telling you your crazy sure do make it hard. Check it out, bet you can't figure it out

Every Serial Killer, almost-brief summary with some other pages too

Serial Killers-has lots of those hard to find killers, in case your wondering...

A Page by the Serial Killer Webmaster featuring new serial killers, with lots of info to clog your brain with, and make your parents think your even stranger. Also featuring a new forensics section

Serial Murder With Matt-beautiful page, very complete, it made me want to cry because its better than mine, like most

Take-the serial killer quiz

Poetry-written by or about serial killers

Andy's Story-he turned this in to his teacher and got a C

Hmm, I'd say "bonehead" would be a bit too nice. Maybe alt.jackass.rpacktor.kill.kill.kill would be sufficient.

First, it was Terry Hallinan/Geoffrey Simmons. Next, we saw the ghost of William Earl Griffin in the pen of Brandon Murakami. Now, I give you warlockman aka MrBILLIAN aka manatu. aka KEN HOEY; the best by far! This is clear, vivid prose! We're talking serious English here, folks, the likes of which has not been seen since the days of Leon Spinks. Let's take a look:

I have been researching the case of Californias chino killer for the past 2 yrs. I have come across info that has led me to believe Kevin cooper is not guilty and should not be killed by the state of California

- 1 No hard proof links poor kevin to the crime .
- 2 The police mishandled and overlooked proof that moor then one person did this crime
- 3 Josh Ryan told police Cooper did not kill his famiely .
- 4 Kevin was somplace else when the crime took place .

If any one cares about blinde justice pleas help me save kevins life .

Roswell 50 years of bullshit!!!!

Author: warlockman <warlockman@webtv.net>

Date: 1997/07/04

Forum: alt.alien.research

more headers author posting history

post replyprevnext

Heres what happened 50 years ago!! A little boy was flying his kite and it broke loose from his hands. What happened next was a news reporter who was down on his luck and ready to commit suicide needed a top story. So when he seen this object in the sky he said UFO I can make a folk tale that will go down in history. Even better then "The Headless Horseman" The next day the story broke with pictures from War of the Worlds remember when orson wells had everyone running and screaming because of a broadcast he had that the nation was being attacked by aliens. But in the beginning he said that this is not real only a reenactment sort of a spoof!!! The problem with our society is that people are very gullable and naive to whats happening around them and fill in the blanks that they cant comprehend with bullshit and lies. Remember fire in the sky when a guy was gang raped with a pipe by six of his buddies then beat to a pulp so he would have lose of memory. Show me a story that has not been embellished with bullshit to spice it up so the public goes WoW thats amazing.

This picture was in our local newspaper about 1-2 yrs ago. I recognized a resemblance to Jacob Wetterling because I saw his story on tv years ago. I've always remembered his name, face & story. What can I say? My family didn't see a resemblance in the picture. They really didn't remember his story. They think this is crazy. So this picture has laid around my kitchen all this time. We recently got the internet and I typed his name back on this web site. Now I really see a resemblance.

Our newspaper is the Times-

I think the boy Eli looks like Jacob Wetterling. Probably nothing-maybe something. I'll keep my fingers crossed! Love & God Bless to the family.

Olney Friends School enters teams in Area Envirothon

OLNEY FRIENDS School, Barnesville, had two teams compete in the Area Envirothon. A total of 60 teams from Eastern Ohio participated in the event at the Seven Ranges Scout Reservation, Carroll County.

The Envirothon is a competitive event for high school students, and is sponsored by the Ohio Federation of Soil and Water Conservation Districts and the Ohio Department of Natural Resources Division of Soil and Water Conservation.

Teams of five students each (two teams per school), represent their schools in area competition in the areas of soil, aquatics, forestry, wildlife and current environmental issues.

The overall goal of the competition is to promote a greater awareness of natural resources and environmental issues.

In addition the Envirothon encourages cooperative decision making and team building. It is designed to increase student interest in further environmental and natural science study and stimulate interest in careers in these and related fields.

Information on next year's competition is available by calling the Belmont Soil and Water Conservation District, 614-425-1100.

TIM DesMARAI

Memo

 To: DAVID NOHNER
From: TIM DesMARAI
Date: June 24, 1999
Re: WETTERLING LEAD

Please call the woman listed below. She called with many questions after viewing the television broadcast about Jacob.

Ms Towell indicated she had a son abducted on August 24th 1989. She indicates he is still missing. She indicated that at one point a private investigator (George Rodriguez) told her that her son's abduction may be related to Jacob's.

She became very interested after hearing on the news broadcast about a child found in a river shortly after Jacob was taken. She is wondering if that child was identified.

Name: Hazel Towell
631 Pine St.
Kenova, West Virginia
(no phone) her fathers phone is 304-453-2693

Her son's case is being handled by Police in Gainesville, Florida, Officer Will Halbosa (sp).

Victim: Danny Randal Jackson JR. (Randy) 08-10-77

He was described as : w/m 12yoa Blonde Hair blue eyes

"smallboy" approximately. 60 lbs.

Please be advised that she also says she had a second child taken and brutally murdered after the child that is missing. That case is apparently a closed/solved case.

Mr/Mrs Wetterling-Personal/Private/Confidential
St Joseph, Mn
PLEASE READ THIS ASAP

Dear Mrs Wetterling,

I saw ABC this evening and want to help you locate your son if you want the assistance.

I found Jacob's picture on the internet. I tracked him in US to southwest. It took me to Utah/Arizonia state line.

A higher density map evaluation moved me closed to a place called Glen Canyon City, Utah.

A higher density refinement of area points to southside of 6th Street an east/west road.

The crossroads are between north/south roads Center Road on the eastside and Wahweap Road on westside.

This area is north of US Highway 89 and State Highway 277 in Utah.

The latitude longitude is 111 degrees 39 minutes 58 seconds and 37 degrees 05 minutes and 02 seconds.

The maps may be off slightly but the 5 or 10 mile grid area should be the approximately correct unless these people are moving around.

My web page is http://members.tripod.com/doc_findit

so that you understand that my main effort was to determine that he is alive or dead. It appears Alive.

This information is very proprietary, private and confidential. Please use data to locate your son but keep my identity anonymous with any investigators, local, state or federal.

I cannot add any more to these details but you will have surprise on your side. If I locate any more data, I will contact you. If you have a reward, I have several situations that I would like to have you donate the money. Good Luck and Hope you rescue your son immediately.

6/28/99

Subject: possible information to the family

Hello - My name is Pat Johnson. I don't know if I can give you anything you don't know, but my conscious tells me to tell what I know. This is about a man named Kenneth Butler. I understand he had been questioned by the FBI a long time ago. First of all we worked with him at Uniroyal in Eau Claire WI. He and another man (not my friend's father) were into pornography and a lot of sick things. A close friend of mine's father was best friends with him there also. My friend Dy and I have talked about Jacob before but the last time, a week ago, she tells me things that bears repeating. She feels in her heart of hearts Kenny was the abductor and whatever else happened. You should talk with her as I'm second hand knowledge but I will give you some of what I know from her as best I can.

1. Kenny's wife had a blue car similiar to the description.
2. He would go on rides and would not allow her to go nor would he tell where he was.
3. He had a locked room in their basement that she was not allowed to see.
4. She jumped of a bridge here and comitted suicide.
5. Some years later he drove to a funeral home and shot himself in the head. He was so intent that no one go to his house!

My friend has a gut feeling he is buried on the property on Hwy 53. It was sold immediately after his suicide to a Zimmerman I think. Her father, who was his friend, is very frail and elderly. I do not know what he knows. My daughter is Jacob's age and I felt no matter how long it was, if this happened to me, I would want every and any information I could get. We are just regular people and I like to think fairly sane in this crazy world of ours. You can e-mail me if you want. panay@werewolf.net

Caller talked about a swamp area near Crary North Dakota that nearly dried up in the early 90's. As it was drying up she and her parents saw a dark bag w/ something red sticking out of the bag. They never checked out the bag but have always wondered about it. This area is now flooded over again but she thinks that bag would still be there.

She also talked about a guy who came back to Crary for an "all school reunion". This guy stayed at an old abandoned farm place (lived out of his car) which was very near this swamp area. Caller said this guy has relatives in that area but lives in Minnesota.

The swamp is near a gravel road 3-4 miles east of Crary and 2 miles N. of Hwy 2. (Ramsey County North Dakota)

Dear Sheriff, Stearns County, St. Joseph Minnesota,

I saw a television program this week about the child abduction of Jacob Wetterling ten years ago.

At the end of the program they had a drawing of the man witnesses described, 6 ft tall, 200 lbs., white.

Sad to say but this drawing looks a lot like a man in prison in Idaho for the July, 1993 kidnap and murder of an 11 yr old girl in Pocatello, Idaho. She was collecting for her paper route in the middle of broad daylight and a man came up in his car, pulled her in, and drove away. Luckily there was a woman witness who saw him actually do it. The guy kept the child several days, drove from southern Idaho, into Utah, would not release her, drove back to Idaho and killed her, disposed of her body along the Snake River in Idaho Falls.

The guy had been raised in foster care, lived for a time in a reform school in St. Anthony, Idaho, and returned to an area he knew as a child--to dispose of his victims. If I remember the story right, he had other victims who were able to testify against him. Though he had travelled around the country, he came back to Idaho because he had a relative living in the Tyhee area north of Pocatello--happened that the relative lived across the street from Tyhee Elementary School.

Who knows where this guy was ten yrs ago when Jacob was stolen. But perhaps you could do some checking on this. Call the Bannock County Sheriff or the Pocatello Police Dept. The man now in prison in Idaho looks very much like your drawing---also victims were both 11 yrs old.

I do not know if this will help. I do hope so.

Arnold was living in the twin city area at the time of the Jacob W. incidence with his mother.

Arnold had a white Van at this time and got rid of this Van soon afterwards. Arnold did not like to stay around here after this, made a lot of excuses why not. His mother moved to Phoenix Arizona at this time.

Soon after this Arnold moved to Arizona too.

Marnimals™ Best of Luck
 by Marne Jaye Love,

Michael Barry

We are proud to present the work of popular San Francisco Bay Area artist, Marne Jaye. She developed her distinctive style during her work at the College of Creative Studies at UCSB in Santa Barbara, California. Her paintings are sought after by private and corporate collectors and galleries.

The original paintings are done with oil paints, generally in bright colors with a simplistic quality, that some interpret as a contemporary/primitive blend. The border which appears as a frame for each picture is an intricate lace, made up of people, plants and animals painted with oil paints, a small brush and patience.

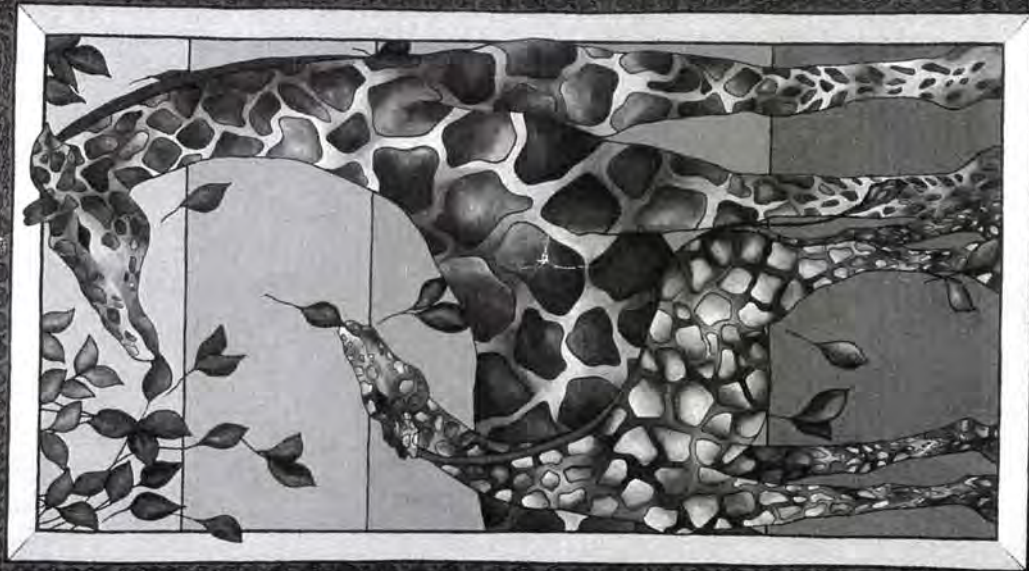

She prefers oil paints because of the translucent qualities they impart. The charm she supplies herself.

We know you and your friends will enjoy this card and others in the Marnimals Zoo.

Mr. R. Nolan,

U.S.A.

Dear Mr Nolan,

In nov 1983 Heineken and his chaffeur were kidnapped and you gave your paranormal impressions about this affair.

As parapsychologist I examined the contributions of psychics on this matter, on behalf of the police in Holland. In the course of this work I came across 3 experiences containing investing data: one of these was your own report: you described a wood-working business; this correspond with reality- a remarkeble result!

In this way I became impressed with your paranormal abilities and I should like to ask you the following questions.

When another kidnapping takes place in Holland I shall play a role in the detective effort as parapsychologist, whose task is to deal with paranormal tips. This is better for the psychics, for as you noted in the Heineken affair the psychic were not seriously involved with it.

Besides this I have been asked to assist the police in murder cases and I want to ask you if you would help me in this as a psychic. I have been so bold as to assume that indeed you may do so and to save time I therefore enclose a photograph concerning a murdercase. The body was found in Laren which is near Amsterdam. The photo is of Klaus Adolf Folkerts, aged 31, a German who lived in West Berlin. The police are completely in the dark about the motive and the author(s).

I should be very grateful for any psychic impressions you receive about this case, preferably as detailed as possible. My experience in working with psychics has taught me that the details often offe's the most important clues(such as a lame leg, a scar on the neck, an unusual signet ring etc.)

I can assure that you will receive all the recognition due to

Lastly I want to ask if you can predict whether the author(s) will be caught, if so when and whether this will be the result of indications given by psychics.

I have send this letter by express so you will get it fast; however it will still take about 5 days. Can you also send your impressions back by express, it would take too long by ordinary post. Please, let me know how to reimburse your postage costs.

Then may I ask you to keep a record of the information you send me, because if the case is solved I shall get all the details from the police; these I shall send you so that you can yourself check what you had right and wrong.

Wishing you much success,

Caller says in the first part of June, a friend, Billy "Tony" Ottinger, received an old flyer of Jacob Wetterling which also included two suspect sketches. The flyer was sent to him via mail and was addressed to "Billy Ottinger." The particular man who received the flyer goes by the name "Tony" although his real name is Billy. Caller says "Tony" looked nothing like the suspect sketches, however, "Tony's" father, also Billy Ottinger, looks very similar to one of the suspect sketches. The father Billy lives in Rock Falls, WI, exact address unknown. Caller has contacted local FBI & will call Stearns County Sheriff's Office.

Mr. Van Heel

Monday 9/16/2002

My name is James I. Dale and I'm currently an inmate at Mike Durfee State Prison in Springfield South Dakota.

Since you are a busy man I'll get right to the point. I may have some very important information on the Jacob Wetterling disappearance. So you need to send someone to talk to me.

I do NOT want anything for the information I have. I'm just an old convict who wants to do the right thing. I think what I know may help, but I'll let investigators be the Judge of that.

If I don't hear back from you or an investigator, by letter or in person, in the next month or so I'll try and contact the "Wetterling Foundation".

The rest is up to you Mr. Van Heel. Thank you for your time.

Respectfully,

Jim Dale

Peter Martin Ebel's deception

The gifted but fraudulent Stillwater teacher who became a fugitive 22 years ago is back in jail and suspected of being a pedophile.

RUBÉN ROSARIO
Pioneer Press Columnist

Peter Martin Ebel was many things to many people when he became a fugitive from justice in Minnesota 22 years ago.

To the students and faculty of St. Croix Catholic and Stillwater Junior High schools in the late 1970s, he was Edward Alan Scott, a published author, accomplished photographer and stern but brilliant math and Latin teacher. He also taught one of his protégés how to fly an airplane.

To officials of a boys academy in Georgia, he was Dr. Ebel, a respected and renowned child researcher based in Albania.

But much of what people knew about the man, now 54, was a deception — from his relationship with children and teaching background to the doctor credentials that led to felony drug charges against him in Minnesota in 1979.

Ebel jumped bail in 1980, and his whereabouts remained a mystery to authorities and others for two decades, until he was arrested last year and then pleaded guilty to federal child pornography charges in Los Angeles.

Today, as Ebel sits in a federal prison cell awaiting sentencing and a possible mandatory minimum 10-year prison term, federal authorities and those who came in contact with Ebel are wondering aloud how many child victims there may be in Minnesota and elsewhere.

Ebel was detained at a California airport Sept. 7 and later was arrested after he was caught with sexually explicit pictures of young boys. In the process, federal officials learned he had been convicted 34 years ago in England on a sex-related charge.

Ebel's court-appointed attorney could not be reached for comment.

"I'm wondering... if we're just scratching the tip of the iceberg here," says Rodrigo Castro-Silva, the federal prosecutor in California handling the case.

"There were a lot of kids he came in contact with here," says Allen Klein, a former Stillwater Junior High student who filed a lawsuit in 1993 against St. Croix Catholic School and in a deposition alleged that Ebel had molested him.

Klein, a 38-year-old Plymouth resident who is publicly coming forward for the first time, suspects there may be other victims besides him.

"My desire now is to confront (Ebel) face to face and talk to him about what he did to me," Klein says.

EDWARD ALAN SCOTT

Interviews with more than a dozen people nationally and a review of court documents portray Ebel as an enigmatic Renaissance man who impressed people with his knowledge of subjects ranging from medical surgeries to nuclear power plant operations.

Ebel, actually a 10th-grade high school dropout from Morrison County, N.J., and using Edward Alan Scott as an alias, secured a job for the 1976-77 school year as a math teacher at the St. Croix Catholic School. The school, also known as St. Michael's School, shared physical education and other courses with a nearby public school, Stillwater Junior High.

"He was brilliant, had a vocabulary to die for, and he was teaching a summer photography class to area kids," recalls Brandon Crawford, then a St. Croix teacher and now the head of its middle-school program. "At the time, we were in need of a math teacher and he supplied us with what seemed excellent credentials, like his education in England."

Known as "Mr. Scott," Ebel had written two books under the pseudonym of Reynolds Locke. One dealt with anthrax mutation. The other, published by the now-defunct Stein & Day publishers, was called "Mayday 747" and involved the aftereffects of a jumbo jet crash. A third book, "Soldier of Eden," a purported nonfiction account of an orphaned American boy who became an Arab freedom fighter in Libya, was published in England in 1987 under the pen name of James Congdon.

After joining the faculty, Scott quickly gravitated toward a small core group of students, school officials said. One of them was Klein, a bright seventh-grader with six siblings and the product of a troubled home. Scott befriended Klein and his family and taught him how to fly an airplane. Meanwhile, posing as Dr. Peter Martin Ebel, he was duping a pharmacy in Maplewood into filling bogus prescriptions for Valium and codeine, according to charges brought later.

Suspensions were raised at both schools when the nurse at Stillwater Junior High received a note through Scott from a Dr. Ebel asking that Klein be excused from taking a shower because he had been diagnosed with scoliosis.

Don Hovland and Steven Studer, then principal and assistant principal at Stillwater Junior High School, and Sister Kathleen Foley, then principal at St. Croix, denied the request and confronted Scott about his credentials near the end of the 1976-77 school year.

A short time later, Ebel took Klein to England on a supposed trip to treat him with growth hormone drugs not available in this country, according to Klein and others.

Klein was in fact among three boys taken to England with their parents' permission, all of whom "returned with drug dependency problems," according to a Maplewood police incident report. The children, according to the report, refused to talk with authorities about the trips or their relationship with Ebel.

Officials at both schools compared notes and secured copies of bogus drug prescriptions Ebel had obtained for Klein's mother and others and as well as for himself, according to court records.

Scott was booted from the school after one year on the job and subsequently charged in Ramsey County District Court on June 10, 1979, with two felony counts in the drug case.

His fugitive status ignited more suspicions about his relationships with Klein and a handful of other students. During one of his trips to England, he had brought back with him a boy. The boy, Crawford learned years later, committed suicide after returning to England.

"I guess we didn't know much about these things back then, and in hindsight there were red flags," Crawford said last week after learning of Ebel's arrest in September. "But there was nothing blatant. The parents trusted this man. The kids never told us what if anything happened.

"There was nothing we could get our hands on."

CAPTURED

U.S. Customs Service agent Randy Karavanich was ready when Swissair Flight 106 landed at Tom Bradley International terminal in Los Angeles on Sept. 7, 2001. Ebel was on board and, because of a tip from officials at Gables Academy in Stone Mountain, Ga., he was suspected of being engaged in child pornography or molestation.

Ebel, who claimed to be a researcher for a nonprofit group in Albania, had approached the school three years earlier and persuaded it to invest in an exchange program and a school to be built on the strikingly beautiful shores of the Adriatic Sea. In return, Ebel's adopted son, a 13-year-old, received English language classes at the academy.

But the therapist wife of James Meffen III, the school's headmaster, became concerned after traveling to Albania and uncovering what she considered a disturbingly close relationship between Ebel and several boys.

A check of Ebel's criminal background by the Customs Service disclosed the 1980 warrant from Minnesota as well as an arrest in 1968 by Scotland Yard police in England for an "indecent assault" on a minor under 16. Ebel was put on three years' probation for that incident.

Karavanich was surprised to find Ebel in the company of three boys from Albania, including an 8-year-old suffering from what was later diagnosed as a genetic blindness disorder that could only be corrected in the United States.

Ebel was allowed to leave after airport authorities seized a laptop computer, a digital camera and several computer disks in Ebel's belongings.

Chandice Covington, a professor of nursing at UCLA and a medical researcher who had befriended Ebel after learning about his alleged research into the development of Albanian males and the nutritional impact of iodine deficiency, said, "I was highly suspicious at that point, and the bells started going off in my head."

It took three weeks for authorities to discover digital and hard-copy images of naked boys masturbating each other and other pictures that had nothing to do with the research. Meanwhile, Covington, who had offered her Westwood home to Ebel, contacted Los Angeles police after she found the kids one morning tearing up sexually explicit pictures of themselves and flushing them down her bathroom toilet.

Ebel was arrested, and the boys, one of whom was suffering from sexually transmitted warts on his face, were reunited with their families in Albania. Ebel pleaded guilty to one count of manufacture of child pornography and is scheduled to be sentenced Aug. 19 in Los Angeles. The blind boy is allowed to return periodically to undergo a series of surgeries to restore his eyesight, Covington said.

Officials in Minnesota are not sure whether Ebel will be extradited to face the outstanding charges.

"To be frank, the charges here are peanuts compared to what he is facing in California," said James Konen, an assistant Ramsey County attorney who initially handled the drug-related case. "To my knowledge, we never received any information about (suspected child molestation)."

Like many others, Covington expressed surprise at the Minnesota connection, but not at the nature of the arrest.

"Who knows how many victims there are out there?" she says. "He certainly duped a lot of people along the way. But he is living proof that pedophiles don't come in black and white. He's a brilliant man who did try to help out some kids, like the blind boy. But he is also a sick and evil man."

'He built up my ego and he was rather good at that'

RUBÉN ROSARIO
Pioneer Press Columnist

To the poor but inquisitive boy from Stillwater with the hand-me-down clothes and below-average height, Edward Alan Scott appeared bigger than life. And when the charismatic and bright math teacher with the distinguished-sounding British accent showered him with praise and attention, Allen Klein felt like a million bucks.

"I guess he singled me out because I was the smallest in the class and he knew I was having problems at home," says Klein. "He gave me some silly awards to make me feel good. He built up my ego and he was rather good at that."

But there was a payback to the attention, Klein says. It came in the form of sexual molestation that Klein says led to depression, drug addiction and self-destructive behavior that would land him in a hospital years later.

So Klein was not in the least surprised last week when I informed him of the nature of Scott's — really Peter Martin Ebel's — recent arrest after 22 years as a fugitive from justice and his pending sentence on federal child pornography charges. Ebel was arrested in the company of three young boys from Albania, one of whom is shown naked and masturbating in images seized by U.S. Customs Service agents.

"There's absolutely no doubt in my mind that he did to those kids what he did to me," says Klein, a 38-year-old auto service manager and ex-Marine from Plymouth. Scott/Ebel secured a job as a teacher at St. Croix Catholic School in Stillwater in 1976. A self-proclaimed commercial airline pilot, Ebel tapped into the youngster's dream of becoming a pilot and gave then-12-year-old Klein flying lessons out of the Lake Elmo Airport.

"His judgment and common sense are just incredible," Scott/Ebel gushed in a 1977 Pioneer Press article on Klein, then one of the youngest aspiring pilots in Minnesota. "I've never seen anything like it."

Klein was given permission by his parents to move into Ebel's Stillwater apartment during the 1976-77 school year. It was there, and later during a trip to England, that, Klein says, Ebel molested him.

Efforts to reach Ebel's court-appointed attorney in Los Angeles were unsuccessful.

"I wanted to go to England because I had never been outside of Stillwater," recalls Klein. "It frankly felt good, and I did develop feelings for him."

According to a body of research, a child molestation victim's intimate feelings toward his abuser are not uncommon and are closely linked with the Stockholm Syndrome, a term used to define the sympathetic bond hostages sometimes develop for their captors.

Klein says he felt betrayed when Ebel was uncovered as a fraud and jumped bail after he was charged in Ramsey County District Court for posing as a doctor. Klein plunged into marijuana addiction and his grades plummeted after he entered ninth grade at Stillwater Junior High School. "I was scapegoating my parents' divorce for my problems because I was blocking out what had happened to me," says Klein.

But his grades picked up, and he starred as a cornerback for his high school football team, which won the state championship in 1982. After taking courses at St. Cloud State University, he decided to enlist in the Marines, making sergeant in less than three years.

He married but then divorced, triggering a drinking and depression binge that led to his hospitalization in 1992. Therapy sessions with a psychiatrist unleashed repressed memories of his alleged abuse.

Klein retained St. Paul defense lawyer Jeffrey Anderson and filed a lawsuit against St. Croix Catholic School plus three churches affiliated with the school for neglecting to check Ebel's background before hiring him as a teacher. Klein first revealed the alleged molestation during a deposition, but the fact that the man he accused was nowhere to be found hurt his chances for damages. The case was settled out of court for $15,000.

Klein later remarried and has put the past behind him.

"My wife is a very understanding woman and I'm not going to let someone like Ebel affect the rest of my life," he says.

My father, David O'Connor, a St. Paul attorney, recently saw a photo in the news of Alan Tarleton, a monk residing at St. John's Abby, who has recently been under investigation for pedophilia. Upon viewing that photo, my father immediately remembered the composite sketch of Jacob Wetterling's abductor, which was shown repeatedly on TV at the time of Jacob's disappearance, as well as many times thereafter. As you may or may not know, the resemblance of Alan Tarleton to the composite drawing is uncanny. Also, according to my father, St. John's Abby's property abuts the very road on which Jacob was abducted. The two young witnesses said a man suddenly appeared on the road. It would be very easy for a man residing at St. John's to walk through the grounds and come out of the woods near that road. My father feels that the appropriate authorities surely have looked into this coincidence and therefore didn't feel his comments were noteworthy. However, I felt compelled to send this email just in case the similarities of the composite drawing and the face of Alan Tarleton, together with the close proximity of St. John's Abby to the crime scene have not been investigated, that they will consider doing so now.

NCMEC Lead Report

The National Center for Missing & Exploited Children is a national clearinghouse that gathers information about missing and sexually exploited children for law enforcement use. NCMEC neither investigates nor vouches for the accuracy of the information reported to itself. NCMEC forwards all information unedited to law enforcement agencies for investigation and disposition pursuant to its congressional mandate to operate as a clearinghouse.

Law enforcement may obtain caller identity if provided by caller, from NCMEC Case Managers at (703)274-3900 or (800)843-5678 or via NLETS/NCIC ORI VA007019W. Please refer to lead number when contacting NCMEC.

LAW ENFORCEMENT OFFICIALS PLEASE BE ADVISED: PLEASE DO NOT RELEASE CALLER INFORMATION (IF AVAILABLE) TO THE SUSPECT/SUBJECT ASSOCIATED WITH THIS LEAD.

How caller knew the child was missing: Other-Knowledge of Case

Narrative

Date: 8/10/2002

The caller believes the suspect may have been responsible for the disappearance of the child. The caller has not seen the suspect for at least 10 years but believes he is probably living in Longville, MN. The suspect, caller, and Robert, the caller's father, all worked together on a job replacing tile at a grocery store in St. Joseph, MN at the same time the child went missing. The child's house was close enough to be seen from the grocery store. At that time, Robert owned a van similar to the one described as being used in the child's abduction. The caller does not believe Robert was involved at all, but the suspect may have used Robert's van. Robert is married to Wanda Larson. Wanda is the suspect's sister. Sharleen is the suspect's other sister. At the time of the abduction, Sharleen owned a remote farm house in St. Cloud, MN. The caller has been to this farm house, but could not remember exactly where it was located. He is sure other family members will, however, know the location. Sharleen had the house up for sale and had moved out. The suspect started staying at the empty house. He had no furniture and slept on the floor in a sleeping bag, but had numerous guns in the house. Soon after the child went missing, the caller and Robert went pheasant hunting with the suspect. They took a young hunting dog with them. When they started talking about the child's disappearance, the suspect suddenly shot the dog. The caller feels this was as a threat aimed at him and his father not to say anything about the suspect to the police. The suspect has a long criminal history of molesting children. He was convicted for sexually molesting his . He was incarcerated in St. Cloud, MN prison in the late 1980's. He was eventually released and married another woman and then molested . He was arrested again and was then incarcerated in the Stillwater, MN prison. The suspect is a registered sex offender in Minneapolis, MN. The child's remains might be found at the farm house in St. Cloud, MN or possibly in Longville, MN where the suspect is from. The caller is not sure exactly where the suspect might be now, but he thinks he is probably still living in Longville, MN. The caller had not said anything about the suspect before as he was afraid for himself and his family. He is now willing to speak with the police.

To the Jacob Wetterling Foundation,
 My sister received a telephone call on Friday, March 1st at about 7:30 p.m. She told me about it and I thought you guys would like to know about it. I don't know if somebody would have been pranking us or if this really could be who I think it was. This is how the telephone call went:
 My sister: "Hello"
 Other Person: "Is Jerry There?"
 My sister: "Who Is This?"
 Other Person: "Jacob Wetterling"
 My sister: "Who are you looking for?"
 Other Person (yells to somebody in background) "Hey Joe, Who am I looking for again?"
 The Person in Background: "Jerry"
 Other Person: "Oh yeah, I am looking for Jerry"
 My sister: "You must have the wrong number"
 Other Person "Oh, Well if you see Jerry, Tell him Jacob Wetterling says hi" (End of Phone Call)
 I didn't know who Jerry could be until I looked on the internet and it said Jacob's father was named Jerry. I don't know if this would be a prank or not but I just wanted to let you know about it and you can e-mail me back if you need more information.
 Hope this helps!

Brian,

We received your e-mail and passed it onto the Stearns County Police for follow-up. Our foundation takes in leads and immediately passes them onto Sheriff Doug Pearce at telephone 320-259-3700.

Over the years as you might guess, we have received many prank calls and many calls that are legitimate calls, along with calls that range between those two extremes. But the Stearns County Sheriff's Dept is good at looking into each lead, to whatever degree is appropriate.

Thanks for letting us know, Brian. I will copy Jerry and Patty Wetterling too.

My fiance is incarcerated at Minnesota Correctional Facility Stillwater.

His name is Israel Rico Vasquez, Jr.
His OID Number is #159616

Two weeks ago he told me he overheard a conversation between two inmates. One inmate said his girlfriend use to date the guy who killed Jacob Wetterling. At that time I first called the FBI office I believe was located in Minneapolis. The person I spoke with there told me to contact the Stearns County Sheriffs Department, they were the agency handling the investigation. I then contacted the Stearns County Sheriffs Department with this information. It was late in the evening and the dispatcher took the information and said she would pass it on to a detective in the morning. Mr. Vasquez is willing to speak with the authorities handling this case and will identify the inmate who made that comment. Would someone please investigate this? Thank you for any assistance you may be able to offer in this matter. Feel free to contact me if you have any further questions. My home number is 651-460-4275, my cell phone number is 651-206-8872.

Bill,

Am Picek

I'm shocked.

This Bob Picek arrested in UK on sex charges and linked to Wetterling.

I used to work with him and were close friends. How little we knew.

He hunted at our shack one year.

Tell Jim K. if he wants to talk about it to let me know. I would have never guessed, we got a letter from his wife about a month ago indicating he decided to make a change and left for UK where he worked for a number of years after leaving Comten where I worked.

Thanks. Tim Carvelli

DEFENDANT.

WASHINGTON CTY

COMPLAINT

The Complainant, being duly sworn, makes complaint to the above-named Court and states that there is probable cause to believe that the Defendant committed the following offense(s). The Complainant states that the following facts establish PROBABLE CAUSE:

Your Complainant is a licensed peace officer in the State of Minnesota. Your Complainant is employed by the Washington County Sheriff's Department, has read the reports regarding Robert Lee Picek, and states the following:

On February 23, 2001, at approximately 3:15 p.m., Deputy Lombardi met with Carol Ann Picek at the Washington County Sheriff's Department. Ms. Picek stated the following:

On February 18, the US Embassy in London informed her that her husband, Robert Lee Picek (the defendant), was in jail in Black Pool, England. Ms. Picek didn't know the details of the defendant's arrest and was unsuccessful in trying to reach him by phone; therefore, Ms. Picek went to the defendant's computers to try to find a way to reach him. Ms. Picek discovered numerous pictures of juvenile males performing oral sex on one another on the defendant's computer. The defendant works for Group One Software and routinely travels to England on business. The defendant eventually reached Ms. Picek by phone and told her he was arrested in England for photographing minors. Further, the defendant told his wife he was unable to leave England for a while and asked his wife if she would reformat the hard drive on one of his computers at home. On February 19, the defendant emailed his wife asking her to reformat the hard drive on another computer at home and to throw away any back-up data tapes.

Ms. Picek felt guilty about the pictures of juveniles and decided to show them to the Sheriff's Department. Ms. Picek also gave the Sheriff's Department a copy of the email she received from the defendant, which stated the following:

"I want to get home bad and get therapy. I feel I need to perhaps enter an institution."

XIV.	617.247, Subd 4; 617.246, Subd 1(f)	01932	N

The email went on with detailed instructions of how to destroy the various items of software and erase hard drives on computers. The email then said, "I need help badly. I feel it's been going on for 40 years, more so the past four years, and much more so in the past six months. I've lost my way and I need help getting out of it."

On February 23, Washington County Deputies Johnson, Stillman and Zafft went to the Picek residence at 7130 Manning Avenue in Grant, and met with Ms. Picek. Ms. Picek gave the deputies 14 zip disks, which each contained 100 megabytes of storage space. On February 26, Deputy Johnson returned to the Picek residence and retrieved a Gateway computer, an HP Pavillion computer, two large manila envelopes and five video tapes. On February 27, Washington County deputies obtained a search warrant allowing them to search the items retrieved from the defendant's home.

Washington County deputies have reviewed all the material on the zip disks and the hard drives in all the computers, and the pictures in the manila envelopes taken from the defendant and found volumes of pictures, some digital, of both clothed and unclothed males between the ages of 6 and 18. Some of the pictures were taken of young males walking in metropolitan area shopping malls. The pictures appeared to be of unknowing children, while they shopped at malls. Some of the pictures were of young boys climbing artificial rock walls. Each of the 14 zip disks contained volumes of pictures of children engaging in sexual activity. An example of some of the material included:

1. Juvenile males engaging in anal intercourse.
2. An adult male urinating into the mouth of a five year old boy.
3. A seven year old girl licking the penis of a seven year old boy, while an adult male penetrated her vagina with his penis.
4. A ten minute video depicting two prepubescent males masturbating each other in a wooded area.

From the defendant's computer, the deputies retrieved chat room conversations where people discussed photographing and watching young boys. There are also discussions involving techniques of how to seduce young boys into having sex.

As for the video tapes taken from the defendant's home, three were recordings of Little League World Series games, one was a men's gymnastic video and the last one was a documentary on child abductions, which highlighted the Jacob Wetterling abduction. The complaint charges one count for each zip disk.

The foregoing facts constitute your Complainant's basis for believing that during January, February and March of 2001, in GRANT, WASHINGTON COUNTY, STATE OF MINNESOTA, the Defendant, Robert Lee Picek, (DOB: 04/14/1949), did wrongfully, unlawfully,

REPORT OF INVESTIGATION

Bureau Number 89-535	Offense Category Kidnapping/Obduction	MN Offense Code 9214
County of Occurrence Stearns	Date and Time of Occurrence October 1989	Submitted by SA Kenneth McDonald km	Section SPRO
Case Title Wetterling, Jacob	Date and Time of Activity 5-15-01

VICTIM

Wetterling, Jacob Irwin – DOB: 2-17-78, previously described.

SUBJECT

BRIDGEMAN, VIRGIL DUANE – DOB: 5-10-31, previously described.

WITNESS

Dolezal, Franklin James – DOB: 11-16-40, previously described.

Bridgeman, Matthew David – DOB: 1-27-63, address: 208 Elm Road, Wyoming, Minnesota 55098, home telephone: 651-464-1487.

SYNOPSIS

On 5-15-01 at 6:05 PM, SA McDonald and Detective Jensen met with Matt Bridgeman at his residence and obtained a verbal statement from him.

PERSONNEL ASSIGNED

MNBCA Kenneth McDonald and Stearns County Sheriff's Office Detective Pam Jensen.

DETAILS

1. Previously on 11-29-00 at 10:35 AM, SA McDonald and SSA Fier met with Dolezal. He provided agents a written account that in the latter part of October or the early part of November of 1989 he went to Virgil's residence of 208 Elm Road in Wyoming, Minnesota. Dolezal believes Virgil may have buried Wetterling in the dirt basement. Agents learned that Virgil Bridgeman has died and that his son Matthew currently owns the home in question. See SSA Fier's report for details.
2. On 5-15-01 at 6:05 PM, SA McDonald and Detective Jensen met with Matt Bridgeman at 208 Elm Road, Wyoming, Minnesota and obtained a verbal statement from him. Bridgeman confirms that he was remodeling the residence of 208 Elm Road in Wyoming, Minnesota. However, it was in the fall of 1988 into the spring of 1989. Bridgeman said that his father, Virgil Bridgeman, at times did help him with some of the work while they were remodeling. Bridgeman said that his father did not ever work at the residence alone. His father had poor health and it is Matthew Bridgeman's opinion that his father Virgil could not have possibly carried a young boy into the house and down the ladder into the basement area. Bridgeman provided receipts of building materials that were primarily dated for the fall of 1988.

3. Additionally, at the time of October of 1989, the basement floor had previously been poured. Bridgeman had videotape indicating that the floor had been poured prior to June 4, 1989.
4. Bridgeman said that other individuals helping during that time period were his wife, Jan Bridgeman, and a young teenager they hired that they only know by the name of JB.
5. Documents reveal that the remodeling of the home at 208 Elm Road, Wyoming, Minnesota occurred in the fall of 1988 and the early spring of 1989. The floor was poured concrete at the time in which Dolezal indicated he suspected Virgil Bridgeman of burying something in the basement.

Dear Sir:

First off, don't ask me why I waited all this time to send this letter, I don't know why.

Secondly, Can you check on an individual without him knowing He is being checked on?

At the beginning of this case I saw on TV a composite drawing that I thought resembled this individual I worked with. I even mentioned it to my son who also knew him. I did some checking on my own at that time and He was on vacation in the St. Cloud Area the week prior to Jacob's disappearance. He was supposed to be back to work on Sunday night at 11:00 but called in sick(or his Mother called, I don't know), but He was at work Monday night at 11:00 PM. Now this information by itself means nothing, but, let me tell you some things about this individual that I have learned over the 25 to 30 years I have worked with him.

He graduated from College, went to Law School but quit, was in the Army (Spcl Services - Band), lived at home with Mother & Father, Never Married, never had a girl friend as far as I know, played in a local Band so I heard, was very much a "loner" at work and after about 30 years service was told to "Take the cure" or quit---so He quit. I would guess He is in his early 50's in age now. Maybe 55.

A couple different times at work our I.R. Manager had to talk to him about cashing his weekly pay checks. He had 55 uncashed checks in his dresser drawer at home so we heard. The production work He did had absolutely nothing to do with what ever He took up in college.

Every time I hear something on the radio or TV about this case I think of this man so now I have

 Paul Douglas "Doug", age 58, of West St. Paul, died on October 19, 2001. He was a graduate of Cretin High School and Hamline University. He worked for Hamm's, Olympia and Stroh's Breweries in St. Paul. Doug loved music. He retired after 20 years service from the 451st US Army Reserve Band and had played with many community and professional bands in the area. Preceded in death by parents, Paul and Phoebe (Houle) Wilson. Survived by many cousins, and friends; and special friend, Judith Rogers. Memorial Service 11 AM Saturday at WEST FUNERAL HOME, 1051 So. Dear Sir,

I saw this (attached) obituary notice in the St. Paul Paper and it made me think about this letter I sent your office a few years ago about this individual. I often wondered if your office ever looked into it?

The reason I sent the letter was around the time of year this little boy disappeared there was some news reports about strange people in the work place that sometimes turned out to be crime suspects. Any such people should be reported to authorities.

However, if Paul D. Wilson was on your list to check into----I guess its too late now.

COMPLAINT/ INFORMATION ON JACOB WETTERLING INVESTIGATION
JACOB WETTERLING DOB/021778

ABDUCTION DATE/ 10-22-89

POSSIBLE SUSPECT/ ALLEN WADE HAUGSTED DOB/011331

NARRATIVE:

On May 16, 2001 I met with complainant John Chatleain at the LeSueur County LEC. John would advise me that in 1985 he lived at #16 of the Marway Trailer Park in St. Peter, Mn. He explained to me about a neighbor that he had by the name of Al Haugsted who lived in Lot #11. John and Mr. Haugsted once had a conversation in which they in which they spoke about a bus type camper Mr. Haugsted had parked in the back yard. Mr. Haugsted would advise John that he used the bus type camper to take young boys camping in the St. Joseph Mn., area.

John advised me that this conversation he had with Mr. Haugsted took place in 1986 prior to the Jacob Wetterling abduction. John stated that for years he meant to bring this information to Law Enforcement but just never got around to it. He again recently saw a picture of the abductor on a flyer and decided to come in because it was fresh on his mind. John advised me that picture of the abductor matches the physical description as well as the facial features describing him at around 6' tall and about 250 pounds. John also said that Mr. Haugsted he recalled did have a brown colored van that he believed was a ford and matched the description of the abduction vehicle.

In checking with the City of St. Peter and the St. Peter Police Department I found that Allen Wade Haugsted Dob/011331 did live at Lot #11 in the Marway Park but moved on April 27, 1998 to P.O. Box 520 Shepherd of the Hills Expressway, Branson, Mo. 65616.

This information was given to the Stearns Co. S.O. Inv. Pamela Jensen for further investigation.

in-law in the Willmar, MN area. He further believed HAUGSTED had been placed in the Saint Peter Regional Treatment Center (SPRTC). He eventually was employed at SPRTC upon release from treatment. This information has not been verified.

On 06-21-2001, at 0950 hours, I spoke with DOROTHY STENERSEN (931-7823) in Medical Records at SPRTC.

She indicated HAUGSTED was admitted on 05-23-72 through 07-13-74 out of Willmar (Kandiyohi County). She had no additional information relating to the type of commitment or any criminal activity associated with it. She suggested contact with the Willmar State Hospital for additional information.

On 06-21-2001, at 0955 hours, I spoke with LARRY NELSON, Human Resources manager for SPRTC (931-7118).

He indicated HAUGSTED was a State employee at the Willmar State Hospital, however he does not have specific dates regarding that part of HAUGSTED's employment. On 12-11-1974, HAUGSTED was transferred to SPRTC. It appears HAUGSTED was temporarily at the Hastings State Hospital for part of 1975 but returned to the SPRTC where he retired on 09-30-1991. He suggested contact be made with Willmar and Hastings to determine exact dates.

On 06-21-2001, at 1015 hours, I spoke with LYNN DAVEY at Trinity Lutheran Church. She is the spouse of the former Scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop #68 of Saint Peter, BRUCE DAVEY.

She indicated there was no person other than parents involved with the scouts during the period of 1987 through 1991. She stated she knew everyone involved with the program and the name of HAUGSTED was unknown to her. She also indicated they did not camp in the area of Saint Cloud. The sites they went to include Brainerd, the Boundary Waters, and the Norseland (Nicollet County) campsite.

On 06-21-2001, at 1040 hours, I spoke with ROBERT HAMILTON, former Scoutmaster of Troop #58 of First Lutheran Church. He stated he did not recognize the name and his memory is very good for names. He stated he was Scoutmaster during the period of 1987 through 1991 and the only person that helped them that was not a parent or family member was an 18 year old student from Gustavus Adolphus College. He also indicated they did not frequent the Saint Cloud area. They always went to Brainerd, the North Shore, and Norseland areas.

WETTERLING - SD
BOOK 03

Case No. 89006407
SUPPLEMENTARY OFFENSE REPORT
STEARNS COUNTY SHERIFF'S DEPT
St. Cloud, Minnesota

11-9-89, PO Winkels:

On October 30, 1989, this officer working along with Officer Knutson were assigned to investigative team #13 in reference to this investigation. On this date, this officer received a lead sheet identifying the source of information as an anonymous female caller and identifying a possible suspect as JACK BARES, dba Jack Bares Shooting Sports, Hwy. 27, Little Falls, MN. The lead sheet identified Bares as having sexually assaulted a 12-13 year old boy and as having a conviction in Morrison County for this incident.

On November 8, 1989, at approximately 2100 hours this officer along with Officer Knutson interviewed JOHN VICTOR BARES, aka Jack Bares, Route #6, Box 184, Little Falls, MN, phone #632-5120, dba JVB, Inc.. Bares came to the Stearns County Law Enforcement Center and met with these officer's for this interview. Bares advised these officer's that on the evening of October 22, 1989, that he was at his residence alone and that he had watched the entire movie [Do you know the Muffin Man]? Bares admitted to these officers his homosexuality with male victims ranging in age from 13-20 yoa stating that he has had homosexual relationships with approximately 15 individuals within the last 20 years. Bares added that he knew all of his victims and that he had seduced each victim over a long period of time. Bares advised this officer that an individual who he identified as Tyrone Umaluf, phone #632-9204 had stopped at his residence earlier on October 22, 1989 and has been on occasion staying at his residence. Bares stated that Umaluf may be able to verify Bares alibi on October 22, 1989. Bares also advised these officer's that he had worked on Monday, October 23, 1989, and that an individual he identified as Bob Field, phone #632-4744 would be able to verify this information. Bares advised these officer's that he has not been in the St. Joseph area since he was approximately 13 yoa and that he does not know the Wetterling family. Bares appeared to be very open with these officer's when speaking of his sexual preference and advised these officer's that he had been released on August 5, 1989, from the Morrison County Jail and that he currently has a probation officer out of Morrison County who he identified as Sherry Olson.

On November 9, 1989, this officer had telephone contact with TYRONE JAMES UMLAUF, DOB 12-15-59, Route #6, Box 184B, Little Falls, MN, phone #632-9204. Umlauf advised this officer that he had been at the Bares residence on October 22, 1989, and had been working in the shop at this location. Umlauf advised this officer that he did see Mr. Bares on the 22nd at approximately 7:00 PM and that he did see Mr. Bares on the 23rd at approximately 0800 hours. Umlauf also advised this officer that Bares vehicle did not leave the premises to his knowledge and he does believe that Bares remained at the residence on the evening of October 22, 1989.

Ann

I just received a phone call from a local Sun Lake's resident offering information on JACOB WETTERLING. Essentially, the caller, ROLAND FRANCIN, stated that he formerly lived in Brainerd, MN, allegedly relatively close to the WETTERLING community. A short time after the disappearance of JACOB, FRANCIN and his wife moved to the Phoenix area (late 1989/early 1990) and temporarily lived in a motor home park in Mesa, AZ. Apparently one evening at the motor home park, FRANCIN was taking a shower in the park men's facility and encountered a young boy who FRANCIN feels 100% sure was JACOB. He said hello to the boy and the boy returned the greeting. When FRANCIN entered one of the shower stalls, he heard a male voice call out to the boy to come on; get out of there; and don't forget the wash cloth. FRANCIN noted that the boy did not seem stressed.

For whatever reason, FRANCIN did not act further on the situation at that time. He did later speak to the park manager and determine that they had a record of all vehicles staying at the park. Not until 1994 did FRANCIN travel to Minnesota and speak to one BOB LEE, apparently associated with the JACOB WETTERLING FOUNDATION. He gave all his information to LEE, including the possible vehicle information from the motor park. FRANCIN later checked with the motor park manager and was advised that no contact had been made with the park concerning the vehicle matter.

FRANCIN stated that this matter has been troubling him for many years now and regrets that he did not go to the local police authorities in WETTERLING'S home town at the time of the sighting. In any event, as a result of some local publicity I got recently concerning my meeting with The First Lady and my association with NCMEC, FRANCIN decided to call me today.

I advised him that I would contact NCMEC and arrange for someone to interview him (if you deem it appropriate). As we are still quite busy handling the affairs of Bonnie's Mom and Dad, I would sincerely appreciate it if possibly Jerry Mooers or Bill Lundsford could perhaps conduct the interview. FRANCIN is age 76; is college educated; and seems sincere in his concerns. Let I forget, the motor home park in question was the PALM GARDEN MOTOR HOME PARK, Lindsay and Main St., Mesa, AZ. If you would prefer, I can accompany whomever you choose to conduct the interview, but would ask that I not be assigned the follow-up, at least until after the first of the year. I hope to be back in action by then.

LEAD: The day Jacob was kidnapped, husband was hunting in the Brownton Management area off of Highway 25. Husband was in camouflage clothing. While he was there a man and a young boy came through. They didn't see husband at first. The man was like hustling the boy along by his shoulder. * The man and boy did not have protective clothing on. The boy had on a blue and lime green jacket, no hat, short hair and looked to be 10-12. Husband told his wife about this when he got home and she wanted to contact authorities but he said it had nothing to do with that - too far away.

The reason why this is coming out now is that her husband has suffered short term memory loss and has had to have brain surgery before. Now all of a sudden he is remembering all this again, even to the point that he knows exactly where he was in the management area at the time. He remembering all this today (12/13) but may not tomorrow. He is going for another operation on a brain tumor on December 27th and then he usually has memory problems for some time after.

Stearns County Sheriff's Department

Narrative Report

ICR # 02040376

PO DICKHAUS:

On 11/25/02 at approximately 0115 hours I was requested to meet with a party in the Stearns County Law Enforcement Center lobby in regards to some information which he had regarding the Jacob Wetterling disappearance case. Upon arrival, I met with Christopher John Beyen, DOB 11/25/71, address of 150 Highway 10 North, St. Cloud, MN 56303, phone number of 320/761-3545.

Upon speaking with Beyen, I immediately noticed that he appeared somewhat intoxicated and smelled strongly of an alcoholic beverage. Beyen told me that he had just been at the City Limits Bar on Highway 23 where he had been drinking and overheard some people talking about the Jacob Wetterling case. Beyen said that, upon overhearing this information, he requested the bartender call the St. Cloud Police to report the information as soon as possible. Beyen said that the police never did arrive but rather the bartender had called him a cab and told him to go and report the information at the police station if he wished to do so. Beyen told me that, at approximately 2230 hours, he was sitting at the bar in the City Limits Night Club when he over heard a male party who he recognized as "Jay", a person he knew from one of the high schools he attended when he was younger. Beyen said that Jay was talking to two other white males about the Jacob Wetterling abduction. Beyen said that he over heard Jay talking with his two friends about the abduction of Jacob Wetterling and how they had abducted him along with Jacob's dad, Jerry Wetterling, and "dismantled him at the joints" and threw him into the swamp behind the Wetterling home. I questioned Beyen about whether these individuals had mentioned how they came to be in possession of Jacob Wetterling. Beyen said that he was not sure of how they actually abducted Jacob and admitted that he did not hear they use the word "abduction" or any other reference to such an act. I further questioned Beyen about how far these individuals were away from him when they were talking about this information. Beyen said that they were only a short distance away and he could hear them speak quite clearly. Beyen told me that, upon hearing the information, he did attempt to join into the conversation to obtain more information. Beyen told me that he had told them about being in Stillwater some time ago because he knew that "Jay" had been in prison as well. Beyen said that, at one point, the two became involved in a verbal altercation about prison and some of the comments which he was making.

Upon questioning Beyen further about the identity of "Jay" I asked him to describe him physically for me. Beyen described "Jay" as a white male, approximately five feet eleven inches tall with long black curly hair in his early 40's. Beyen said that Jay was wearing a black Maticka (SP?) type tee shirt and dark jeans and further described him as a "racist". Jay said that he's fairly sure that he went to high school with him at one point when he was younger and that he has a photographic memory and clearly was able to recognize him. Jay told me that, when he was in school, he attended Technical High School along with several other high schools but he was not sure of which one he recognized him from. Jay described the other two males as similar in age with long hair as well but no further descriptors.

Beyen questioned me as to why I did not immediately go to the bar and arrest this individual or take him in for questioning. I advised Beyen that we would attempt to get him identified and then conduct further investigations to determine if it was possible that he was involved. I did question Beyen as to whether he felt that these individuals were sane or discussing this matter based on the fact that he was listening and possibly playing a trick on him. Beyen admitted that it was possible they were doing so but that he did not know why they would pull such a prank.

I then transported Beyen to the City Limits Bar where he indicated that he would point the individual out who he knew as "Jay" by waiting in the parking lot when he came out. Upon arrival at the City Litmus parking lot, I was immediately met by a staff member identified as James Alan Reed, DOB 11/6/68, phone number of 202-1602. Reed told me that he is a bouncer at the establishment and immediately recognized Beyen while he was seated in the rear seat of my patrol car. Beyen told me that he knew why I was there and appeared upset that Beyen had contacted the police based on the information he had overheard. Reed told me that he is familiar with the parties who Beyen was speaking with and identified one of them as Marui Staffne, a person who lives in the trailer house behind the City Limits Bar. Reed told me that Beyen had contacted him about calling the police to report the information he heard about the abduction of Jacob Wetterling. Reed went on to explain that he has known Maury Staffne for many years and knows that he is not involved in the abduction of Jacob Wetterling and that Staffne was probably "screwing" around with him. I then requested Reed go into the bar and make contact with Staffne so I could speak with him briefly about what had occurred. Reed did then re-enter the City Limits Bar and merge with the male party who fit the description provided by Beyen. At that point I identified this party as Maury Matthew Staffne, DOB 3/21/62, address of 1455 Highway 23, St. Cloud, MN, phone 202-1602. Staffne told me that he does not have a telephone and that the phone number is to the City Limits Bar where he can be reached. Upon speaking with Staffne, I immediately noticed that he was extremely intoxicated. Staffne initially denied having made any such comments about the Jacob Wetterling abduction but did state he recalled speaking with an individual who I had described to him as Beyen. Staffne at that point became less defensive and told me that he and his friend Tim and Brett Johnson may have made some remarks about it but only because Beyen was "acting stupid" and they wanted to "jack him up" a little. Staffne went on to say that, at one point, Beyen was trying to tell him that he had been in Stillwater State Prison which he knew to be a lie. Staffne said that he had been in jail for 18 months and knew that Christopher Beyen was not there during that time.

After speaking with Staffne for some time, it seemed obvious that he knew nothing about the Jacob Wetterling abduction other than what he had heard on the news. I advised Staffne that I would contact him if I needed any further information at which point he returned to the bar.

Upon clearing from the City Limits I did transport Beyen back to his residence at the Cloverleaf Trailer Park. I advised Beyen that I would turn the information over to the Detective Division who would follow-up on further information based on this report. Beyen told me that he is a student at the St. Cloud Technical College and could be reached there if not at his residence.

No further action at this time.

Hello Dad, Please call with the number you had mentioned before for me to file. My toll free number is Thanks

The purpose of this information is to

- 1) Acknowledge and identify the pain and suffering done to me and my siblings;
- 2) Submit complaint to the Civil Court Division;
- 3) Thereby prevent further abuse of other children who may be under the current care of Francis Schellinger i. e. in home, horse riding lessons, church activities or other relatives etc.

Complaint is against: Francis Schellinger, who lives at 31335 Kalla Lake Road, Avon, MN 56310. Tel: 320.845.2235. He has approximately 8 biological children by two different marriages. At least one biological child may be in the home.

Crimes:

- 1) Francis Schellinger put tranquilizers in our food (children and the oldest children by his first wife) thereby resisting his daily sexual acts (up to 3 times a day) may have been lessened.
- 2) The children were threatened by Francis Schellinger through his verbal and physical threats of retaliation in the present and future by him.
- 3) The children (6) were sexually assaulted by anal and vaginal penetration and physically abused.
- 4) The children witnessed each others' abuse on several occasions. Many of his sexual assaults that occurred at night were only witnessed by those in that bedroom and if they were awakened by the sexual activity i. e. sudden movements, crying, and/or screaming.
- 5) Also, many times some of the children were exposed to physical (beatings) abuse of his spouse and the several miscarriages that occurred over the years.
- 6) Coerced: The oldest sibling was coerced into co operating with Francis Schellinger by a promise that if the (oldest sibling) was good i. e. cooperated with the sexual assault, the other children would not be sexually assaulted. However, after the sexual assault on the oldest occurred, Francis Schellinger stated "You were not good enough and now it is your fault." The other siblings were told that it was my fault for not being good enough (identified as behaving). Then their sexual assault would follow. At least two siblings were brought to the doctor for anal tears that needed medical attention. For those who children who did not need medical attention but were hurt anally, bed rest followed (for days) until the child could walk. Regarding our Aunt Lucille's miscarriages, the oldest child was shown a dead fetus and was told it was her fault that his spouse had the miscarriage, and continued to blame me (for two other miscarriages) and siblings for miscarriages through the years.
- 7) Physical description of sexual abuse: Each child was put on the kitchen table on their stomach and Francis Schellinger grabbed the child's ankles and moved back and forth in order to accommodate his penis penetration, anally and/or vaginally, until he reached orgasm. However, climax was not reached until after he made the child cry by either pinching their shoulders, head banging and/or ear pulling.). The oldest sibling was responsible for cleaning his sperm after he ejaculated on the floor. As children grew older the sexual assault took place in the bathrooms.

P2594
Dad
Henn

- 8) The (6 children) were left in the care of Francis Schellinger from approximately 1953- 1975; for periods of 3 days to as long as 3 months.
- 9) Several neighbors came to Francis Sc;hellinger's home inquiring about the screaming and crying, they were told to leave. Later Francis Sc;hellinger would go to their home and physically beat them for interfering with his home. (As reported by our Aunt. She also reported that Francis Schellinger was not able to reach climax often having heterosexual intercourse.

An approximate summary of the sexual assault routine follows:

Francis Schellinger would make a loud laugh asking children (family and his children to look at what he was pointing to. A laugh would get our attention due to the intense fearful atmosphere in the home. He would change the subject (pertaining to his effort at least 3 times thereby confusing everyone e. g. I have worked hard all week, I built this (point to something near. He was a carpenter/general contractor by trade), You're lucky I brought home enough food. Then statements about the oldest sibling began i. e. " If is so smart could she build something like I just made i. e. doll house, tree house, rebuilding of room etc?" Then our clothes were taken off and he began with the oldest of the children until all children were penetrated and physically hurt. Francis Schellinger appeared to be sexually stimulated by the buttocks' of children as indicated by his erection and after each orgasm Francis Schellinger was erectile very soon his climax and therefore could repeat several sexual assaults in a short amount of time (20-45minuetes). The length of time for these assaults seemed to be dependent on his need for relieving his anxiety level; or someone would come unexpectedly to the door or the family has to be somewhere i. e. church. This pattern was repeated daily and would increase according to his level of anxiety and as stated before, would increase to 3x's a day. If the children who were involved began to become restless while he was having sex, he would have us sing along with him i. e. some American song: Star Spangled Banner, Republic, America etc. The oldest was in charge of cleaning ejaculated sperm.

Usually the sexual assault ended at the age of 12 years for each sibling. Francis Schellinger would grab the person by the shoulders and shake that person stating "You are no good now and you disgust me."

Many of the children were in shock during and after his attacks. Some would stand still and stare, others would often run into the walls, cupboards, toys etc.; the oldest of the family was in charge of their safety. When Francis Schellinger was finished with sexually assaulting children, (many times his children were included), he began to verbalize to the children positive activities he had involved the children in; i. e. "I took your family water skiing, to church, fed you all breakfast, lunch and dinner, let you stay here at my nice house and visit, let you play in the doll hourse, tree house and toys inside etc." And of course the children were threatened with physical violence the next time they visited if anyone spoke of what happened to them. Of course, the sexual assault took place before children were able to articulate what had happened.

Clear Lake, MN

- lonely, keeps to herself, not easy to get along with

As kids, we found magazines on his top shelf of his closet of young boys and girls (pornography).

He molested but found not guilty.

He used to brag he could kill someone at the snap of a finger.

He always liked to take back roads where ever he went.

Shoot guns on his property all the time.

He bragged that he would sneak out of Camp Ripley with guns in the trunk.

The last couple of years before his death he did a lot of tractor work and digging up the ground on his property.

When his motor home was permanently placed on his property, he did all the ground work himself.

Retired from the Army Reserves

He liked to play war games at Camp Ripley

Prior to his death, 8 to 10 months, he had commented to me on the telephone and talking to him at the lake, he had said, "I have done something so terrible that I can't tell you what it is. But it really bothers me." He was pretty drunk and had been drinking all day. Our conversation was around 9:30 that evening. I had to call his , and let her know that he was sounding suicidal. She, in turn, had called his best friend, Tom Ehlers, and as far as I know, he went over to check on him.

He had often talked about being in the war and killing people and also being tortured as a prisoner of war and had witnessed his best friend being tortured and died. And he gets real emotional over this story.

My , has often told me the story that he had told her when she was a young girl, that he was not really her dad and as he was molesting her each time, he threaten to kill her if she would tell anybody what he had done. And to this day, that has bothered her all these years that she can't get over it.

All three of have told me in past years, that he had continuously threaten to kill them if they told anyone about what he had done while molesting them.

Two credit card receipts were uncovered by the FBI in the area of St. Joseph on the same day as Jacob Wetterling dissappeared. My dad, had told me that the FBI agent that came to his house had mentioned that to him and I never did hear why the receipts showed up in that area on that day from him. In other words, why was he up there on that day?

This whole family has always believed that there is a dark side to my dad. We've never been able to predict what he would do at a moments notice. There's always been something secretive in his personality that no one has been able to figure out.

This is just a quick summary of what comes to mind. But there are many other memories to mention.

For many years, all of us "kids" could never figure out the dark side of our dad. He has always been a drinker and heavy smoker. He always seemed to be calculating his moves, but always careful what he says when he's sober. Our biological mother, who in recent years, had told me that she had abandoned my dad and us five kids, because my dad was molesting

My dad told her that he would kill her if she said anything to anyone. Through the years, a lot of little things would happen. Embarrassing adults and kids with sexual explicit joking, drinking as much as a case of quart size brandy per month, telling stories of how he was trained in the air force to kill a person at the snap of a finger. Always had a quick temper and never cared who's feelings he would hurt.

In the early 60's, when he molested he threatened to kill them if they said anything. They believed his every word - that if they said anything, he would for sure kill them. Through the years, he had embarrassed many people with his dirty sexual jokes and got a kick out of whoever he embarrassed. He had married a woman who had three girls (wife #3 -) and a son. forced him to get out because he was "fooling around" with His wife (#2 -) admitted to me that he had told her when we were kids, that he always wanted to make porno movies with naked girls and boys. Before he met , us kids (my age was 10 years old) found a lot of pornographic magazines of kids on the top shelf of his closet in his bedroom.

The lake property that my dad acquired through being married to his wife #4 - , provided my dad a lot of room on a dead-end road. Away from anyone just dropping in on him. If he wanted to be by himself, he would simply close the gate that he installed at the front entrance of the lake property. He spent a lot of time by himself on that property mostly throughout the summer and fall every year, while his wife would stay at home on Dupont Ave No, Mpls. because she still worked. Back in the mid 80's this property at the lake (which has 40 acres, mostly wooded) was pretty much undeveloped. Throughout the years, my dad had put a trailer home and numerous buildings on it - wooden sheds and a couple of out houses. He kept to himself a lot, but did make a few friends that drank like himself.

He was also in the National Guard and would tell me stories that during "war games" he would drive off the base using his car or friends cars, a lot of times as he said, carrying military supplies and various guns in the trunk of the cars - which was against army regulations, but he did it anyway. He has always been known to travel back roads. He would also go to auctions all over, mostly within a hundred miles. When Jacob Wetterling landed up missing in St. Joseph, MN, I knew my dad was traveling the back roads a lot. The gun (hand gun) I think that was used by the kidnapper of Jacob Wetterling, I believe was probably from Fort Ripleys arsenal. The sketch of the kidnapper is a likeness of my dad. The car used, I think, belonged to a friend. Since Jacob Wetterling had been abducted and through the years, I have had like a sixth sense that would overwhelm me about the lake property, I have had my hair on my neck stand up many times as I would enter this property. My dad has made trails into the wood and has shown me a tree that he calls the "witches tree".

I had notified the FBI some years back and told them that I thought my dad has had something to do with the Wetterling case. They did send a female agent out to my dad's house in Minneapolis. My dad said the agent entered his front door and immediately said he didn't look like the picture of the man that they needed to talk to. But to my surprise, my dad said that the FBI had two credit card receipts from the area where Jacob Wetterling was abducted. Dated the same day as Wetterling landed up missing. Just a coincidence? I don't think so!

1) My dad has been a pedifile for many years. 2) He loves to travel back roads 3) He drinks like a fish - smokes heavily 4) Jacob Wetterling looked very much like my stepson that I have raised - and my dad kept trying to get both my stepsons to come up to the lake and stay with him on many occasions. 5) I dropped in on my dad one day at the lake, without notifying him that I was coming. When I arrived, we sat on the front deck. As we sat there, out of nowhere a young boy 12-14 years old materializes. The boy saw me, but said nothing to me or my dad. He walked right by us and towards the back woods. I asked my dad, who was that? And he said, "a kid from Minneapolis". There was something very odd about this encounter. My dad went on to changing the subject and I felt really uneasy because I thought my dad was hiding something. It isn't easy to have anyone like this kid to be just walking by the trailer. And the kid looked like he was real surprised that I was sitting there.

6) Throughout the years, my dad has done a lot of clearing land and making trails into the back woods. He also built a firing range on the property, so neighbors were used to hearing gun shots quite often, so it wouldn't be unusual to the neighbors to hear gun fire going off at any time.

7) I am a person who has lived a lot of my life wondering why I was put here. I have also encountered many times in my life that de javu things have happened. I feel that I do have a touch of the sixth sense in myself. For years I have been right about a lot of predictions, suspicions, and very credible things that happen. Whatever I have, it seems to come to me very naturally.

8) I am saying that will all that I know of my dad-he is the kidnapper and killer of Jacob Wetterling and he is buried on my deceased dad's lake property at Clear Lake, MN I have no proof - but I have had lots of experiences in life and seeing my dad's personality and his way of life to know from deep in my heart, that I am right about this prediction.

9) There was an incident when I had called up to my dads at the lake. He told me that he had "done something terrible" that he couldn't tell me what it was. I found out he had been drinking most of the day, and it was around 8:30 p.m. when I called. He also said that he was sick of what he had done, but it was all too late to do anything about it. He told me he wanted to end it all. He sounded suicidal, so I called his wife, and told her he sounds suicidal. She, in turn called Tom Ehlers (my dads' friend) and Tom went over to the lake property and checked on him. My dad was very close to telling me what was bothering him on that evening, but because of his dark side about him, he didn't.

10) Up to the time he died six years ago, he was always working on the land doing something. He had a very small corn field. I think it was just a thing for him to dig holes or clearing land. What he was doing by himself all that time may of been a hobby. But I don't think so - it would be more like he was up to no good!

11) I have one more thing to say before I close. No one has to believe me - I do believe myself on this prediction. I have always thought to myself that no one has found Jacob Wetterling yet and it doesn't surprise me because in my heart and soul - I know Jacob Wetterling is buried somewhere on my deceased dads property.

I have no solid proof to offer but I do insist that you observe the land - at Wadena, MN before any final conclusions are decided.

How caller knew the child was missing: Other-Knowledge of Case

Narrative

Date: 3/16/2003

The caller used to date Jim, and she last saw him at the indicated location sometime in 1996. The caller last spoke with Jim by telephone on 3/15/2003 at 9:02 p.m. Jim's phone number is (915) 836-4650. Jim told the caller that his father (the listed suspect) abducted, raped, and killed the child. Jim said that the suspect was in the mafia. Jim said that the suspect sent him the child's skull and he kept it in a safe in the residence he used to lived in. Jim was arrested in August of 1996 at his home by the FBI. Jim was arrested for growing marijuana plants. Jim was incarcerated in the Minnesota State Prison in Stillwater, MN. The caller does not know if LE discovered the skull in the safe. The house is located in a rural area at approximately mile marker 3 on State Road 212, in or near Marietta, Minnesota. The caller does not remember the color of the house, but mentioned it had a detached garage. From the outside the home looks like a one story building, but inside the house has a partial upstairs level. No fence surrounds the property. The caller advised she taped the conversation with Jim if LE would like to receive a copy.

How caller knew the child was missing: TV

Narrative

Date: 2/26/2003

In 1997 the caller, his girlfriend, his girlfriend's friend (Tamara), and Rick were at the indicated bar. At the time the bar was called the Silver Rail Bar, but the caller does not think it is called that anymore. The bar is near railroad tracks. The caller did not want to give information about his girlfriend. Tamara was married to Rick at the time, but since then they had a bad divorce. This was the only time the caller met Rick and he thought he was arrogant. The caller reports that after Tamara and Rick were divorced, Tamara would talk about him to a lot of people. Tamara told the caller that she heard rumors about Rick from some of these people. She told the caller that Rick molested and had murdered the child. Tamara wanted the caller to actually ask Rick where he put the child's body, but he did not. Another rumor Tamara heard was that someone should check Rick's parents' property for the child's body. No information is known about Rick's parents or where their property is. The caller looked in the phone book for Rick Zima. The two listings he found include: Richard J Zima, 914 8th Ave South, St Cloud, MN and Richard Zima, 38367 County Road 2, St Joseph, MN. Tamara's new married last name is Press. The caller last saw her at the indicated mental health clinic this time last year. Tamara was visiting her daughter there.

Attn: Patty Wetterling

Dear Mrs Wetterling,

I write you as your name is mentioned in the article about the four missing adults in Minnesota in the Post Newspaper here in Washington, D.C. (Nov 29, 2002). I feel that I have experience in tracing these persons. You should read the enclosed correspondence with the Chief of Police and Director of Public Safety in Atlanta, Georgia. Note that the face and description I drew is an exact likeness of the Child Killer as shown in the article from USA Magazine.

Now as to the information in the article quoted above
1- Have you noticed how similar these persons look? Has this been discussed?

Enclosed is an acetate transparency on which I have noted the location of the places from which they were last seen and drawn lines from each to the others. From the crossing of the lines I feel that they may be located in the suburbs north of Minneapolis. Either that or the Perpetrator of their death although I have no reason to think they are dead. To go further I feel that I need their birth data (Date, Time and Place they were born and the time they were noted missing).

(cont'd on back)

You should let me know if there is a reward offered and the Particulars detailed in the offer. I am not as mercenary as this sounds as I see this is an opportunity to boost Osteology. Nevertheless I feel that if I am successful that free will donations will come to me - especially as my Desk top Computer has Crashed (shortly Before I saw the article in The Post, and need to have it repaired.

I am enclosing a few of my Cards for distribution to the relatives if you are so minded. I hope you will show them this letter.

With all good wishes, I am
Sincerely,

Thomas J. Barrett

(Enclosure as noted)

P.S. What is your son's (Birth date, Time and Place) Particulars - when was he noted as missing (date and time) The article in The Post notes that you wear a Birth with an age-enhanced photograph. Who does this - where can I contact them?

TJB

P.P.S. Please Call me to let me know that you have received this letter ^{plz} ~~at~~ ^{earliest} ~~at~~ ^{earliest} 10 AM (EST) as I am going on 75 (next month) and need my rest as I am recovering from a stroke (suffered July 4, 2002) This year. TJB

Specific Info: Individual came to St Joseph with a map where he believes Jacob is buried. He believes that he has "The Gift of Knowledge" from God which told him to go to the Zumbro River. When he and his wife arrived at the location, there was an American Flag marking the place where he believes Jacob may be. He then went home and did an Internet search using the River name & Jacob's name. He was directed to www.mfinley.com where Michael Finley has written poems about Jacob & the Zumbro River. He believes Michael Finley may be responsible for Jacob's abduction. We have map on file.

To Whom It May Concern:

I hope that I have information that could prove useful in your efforts to find little Beaner. I believe that I received a "word of knowledge" about her, which is one of the gifts of the Holy Spirit. It began last week with "blue tower," and I made a trip from the Twin Cities to the Chisholm area to search around. I even went up to Tower! Anyway, the tower I was looking for turned out to be the big blue water tower in Hibbing that says "Hibbing" on it. I spent an afternoon searching all around the area (very isolated and wooded), but didn't find anything. At home the following day, I began to gather what I think is additional input from the Holy Spirit, and the area I should've concentrated on is about 300 yards from the tower. Facing the tower from the short driveway leading up to it, and if one considered facing the tower standing there as being in a northward fashion, the area of consideration would be halfway between north and east. I drove up to Hibbing late yesterday evening again and searched around the area until dark and then up to about 11:30 P.M., which was very spooky. I looked under pieces of chunk cement out in the woods and tore apart a pile of pine tree branches and even dug down a short distance in a small gravel-hole depression in the ground, using a lighter for light. One could easily find the evidence of my efforts there last night. After pretty much exhausting myself in the rain and dark, I suddenly realized that I had been wasting my time, for when I paced out the distance again and again on a trail leading in a straight line from the tower back towards the subdivision, spitting between north and east, I ended up very near the back of a house that I now believe holds some significance to Beaner's disappearance. Suffice to say that I believe this is the conclusion of my own personal "involvement" in helping to possibly find Beaner, being guided by the Holy Spirit. Please talk to a minister who believes in the gifts of the Spirit being used today to explain what I'm talking about. This gift has operated through me accurately in the past. A man was arrested in California a few weeks ago, and he had kept several girls and women as sex prisoners in a secret room in his home before releasing them and finally being caught. I'm not saying this is the case with that house, but I believe in my heart that someone there knows something. The trail goes from the blue tower to the back of the house, which has small evergreens and a garden in back. One would see several large boulders by the trail here before it continues a short distance on. I'm sorry if nothing pans out, but I believe something will. I used to be a state corrections officer and I raised several daughters, so please give this information some credibility and attention. At the very least, please check for any sexual/criminal background of the person/s living at the house. I wish to remain anonymous, but for any possible future contact if something does pan out, I will identify myself as #535. Thank you for your time and attention.

Mike Finley's Free Chapbooks

I know there are bigger things to be pissed off about -- war and injustice and the everyday betrayals of our leaders. And I am pissed off about those things.

But deep down, you know what I wish? I wish I'd made a bigger splash as a poet. I'm probably blind as a bat about this, but I can't see what I lacked. I was funny, I was easy to get, I was exciting. Too deep? Too false? One can go nuts pondering those variables. Take it from me.

Here's what I was trying to do: create a kind of poetry that's wild but accessible, funny but true, that engages your intelligence without being "intellectual."

But I never broke through all the clutter, and I don't know why. Just too weird, probably.

Today, there ain't much new work, and the old work is strickly out of print. You can walk into any bookstore in America, unless it's maybe Charles Potts's in Walla Walla, and not find me, so highly qualified to be a revered figger, on sale.

These PDF and Microsoft Book chapbooks are remedying that, however. In the past five years I have had over 10,000 chapbooks downloaded. Pretty amazing, if you think of each download leading to a road-to-Damascus high-octane poetic epiphany. Wouldn't that be interesting? More likely, my pages litter the highway leading into Detroit.

How bad did it get? Real bad. I have written and published over 120 books in my life. Poems, stories, novels, essays, how-to's, histories, even a biography of my damn dog.

I never set out to be the quantity guy. It overtook me, like thumb twiddling in an ob/gyn ward.

Download all you like. They're free, it gives me a thrill, and you strike a blow against all that is unworthy in this sodomistic proposition we call reality.

And it makes her old man look good to the sweet baby girl

An Analysis of the Personality and Poetry of Michael Finley, Relating to the Disappearance of Jacob Wetterling

From "Lee" (anonymous), July 1, 2003

I am the approximate age of Michael Finley, and I am a writer, as he is. During the past few months, I have focused on abstract poetry (aside from this missing person case). I'm also a former corrections officer with a degree in criminal/social justice. To be frank, I sincerely believe that Mr. Finley is responsible for Jacob Wetterling's death, and I will back up my belief with excerpts and clues from Finley's own poetry writings. Interspersed throughout this essay will be notes and comments about Finley's past and his outlook on life, his feelings toward people and God, etc. Finally, I will analyze what I consider to be Finley's veiled "confession" to the crime, his tenth anniversary tribute to Jacob, which is actually very sick.

First then, a quick look back at Michael Finley as revealed through his own poetry. I find a man who was, early in his writing career, very upset about not succeeding. In fact, he was extremely angry and felt like lashing out. He seemed angry at a possible God (though he is most likely an atheist) and the world at large for his failings. He has conscience problems, sometimes feeling sorry for his past actions, but not enough to actually resolve them. I would like to note here that he was hit in the forehead with a severe blow as a very young man, then a brain tumor developed in the same location many years later. He does at times seem to be torn by past sin or crimes, as revealed in his poetry, and in the past he seems to have focused on morbid subject matter involving blood and death and killing and graves. There is a lot of violent imagery in his writings, yet he has described his poetry as "wild but accessible, funny but true." Lastly, there is plenty of evidence that around the time Jacob was kidnapped, Finley was having marriage and children misgivings, along with sexual dissatisfactions and bill problems. That, mixed with the emotions of rejection from the writing scene, probably put him into a "monstrous" and vengeful mode. Alcohol was probably a factor as well. I believe he lashed out at Jacob in answer to the pressure and hatred he carried in his heart at the time. Lastly, I have my own personal spiritual reasons to believe that he is protective of Jacob's remains, and that he revisits the site from time-to-time. To that end, I have included some clues which he himself has given about that matter. As strange as it may sound, I believe the Holy Spirit has revealed to me through the gift of knowledge where Jacob is. I consider this essay to be a possible tool to help bring closure and peace to the Wetterling family, as they have diligently prayed for all these years.

Here then, are various lines from Finley's poetry which I believe are revealing with respect to Jacob's kidnapping, but not in any particular order of importance:

1. This first one I am very curious about. Finley wrote at least two poems with references to New York, one which was entitled "A Minnesotan in New York." In the other poem about New York, he mentions it being two in the morning. He's by Lincoln Center in November as he gazes out on 63rd & Broadway, and he's too excited to sleep in his hotel bed. I bring this up because Patty Wetterling has said that she received a call in the night from someone in New York claiming to be Jacob and that he is alive. I can't help wondering if Patty received that strange call in November. If so—or even on another trip to NY—Finley may have called in response to Patty's open letter to the killer asking him to call her to give everyone peace. Maybe he was feeling generous because he was "excited" about something in his career that night.
2. From "The Life of Glass." Like crystal snow on unmarked graves.
3. From "When You Are a Pope." ...the world is ripe with people who could benefit richly from a ferocious beating...There are times you want to burst out crying and tell them everything...what a crock the Vatican is and what assholes the Cardinals all are...where's your faith you sad SOB.
4. From "The Dance of the Dog." The knees bend like spurs spun round from the rattling steps, stored heat from the floorboards through the night, a race past the pump...cornfields, etc...but he who sleeps on a burlap sack where the cinders spit is, Proud to the tooth...This is my country. (Note: I reference this to the poem "Jacob the Crow," which also has information about a sack used to contain the live boy. In the same poem above, Finley says this is my country, which I believe sheds light on the American flag I discovered where I think Jacob is buried. To me, the symbol of the flag there at Jacob's resting place is as disturbing as Finley's so-called "tribute" poem to Jacob, as far as in-your-face gestures go. Remember that he described his poetry as "funny but true.")
5. From "What We Want." We want to tell the secrets that have been choking us for years, we want forgiveness for rude and forgetful CRIMES, the bullets we pump into each other (note from Lee: the kidnapper had a gun) as if they were only words. The things we saw coming but couldn't bring ourselves to stop...we want to stop being bastards and bitches and LOCATE THE CHILDREN LOCKED AWAY. (My caps added, Lee.)
6. From "Cannon Falls." Reading about a boy's death in poem, I felt the stab of a boy's passing, the crumpling of the parents, the sweetness and horror on one page. (Probably part of his reason for writing "Jacob the Crow," which I consider to be an abstract telling of Jacob's murder.)
7. From "Jonathan Under the Hockberry Tree." Mysterious man, mess-making machine, Render of Night and even of art.

8. From "Remainders." Fresh washed garments tucked under your knees, eager for instruction and keen for meaning. He cannot see you but hears you breathing. (Note: possible homosexual meaning, when and where is questionable though. Sleeping on my hands, perhaps I am atoning for numerous crimes...greedy indignities.)
9. From "To a Squid." Hands trailing as if pleading for someone to stop me, stop me BEFORE I KILL AGAIN. (Lee's caps added.)
10. From "When We Are Gone." Though your molecules and my molecules are plucked apart and strewn across this raw unwitnessable scene, they are better for that blink of time, forgotten in the giddy sprawl of green. (Note: Reminds me of "Jacob the Crow," in which the boy is plucked apart, eaten by crows. Only here, Finley includes his molecules, which is probably a reference to his own sperm. The giddy sprawl of green is the lush vegetation around the crime scene.)
11. From "Hot and Cold Running Good Friday." Our father, who art in heaven, I love the Jew who died for me, though it is all nonsense. (Note: hence my belief that Finley is an atheist. Also, he purposely didn't capitalize Father, a "slam" toward God.)
12. From "The Brood." I want to drink until I'm dry, in a nation that is beaches only. (Note: this is an indication of heavy alcohol use at times. Also, I've found several references in Finley's poems to beaches and sand. Where the flag is erected in the wild, secluded place on the Zumbro river is actually like a sandy beach.)
13. From "In the Night." ...I were the doomed one, mine the swift tumble coming soon, and every siren shearing the dark were headed toward my part of town.
14. From "Great Blue." October Sunday morning...the discouraged Chevrolet runs these gravel roads. (Note: It is October of some year, and Finley has a Chevrolet. I wonder if it was a red Chevette; Jacob was taken in October. Finley is going somewhere out "in the country.")
15. From "The Lord God Has Words with the Choir." I grind your bones to make my bread. My prophecy is plain, my prophecy is pain, my prediction mass graves and smoking soil, nutritious to the earth beyond all reckoning, they that held such store in words, instead bequeath calcium, nitrogen, zinc as their gifts.... (Note: these are murderous words of envy, the words of an unfulfilled ego-maniac.)
16. From "Anton's Syndrome." THE SPOTLIGHTS SHINE ON THE SKATERS AT NIGHT...and we dream of the light that only we can see...certain gases contrive with stones. (Note: Caps added because Jacob was skating before his kidnapping; the reference to "spotlights" could be envy again. Perhaps the grave has stones in it.)

17. From "Triangles Prisms Cones." Our flags were sins on lascivious oceans, our word for regret was "a whirlpool of blood, turning in space." (Note: I am curious about this because of Finley's use of flags as symbols of sins, lascivious sins. I believe Jacobs grave is marked by a flag. Please note that the Holy Spirit had directed me to Jacob's resting place BEFORE I found the web sight of Michael Finley's through a Jacob Wetterling word search turning up "Jacob the Crow." This is why I truly believe Finley murdered Jacob. To me, it makes perfect sense, especially after reading "Jacob the Crow," which begins "Down by the River," and after seeing his use of the word Zumbro in a poem. Also in the above poem, there seems to be another possible reference to crows with blood turning in space.)
18. From a poem I didn't get the name of there was a reference to binoculars.

This study of Finley's poems was not all-inclusive; there are many of his poems and writings that I have not looked at. This is just a one-day study I conducted. Finally, here is my analysis of "Jacob the Crow," which I believe is Finley's sick, poetic, purposely abstract recounting of Jacob's murder:

I believe Finley titled the poem "Jacob the Crow" because he thought it was a clever way to say that Jacob was at least partially consumed by crows the day following the murder, out in bright daylight, but hidden by dense riverside vegetation. "Down by the River," is where Jacob was killed, along the Zumbro River, several hundred yards from the now-closed bridge that I mentioned in my directions to Jacob's temporary resting place. Please remember that I became aware of this location in relation to Jacob (through God's gift of knowledge) before I found Finley's web site, though both occurred on the same day. "The crows are calling in the cold" because of the body out in the open in the green vegetation late in the year. The lines that begin with "Just now I hear a sound" are written as though a third person had heard Jacob's noises while he was being raped. Finley is recalling what the noises sounded like, exactly, though he later tries to put the cries to a crow to confuse the issue with abstractness. The cries or noises were terrible enough to cause the imaginary third person to be "jerked around." "The hairs stand spike upright on my neck" describe how a normal person would react at hearing the sounds in the quiet darkness at the beach-like Zumbro River setting. Finley is describing a homosexual act of rape when he writes, "Every thump a reverberating Ah!" The next lines ending about the mitten is a device to transfer the sounds to a crow.
Finley's guilty conscience—what there is of it—is reflected by his use of the words "And for a moment I believe the crow and boy are one." However, Finley here is again showing how the boy becomes part of the crow by being eaten by the crow. I know, this is very sick. The next lines tell how the crow was present for part of the crime, though in reality that would be the following day, not at night. Next, Finley is possibly describing how he was stalking Jacob, maybe with binoculars, before he was kidnapped. "Familiar places," around his home in St. Joseph is followed by what Finley did next:
put Jacob in the trunk of his car in a sack. Recall that he described a burlap sack beneath a body in one of his other poems, making reference to a burial. Of course, then the bag is empty after Jacob is removed from the sack and later probably shot, since the kidnapper had a gun. Jacob is "ushered away, installed alive in the topmost branches," meaning that his body was partially eaten by crows, possibly even while Finley watched from a distance. The next few lines describe many crows at the scene, some in trees and some flying overhead. "Why seek him here, the boy is flown" confirms again what I am saying about being eaten by crows who later flew off. Next, Jacob's lifeless form is described in abstract detail. I believe that Jacob really did beg to be set loose, and Finley again makes a transformation from human to bird when he writes about the bird alighting on the highway later some time. The run-over body is of course Jacob being stripped of flesh by the noisy crows in daylight. Again, Finley makes reference to envy when he writes about men thriving on predictable dreams, which he hadn't been able to do. The last several lines describe the horrific, cold nature of the crime. Lastly, the blink is probably not only the crow's, but also Finley's, concerning what his heart has to endure because of what he did, though his conscience didn't keep him from writing the sick poem.

Obviously, this essay should not be read by members of the Wetterling family. I wrote this to be added to the information I dropped off at the Foundation a few days ago, but please somehow shield the immediate family from this, even as I hope it helps to solve the case. Please believe that my only purpose in being involved at all in this is to help bring closure and peace to the Wetterling family and their friends, and to help effect justice concerning Jacob's disappearance. For persons reading this, please forgive me in advance for the graphic depictions, which I felt were necessary to understand what occurred.
